Two Dead, 15 Missing After Texas Storm

Galveston Fears Heavy Loss Of Life Among Fishermen

GALVESTON, Tex., Oct. 20 —UP—A sudden squall spilled fishermen out of about 118 small boats in Trinity Bay Saturday. The Coast Guard reported two bodies had been recovered and that "about 15 or 20 people" were reported missing.

Approximately 20 persons were rescued from the choppy waters after the storm hit suddenly in the big bay southeast of Houston, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Much of the bay area is thinly populated, and some of the missing may have reached shore in isolated areas.

Most of the rescued, he said, didn't have lifebelts. He said seven Coast Guard boats, "all we have," were busy searching through the darkness for other survivors.

"The wind is still blowing from 45 to 50 miles an hour," he said, "and it's hard to find people in the water under those conditions."

He said he had reports of only two bodies being recovered and had no identification of either.

"All the fishing camps (around the Galveston Bay area) have boats missing," he said.

None of those plucked out of the water suffered injuries, the spokesman said.

Winds at Kemah, on the bay, and in the surrounding area were estimated at 60 miles an hour when the storm struck late this afternoon.

Heavy Gusts Of Wind, Slight Rain Hit Twin Cities

High winds yesterday brought a smattering of rain behind them and caused power failures in several sections of the city.

Wind gusts in the Monroe area reached as high as 52 miles per hour yesterday, according to the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Selman Field.

CAA reported that the biggest gust came at 3:50 yesterday afternoon About the same time, power failure was noted in sections of Monroe.

City power officials said that the winds affected the No. 3 feeder, thus blackening portions of the south and north side of Monroe. Also affected was Collegetown.

Power difficulty was reported cleared up early last night.

Louisiana Power and Light officials said that the winds created no "major failures" west of the Ouachita river, but "minor incidents" were reported.

As for the rain, the CAA said "there wasn't enough to measure."

Notheast Louisiana's "dry spell" has affected hunters and farmers, and last night's rain apparently didn't ease the situation.

With the danger of forest fires more prevalent because of the dry timberland, several area police juries have closed their parishes' hunting seasons.

District Forester Vernon Robinson said last night that all his parishes have reported "some rainfall." Union parish was the rainfall leader with .56 of an inch yesterday, Robinson said.

However, the forester said that if the Ouachita parish police jury were to ask his opinion whether last night's rain was sufficient to allow hunting season to be reopened, he would have to say "no."

"The little bit of rain we did get wasn't enough to make things safe," he explained.

Farm officials also agreed last night that the rain in this area was not enough to have the desired good effect on pastures and fall crops.

Flexible Interest Rates Supported By La. Realtors

By SAM HANNA
Of The Morning World Staff

LAFAYETTE, Oct. 20 —Louisiana realtors strongly called for a flexible interest rate on FHA and VA loans here today at the closing session of the 38th annual Louisiana realtors association convention.

Baton Rouge realtor Robert A. Holloway, a native of Monroe, of the realtors' Washington committee reported that the 83rd congress will be asked to consider the changing of the present fixed rate of 4½ per cent on FHA and VA loans.

The realtors resolved to take definite steps to "correct the inflexibility of the acts to meet current conditions."

Holloway represents Louisiana on the Washington committee. He was selected by President Clarence M. Turley of the national real estate association and serves with a representative of each of the 48 states.

A 1932 graduate of Neville High School, Holloway blamed the fixed rate for a present lack of mortgage money. Turley added that the rate causes a "tight-money situation."

"Our big problem today lies in the fact that mortgage money is not avaialble to builders," said Holloway. "As a result, building starts are down."

Holloway predicted that the building year of 1956 would see the total number of homes built in this country fall below the one million mark for the first time since 1950.

And he added that at least half of the million homes are built on the FHA and VA loan programs.

"Conventional home mortgages are already on a flexible interest rate basis," said Holloway. "Banks and loan companies won't lend money on the fixed rate because they can't make anthing out of it."

Holloway said as a result lending agencies are placing loans in channels other than FHA and G.I. homes.

"The Washington committe will recommend to the 83rd congress that consideration be given to a

Missouri Pacific Head Says 1956 'Looks Good'

Business on the Missouri Pacific for 1956 "looks good," P. J. Neff, president of the company, said Saturday morning in Monroe, where he had stopped over for Friday night and early Saturday. Neff's visit, along with a number of high railroad officials, was part of an inspection tour of the railroad's property throughout the system.

Despite a drop in earnings in August, because of the strike in steel and "certain other industries," Neff predicted gross revenues for the year "would total about $306.5 million — $6.5 million higher than in 1955." Neff was optimistic about the continuance of America's high level of prosperity, particularly in the south and southwest, where, he said, "manufacturing plants are seeking new sites because of favorable conditions and availability of natural resources. During the first eight months of this year, 5 new industries with an estimated capital investment of $123.5 million have selected sites on our railroad and 48 existing industries expanded with a capital investment estimated at $92 million. In Mo Pac territory in Louisiana, during the first eight months of the year, over $35 million has been invested in new and expansion of existing industries."

While optimistic about the immediate future of the rail industry,

Railroad Head Fears Louisiana Taxes Will Rise

In an interview, while in Monroe Saturday morning, P. H. Neff, president of the Missouri Pacific Railway, expressed a belief that Louisiana in general, and the northeast section in particular, was fast becoming a major area of industrial expansion. The railroad official was on a tour of the southern division of the company for a periodic inspection.

However, Neff expressed some doubt about the present state administration (Governor Earl K. Long) and said he hoped the actions of this group would not halt or hinder the influx of industry. "Industry will leave a state, or not enter, as the case may be, if the state taxes them too much," Neff said. "If there is anyone the present administration is not trying to tax, I don't know who it is, and you can quote me on that," the official said.

Neff said he had made a tour of the northeastern part of the state and was amazed at the prosperity of the section. The last time he was in this area, he said, was two years ago, and the changes "are enormous."

Turning to Monroe specifically, Neff said the company was interested in working out grade crossing, expecially for the Plum street crossing. However, this is still in the planning stage, and must await joint action by the company and the City of Monroe.

Pravda Denounces Anti-Red Press Action In Poland

MOSCOW, Oct. 20 —UP— The Communist newspaper Pravda Saturday denounced an anti-Communist press campaign in Poland which it said is designed to "achieve the dirty ends" of capitalism.

A scathing 1,200-word article datelined Warsaw charged that some Poles had "publicly disowned Lenin and Marx."

It said anti-socialist articles in some portions of the Polish press "represent a wide campaign shaking the very foundations of the (Polish) people's republic."

One Polish writer, identified as Z. Florchak, was accused of "borrowing his political arsenal from the Voice of America." It bitingly referred to the writer as "mister," because "we do not call a man like that a comrade."

Referring to the upheavals in Polish political life, the party paper said Polish Communists were demanding "the curbing of wanton revisionists and capitulators who are using the Polish press to achieve their dirty ends."

Top Three Teams Roll On

TCU, Ohio State Tumble From Undefeated Ranks

By The Associated Press

The fond hopes that Texas Christian and Ohio State had been nurturing for undefeated seasons were snapped abruptly yesterday by Texas A and M. and Penn State, respectively.

But there was no stopping the top three teams in the country, Oklahoma, Michigan State and Georgia Tech all triumphed without incident.

Apparently the Southwest conference is going to turn into one of its usual knock-down drag-out battles. Texas Christian, No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll, was the favorite until yesterday's 7-6 loss to the Aggies.

Now, of course, the Aggies, who have one tie and four victories on their record, move into the favorite's spot. But they're shaky choices at best.

Little Don Watson, who was the main cog in beating the Horned Frogs last year, did it again, setting up his team's only touchdown in the final period, then personally passing for it.

Ohio State, which was ranked right behind T.C.U., lost to Penn State by an identical 7-6 score. Sophomore Bruce Gilmore plunged over from the 1-foot mark for Penn State's only score in the fourth quarter. The Nittany Lions stopped Ohio State's vaunted ground attack and kept possession of the ball most of the way, another Buckeye specialty.

For the top three, the only questions was how much their margins would be. Oklahoma whipped Kansas, 34-12. By Sooner standards, this was close. But they had a 27-6, halftime lead. It was their 34th

Three Shot To Death West Of Crosett, Ark.

Bodies Of 2 White Men, Negro Woman Found By Motorist

CROSSETT, Ark., Oct. 20 (Special) — Police tonight were searching for an "assailant or assailants unknown" who fatally wounded two white men and a Negro woman near here today.

Dead from close-range 16-gauge shotgun blasts are George Wells, 32, a Drew County farmer; Fred Watkins, 47, a Hamburg construction worker; and Hattie Mae Williams, a Negro waitress of about 35 years of age.

The bodies were found about 7 o'clock this morning by passing motorists — Bob Bush of Crossett —on a rural road about six miles west of here.

Officials said Wells was in the rear seat of a parked car and had been shot through the head. The Negro woman was in the right front seat and had also been shot through the head. Both were dead when discovered.

Watkins was found lying beside the automobile critically wounded in the mouth. He died a short time after being rushed to a hospital here.

Only semblance of a clue, according to police, was four spent 16-gauge shotgun shells found at the death scene. Motive was unknown, police said. The shotgun had not yet been found.

A bachelor, Wells was a farmer and tractor driver. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wells of Promised Land community near Hamburg. He had four brothers: James, of Hamburg; Robert, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Layton, of Portsmout, Ohio; and John, of Norwalk, Calif.

Services for Wells have been set for Tuesday in the Promised Land Baptist Church, with the Rev. Glen Perry officiating. Burial will follow in the church cemetery under the direction of Jones Funeral Home.

Watkins is survived by his widow and three daughters, Sherry, 14, Lela Ann, 13, and Cynthia, 2. Services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday. Burial will follow at the Cleveland cemetery near Hamburg.

Ike Expresses America's Hope For Polish Freedom

DENVER, Oct. 20 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that "our hearts go out" to the people of Poland in their struggle to win freedom from Russian domination.

Commenting on the stories of unrest there, Eisenhower said he hopes that "they at least may have that opportunity to live under governments of their own choosing."

Eisenhower, here to wind up a cross-country political tour, talked by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles who was in Washington on what the President called the numerous reports "which indicate ferment and unrest."

And almost instantly Eisenhower issued a statement in which he said:

"These—reports—are accompanied by stories of Soviet troop movements.

"I am closely in touch with Secretary Dulles in an effort to ascertain the facts.

Eisenhower mentioned it near the end of an off-the-cuff speech to a crowd out to welcome him at Denver airport.

"We read about Poland in our papers," he said. 'We read about these captive peoples that are still keeping alive the burning desire to live in freedom—a freedom that we have come to take almost for granted but which they have found is the most difficult thing to sustain in the world.

"Our hearts go out to them, but they at last may have the opportunity to live under governments of their own choosing."

The President declared in his informal talk that the prosperity existing over the nation generally "is a height—a new level—even for the United States."

Eisenhower stopped in Denver for only about an hour. It was his first return to the Colorado capital since last November, when he returned to Washington after recuperating at Fitzsimons Army Hos-

Liquor As 'Danerss As A Gun, Bayonet, Cobweb'

Principal Proves Children Have Curious Ideas About 'Temperance'

MEMPHIS, Oct. 20 (AP) —State law calls for annual school observances in memory of a hard fighter against hard drink. And, as groundwork, two classes of 11-year-olds have pondered what temperance means to them.

Well . . . . alcoholic is all right for things like sores, but it can bc as dangerous as a cobweb. And temperance, or the drinking of intoxicated liquids, is a terrible thing.

These and other maxims were harvested the other day by Miss Imelda Stanton, principal at Idlewild, after her talk on the late Frances E. Willard, a Women's Christian Temperance Union leader.

Miss Stanton asked the students for their own written testimonials (no help on spelling, either on "what temperance means to me."

There was some confusion. One paper was entitled "What Temperance Means to Miss Stanton." But by and large, the essays were eloquent.

"Temperance is drinking you should not drink thing that will make you dronk," wrote one student. "And if you are droving you mite hute some one. If the doctor give it to you it is all right but you not get in the habet of drinking."

"Some people over dose and get drunk," wrote another. "These people are called intemperant."

Other definitions included: "When a person is not bad or not good he is temperate." And "if you are a temperance persons you usually drink intoxicated liquors."

While alcohol was recommended for burns, sores, and dirty cuts (one expert added that "some kinds are good for coughs"), warnings against going beyond this point were frequent.

"It all most as danerss as a gun, bayonet, cobweb," said one. "It will kill anyone slow. It is worse than playing dice. And it will kill like a knife. It could kill like a saw."

The most grievous story of all came from a student who once knew a man who had the liquid habet.

"He drank so much," he reported, "that he and his wift had to get a devoid."

Gomulka Cuts Red Party Tie With Russians

Report Soviets Moving 800 Tanks, Troops On Capital

WARSAW, Oct. 20 —UP— Moscow - opposed Wladyslaw Gomulka, backed up by special Polish security police, won apparent control of Poland Saturday and immediately promised free elections as Russia moved Red Army troops into Poland from East Germany.

There was no immediate indication whether Soviet-trained Polish army units and Soviet troops Gomulka's leadership. throughout Poland would accept Gomulka's leadership.

His first act as party chief was to promise elections would be held Dec. 16 and the people will have "not only the right to cast votes . . .but will also be in a position to elec."

Polish forces loyal to Gomulka took over the transmitter and downtown headquarters of Radio Warsaw, the state radio, and broadcast the speech which he made to the Central Committee Friday.

The seizure occurred after Soviet Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev returned home following a 24-hour blitz visit designed to slow down Poland's de-Stalinization program.

Thousands of workers demanded that Russia keep hands off Poland's internal affairs and went on strikes to enforce it.

3,000 Hungarian Students Secede From Red Group

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 20 —(UP)—More than 3,000 Hungarian students walked out of a Communist youth convention in Szeged and announced their determination to set up an independent organization, it was reported Saturday.

The youth organ Szabad Ifusag acknowledged the right of the "rebels" to declare their independence, but appealed to them to return to the fold.

Szabad Ifusag said the young Hungarians who bolted the Disz youth organization at its meeting in the city, 100 miles south of here demanded a top- to- bottom purge of the organization's leadership.

They turned in their Disz membership cards and adopted resolutions demanding freedom of the press, abolition of capital punishment and democratic election of university officials.

"The students of Szeged are not our enemies," the youth organ said. "It would be short-sighted to condemn what they did, but our experience tells us we can not meet their rightful demand.

"The students of Szeged should understand that we are fighting not only for a new university system but to solve the troubles of the whole country."

Szabad Ifusag said it is not unreasonable for members of the youth group to "mistrust their leaders," but it appealed to them not to desert the ranks of the Communists who are fighting for reform.

Apparently the Southwest conference is going to turn into one of its usual knock-down drag-out battles. Texas Christian, No. 4 in this week's Associated Press poll, was the favorite until yesterday's 7-6 loss to the Aggies.

Now, of course, the Aggies, who have one tie and four victories on their record, move into the favorite's spot. But they're shaky choices at best.

Little Don Watson, who was the main cog in beating the Horned Frogs last year, did it again, setting up his team's only touchdown in the final period, then personally passing for it.

Ohio State, which was ranked right behind T.C.U., lost to Penn State by an identical 7-6 score. Sophomore Bruce Gilmore plunged over from the 1-foot mark for Penn State's only score in the fourth quarter. The Nittany Lions stopped Ohio State's vaunted ground attack and kept possession of the ball most of the way, another Buckeye specialty.

For the top three, the only questions was how much their margins would be. Oklahoma whipped Kansas, 34-12. By Sooner standards, this was close. But they had a 27-6, halftime lead. It was their 34th

Three Shot To Death West Of Crosett, Ark.

Bodies Of 2 White Men, Negro Woman Found By Motorist

CROSSETT, Ark., Oct. 20 (Special) — Police tonight were searching for an "assailant or assailants unknown" who fatally wounded two white men and a Negro woman near here today.

Dead from close-range 16-gauge shotgun blasts are George Wells, 32, a Drew County farmer; Fred Watkins, 47, a Hamburg construction worker; and Hattie Mae Williams, a Negro waitress of about 35 years of age.

The bodies were found about 7 o'clock this morning by passing motorists — Bob Bush of Crossett —on a rural road about six miles west of here.

Officials said Wells was in the rear seat of a parked car and had been shot through the head. The Negro woman was in the right front seat and had also been shot through the head. Both were dead when discovered.

Watkins was found lying beside the automobile critically wounded in the mouth. He died a short time after being rushed to a hospital here.

Only semblance of a clue, according to police, was four spent 16-gauge shotgun shells found at the death scene. Motive was unknown, police said. The shotgun had not yet been found.

A bachelor, Wells was a farmer and tractor driver. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wells of Promised Land community near Hamburg. He had four brothers: James, of Hamburg; Robert, of Phoenix, Ariz.; Layton, of Portsmout, Ohio; and John, of Norwalk, Calif.

Services for Wells have been set for Tuesday in the Promised Land Baptist Church, with the Rev. Glen Perry officiating. Burial will follow in the church cemetery under the direction of Jones Funeral Home.

Watkins is survived by his widow and three daughters, Sherry, 14, Lela Ann, 13, and Cynthia, 2. Services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday. Burial will follow at the Cleveland cemetery near Hamburg.

A club bore accosted the secretary of a golf club and declared: "I want your advice right now. I have been badly insulted by Colonel Brown. He said to me"Sir, I will give you $50 if you resign membership in this club,' "

"Oh that's obvious" replied the secretary, just hold out for a better offer!"

"Madam," remarked the sheriff, "I'm amazed to know you had the courage to tackle a bad burglar and all in the dark!"

Ike Expresses America's Hope For Polish Freedom

DENVER, Oct. 20 (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that "our hearts go out" to the people of Poland in their struggle to win freedom from Russian domination.

Commenting on the stories of unrest there, Eisenhower said he hopes that "they at least may have that opportunity to live under governments of their own choosing."

Eisenhower, here to wind up a cross-country political tour, talked by telephone with Secretary of State Dulles who was in Washington on what the President called the numerous reports "which indicate ferment and unrest."

And almost instantly Eisenhower issued a statement in which he said:

"These—reports—are accompanied by stories of Soviet troop movements.

"I am closely in touch with Secretary Dulles in an effort to ascertain the facts.

Eisenhower mentioned it near the end of an off-the-cuff speech to a crowd out to welcome him at Denver airport.

"We read about Poland in our papers," he said. 'We read about these captive peoples that are still keeping alive the burning desire to live in freedom—a freedom that we have come to take almost for granted but which they have found is the most difficult thing to sustain in the world.

"Our hearts go out to them, but they at last may have the opportunity to live under governments of their own choosing."

The President declared in his informal talk that the prosperity existing over the nation generally "is a height—a new level—even for the United States."

Eisenhower stopped in Denver for only about an hour. It was his first return to the Colorado capital since last November, when he returned to Washington after recuperating at Fitzsimons Army Hos-

Gomulka Cuts Red Party Tie With Russians

Report Soviets Moving 800 Tanks, Troops On Capital

WARSAW, Oct. 20 —UP— Moscow - opposed Wladyslaw Gomulka, backed up by special Polish security police, won apparent control of Poland Saturday and immediately promised free elections as Russia moved Red Army troops into Poland from East Germany.

There was no immediate indication whether Soviet-trained Polish army units and Soviet troops Gomulka's leadershp. throughout Poland would accept Gomulka's leadership.

His first act as party chief was to promise elections would be held Dec. 16 and the people will have "not only the right to cast votes . . .but will also be in a position to elec."

Polish forces loyal to Gomulka took over the transmitter and downtown headquarters of Radio Warsaw, the state radio, and broadcast the speech which he made to the Central Committee Friday.

The seizure occurred after Soviet Party Chief Nikita S. Khrushchev returned home following a 24-hour blitz visit designed to slow down Poland's de-Stalinization program.

Thousands of workers demanded that Russia keep hands off Poland's internal affairs and went on strikes to enforce it.

3,000 Hungarian Students Secede From Red Group

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 20 —(UP)—More than 3,000 Hungarian students walked out of a Communist youth convention in Szeged and announced their determination to set up an independent organization, it was reported Saturday.

The youth organ Szabad Ifusag acknowledged the right of the "rebels" to declare their independence, but appealed to them to return to the fold.

Szabad Ifusag said the young Hungarians who bolted the Disz youth organization at its meeting in the city, 100 miles south of here demanded a top- to- bottom purge of the organization's leadership.

They turned in their Disz membership cards and adopted resolutions demanding freedom of the press, abolition of capital punishment and democratic election of university officials.

"The students of Szeged are not our enemies," the youth organ said. "It would be short-sighted to condemn what they did, but our experience tells us we can not meet their rightful demand.

"The students of Szeged should understand that we are fighting not only for a new university system but to solve the troubles of the whole country."

Szabad Ifusag said it is not unreasonable for members of the youth group to "mistrust their leaders," but it appealed to them not to desert the ranks of the Communists who are fighting for reform.

Liquor As 'Danerss As A Gun, Bayonet, Cobweb'

Principal Proves Children Have Curious Ideas About 'Temperance'

MEMPHIS, Oct. 20 (AP) —State law calls for annual school observances in memory of a hard fighter against hard drink. And, as groundwork, two classes of 11-year-olds have pondered what temperance means to them.

Well . . . . alcoholic is all right for things like sores, but it can be as dangerous as a cobweb. And temperance, or the drinking of intoxicated liquids, is a terrible thing.

These and other maxims were harvested the other day by Miss Imelda Stanton, principal at Idlewild, after her talk on the late Frances E. Willard, a Women's Christian Temperance Union leader.

Miss Stanton asked the students for their own written testimonials (no help on spelling, either on "what temperance means to me."

There was some confusion. One paper was entitled "What Temperance Means to Miss Stanton." But by and large, the essays were eloquent.

"Temperance is drinking you should not drink thing that will make you dronk," wrote one student. "And if you are droving you mite hute some one. If the doctor give it to you it is all right but you not get in the habet of drinking."

Other definitions included: "When a person is not bad or not good he is temperate." And "if you are a temperance persons you usually drink intoxicated liquors."

While alcohol was recommended for burns, sores, and dirty cuts (one expert added that "some kinds are good for coughs"), warnings against going beyond this point were frequent.

"It all most as danerss as a gun, bayonet, cobweb," said one. "It will kill anyone slow. It is worse than playing dice. And it will kill like a knife. It could kill like a saw."

The most grievous story of all came from a student who once knew a man who had the liquid habet.

"He drank so much," he reported, "that he and his wift had to get a devoid."

'Ladies In Retirement' Scheduled At Northeast

One of the all-time popular mystery dramas and a perfect example of psychological melodrama is being presented as a major production of the speech section at Northeast State.

"Ladies in Retirement" was chosen for the college season's initial performance by George Brian, assistant professor of speech and director of drama. The show will be presented two evenings, November 1 and 2 in Brown Auditorium, with the curtain scheduled to go up at 8 p.m.

The cast for the forthcoming play includes seven roles. Lucy Fiske, an ex-actress living in a remote house on the edge of a marsh near London, will be played by Linda Garrett. Her housekeeper companion, Ellen Creed, is being created by Sarah Batton.

The two Creed sisters, Louisa and Emily, are to be portrayed by Mildred "Mickey" Burford and Jeanine Renfrow. Both promise amusing scenes for the audience.

Albert Feather, a nephew of the Creeds, will be brought to the Northeast stage in the person of Wayne Elliott. Lucy, the maid, is being played by Rita Snider, and Sister Theresa, a nun, is portrayed by Patricia Ann Hogan.

Costumes and an unusual setting promise to round out an evening of mystery drama and enjoyment.

To insure an authentic presentation, Director Brian has been searching for late 19th century costumes and appropriate props for "Ladies in Retirement."

Some of the things which are needed include: high top shoes, old bonnets, a spinet - type piano and spinet desk, and almost any clothing for men and women that was the vogue in the late 19th century. Loan of any of these articles will be greatly appreciated, Brian said. He may receive information regarding materials by telephoning the college at 3-5121 or at his residence, 3-0379.

Last season when he asked for help in obtaining props for "You Can't Take It With You" he got results. Now he feels sure that the same fine response will come for "Ladies In Retirement."

Curtain Call Little Theatre

By BETH BREESE

The Little Theatre playhouse has been silent and inactive this week end. Seems rather strange that this should be so, for there are few week ends from September to May that there isn't some activity going on out there. But, since this is the interim between ending one show and beginning another, things are in something of a lull. Actors and actresses and backstage workers from "The Moon Is Blue" are taking a much needed-rest and potential actors and crew members of the next production are preparing themselves for the long, hard, yet enjoyable task of readying a new play for the boards.

"Anastasia," the second production for the 1956-57 season will soon be underway. As a matter of fact, readings will be held next week on Tuesday night as a prelude to casting this tense and exciting drama. There are a number of excellent men's and women's roles to be filled for this show, and so, naturally, we are expecting many of the Twin Cities' most talented to be out comes 8 o'clock Tuesday night, October 23rd.

Tryouts are always fun. Nobody expects anybody to be line perfect in readings, for, as a general rule, most people are reading a script cold — for the very first time — when they participate in tryouts for a play. Of course, the director always briefs the participants on the plot of the show, the type of characters found in the show, and he gives a general resume of what its all about. Then the aspiring actors and actresses take it from there. And, you know, it's amazing how many times bright, new talent is unearthed in tryouts.

Do let us give you a little hint . . . if you have the feeling, as so many people do, that you can't act because you've never been in a play . . . don't let that stop you. We've seen it happen many times before, and we'll see it happen many times again . . . a good director taking over with someone who has never so much as recited "Mary had a little lamb. . ." in front of an audience and molding that person into a character whose talent and brilliance project across the footlights on opening night. That's always been one of our most thrilling experiences . . . watching the development of real characterization through four weeks of rehearsal, especially when it's a person who has never known the joy and excitement and comraderie of being a part of a Little Theatre play before.

Little Theatre is a community project . . . which, of course, means that it's a meeting place for talents — large and small; for personalities — varied and interesting; for interests all directed toward the same final goal—a show that is dramatically correct, technically parfect and esthetically brilliant. That's the ideal. Many times we fail to completely come up to those ideal standards, but take it from one who knows —it's one whale of a lot of fun trying!

So come on out and join the crowd Tuesday night at readings for "Anastasia."

Little Theatre Bits: — Director Ivan Uttal entertained members of his cast and crew on Saturday night during the run of the show at his apartment on North 4th street. The three principals—Joan Magruder, Bid Causey and Garland Moore were there relaxing an enjoying a few moments of leisure after a job well done — and receiving congratulations and compliments from all the others.

Sharing in the limelight, were those members of the stars' families — and share they should, for without the help of the whole family no actor could ever be in a show. Kay Causey was among the group, Gerry Moore, and, of course, Ray Magruder, who played the father in the show and who stage managed the whole thing so effectively. Kathryn Magruder was among the missing, and her absence is always sorely felt, for Kathryn is always such a charming addition to any group.

Dot Elmendorf was there taking a well deserved rest after her nightly bouts with stage lighting; Aubrey McKeithen adding to the fun of the get-together (Aubrey is one of those almost indispensable people backstage), and Violet Wilbanks was also counted present. By the way, Violet, a lot of people are wondering when we're going to see you onstage again. 'Sbeen a long time!

Of course, there were others who participated in the success of the show who joined in the fun that night. Cast and crew parties are always one of the pleasantest things about being a part of a Little Theatre production!

Talked briefly to Florence Cammack yesterday morning and she told us some thrilling news: her charming and lovely daughter, Eleanor, has been chosen to be a member of the L. S. U. homecoming court this year. That's next week end in Baton Rouge . . . And what an honor it really is! We're proud of her . . .

Time to say "Thirty" for today . . . See you next week?

Passman, Lovell Speak At FBF Meet In Ferriday

FERRIDAY, Oct. 20 (Special) — Louisiana Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman and Louisiana Farm Bureau President L. L. Lovell Saturday afternoon at the "kickoff" meeting of the annual membership drive of the Farm Bureau in Concordia parish insisted that farmers of the state's 64 parishes, the state as a whole and throughout the nation should organize for "unity and strength to remove the roadblocks toward earning a higher net farm income."

At an outdoor program on Horseshoe Lake, about 15 miles southwest of Ferriday, the Fifth Congressional district's top elected public official and the current leader in Louisiana of the nation's leading farmers' organization were in agreement that a stronger Farm Bureau, "from the parish level up through the state and national federations," would effectively serve the farmer toward getting his income in sounder dollars, in halting threats to individual freedom, toward strengthening for peace to prevent the disaster of war, and helping o build a better America with more fruitful opportunities for all.

Passman stressed that the shrinkage of the farm vote from about 52 per cent of the nation's total 60 years ago to some 13 per cent of the voting population today makes it "imperative for this vitally important minority to gain strength through unity, in order to speak with a voice that will be heard."

He said that much of the "lip-service which has been the lot of the farmer during the past few years," has been because of the relatively light voting strength and comparatively "weak and disunited" organization. "The farmer has not been getting as good a deal as he should," he declared, "with farm income down by about 26 per cent during the past four years, while corporate income was increasing by about 61 per cent during the same period."

Both Passman and Lovell pointed to the increase in the nation's cotton surplus from about one and a half million bales in 1953 to approximately 14 million bales this year as being largely attributed to federal government policies which drastically curtailed the U.S. export market, while increasing foreign production with United States money, techniques, knowledge and equipment.

Lovell said success in "forcing" export this year of from five to six million bales of U.S. surplus cotton "marks a step, at least, toward bringing recognition of the fact that United States agriculture has the right to its traditional part of the world marke."

Presiding over the meeting, which was concluded with a barbecue, was W. E. Person, Concordia parish Farm Bureau president and a former state senator. John B. Filhiol, a Farm Bureau leader in Ouachita parish, was among the out-of-parish guests at the meeting.

Gomulka

party was informed that Soviet troops entered Poland from East Germany. It was not known what Moscow's orders for them were.

Poland's future was far from clear Saturday night but Gomulka, jailed five years ago for supporting the line of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, obviously emerged as a victor in the first round of a sudden political upheaval set off by the June 28 Poznan riots.

He survived a face-to-face challenge by Khrushchev and then went before the Central Committee and gave a two-hour speech.

Internal security troops headed by Gen. Waclaw Kimar, who was jailed with Gomulka in the Titoist purges and rehabilitated with him several months ago, guarded the Radio Warsaw transmitter and studios while Gomulka's speech was broadcast.

Wearing steel helmets and carrying rifles they surrounded the station during the day and moved inside after dark, barring admission to unauthorized persons.

However, the streets of Warsaw were calm. Except for factory meetings and delegations calling on Gomulka there were no other outward demonstrations.

Deputy Stefan Staszewski told a mass meeting of 10,000 workers and students that in addition to the Russian troops rolling into the country, units of the Polish army which is commanded by Red army Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, the pro-Soviet Polish defense minister, have taken up positions in and around Warsaw.

Gomulka, who was jailed in 1951 as a Titoist and ousted as vice premier, is the key to the tense situation.

Thousands of factory workers staged sitdown strikes in Warsaw and elsewhere Saturday morning to support the popular Gomulka and to demand that Russia keep hands off internal Polish affairs.

Gomulka, a "Titoist" restored only this month to party membership, was named to a seat on the central committee Friday. The Committee Plenum (executive group) heard him deliver a 2½-hour address on the political and economic problems besetting Poland at a meeting Saturday.

Staszewski announced that "Gomulka is the new first secretary (chief) of the central committee."

Flexible Interest

flexible interest rate for government-insured FHA and G.I. mortgages," Holloway stated.

He concluded that Louisiana currently is having its least productive year of home building since 1950, including all types of houses.

Turley, of St. Louis, Mo., said yesterday that "despite a tight-money situation, 1956 will still be a good year for realtors."

Present from northeast Louisiana were Mrs. Freeda Anderson, Mrs. Martha Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Carter, Mr. and Mrs. A J. Lester, E. A. Porter, Sr., E. A. Porter, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rosenhein, all of Monroe, and George B. Land of Bastrop and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Varnado of Winnsboro.

Other action included the formation of a Louisiana - Mississippi chapter of the American institute real estate appraisers at a breakfast meeting.

A charter and by-laws were adopted under the national association of real estate boards with membership being confined to L-MAI's and prospective candidates.

Officers elected were J. Clifford Doiron, Baton Rouge, president; Omar F. Kuebel, New Orleans, vice - president; W. M. Mann, Jackson, secretary and George Hines, Lake Charles, treasurer.

Members of the Louisiana real estate board met simultaneously and elected officers for 1957. They included Allen H. Johness, New Orleans, president; C. J. Brown, Baton Rouge, vice - president; Allen H. Generes, New Orleans, secretary.

Board members and board members at large include H. L. Rosenhein of Monroe and Arthur Ray Teague, Bossier City.

J. W. Glover, director of the state Department of Occupational Standards, of Baton Rouge was present.

Rosenhein served as president of the board during 1956.

The board operates under the state Department of Occupational Standards, which controls the issuance of licenses to real estate brokers and salesmen.

A Shreveport realtor —Frank Grigsby—was elected to the state board of directors to replace the retiring Lawrence A. May, also of Shreveport.

The convention, which will be held in Monroe next year, convened Thursday afternoon and ran until noon today. Some 192 realtors and their wives were in attendance.

The fixed rate resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, it is recognized that the present financing situation on VA and FHA loan is not realistic, and because of the high discount rates on both and the difficulty of procuring money at the going interest rates allowable and whereas the present low rates with its resulting high discount rates defeats the purpose of the FHA and VA program, and rather than act adverse to the veterans' act, resolved that every effort be exerted to have the acts changed so that efforts will be made to correct the inflexibility of the acts to meet current conditions."

Passman, Lovell Speak At FBF Meet In Ferriday

FERRIDAY, Oct. 20 (Special) — Louisiana Fifth District Congressman Otto E. Passman and Louisiana Farm Bureau President L. L. Lovell Saturday afternoon at the "kickoff" meeting of the annual membership drive of the Farm Bureau in Concordia parish insisted that farmers of the state's 64 parishes, the state as a whole and throughout the nation should organize for "unity and strength to remove the roadblocks toward earning a higher net farm income."

At an outdoor program on Horseshoe Lake, about 15 miles southwest of Ferriday, the Fifth Congressional district's top elected public official and the current leader in Louisiana of the nation's leading farmers' organization were in agreement that a stronger Farm Bureau, "from the parish level up through the state and national federations," would effectively serve the farmer toward getting his income in sounder dollars, in halting threats to individual freedom, toward strengthening for peace to prevent the disaster of war, and helping o build a better America with more fruitful opportunities for all.

Passman stressed that the shrinkage of the farm vote from about 52 per cent of the nation's total 60 years ago to some 13 per cent of the voting population today makes it "imperative for this vitally important minority to gain strength through unity, in order to speak with a voice that will be heard."

He said that much of the "lip-service which has been the lot of the farmer during the past few years," has been because of the relatively light voting strength and comparatively "weak and disunited" organization. "The farmer has not been getting as good a deal as he should," he declared, "with farm income down by about 26 per cent during the past four years, while corporate income was increasing by about 61 per cent during the same period."

Both Passman and Lovell pointed to the increase in the nation's cotton surplus from about one and a half million bales in 1953 to approximately 14 million bales this year as being largely attributed to federal government policies which drastically curtailed the U.S. export market, while increasing foreign production with United States money, techniques, knowledge and equipment.

Lovell said success in "forcing" export this year of from five to six million bales of U.S. surplus cotton "marks a step, at least, toward bringing recognition of the fact that United States agriculture has the right to its traditional part of the world marke."

Presiding over the meeting, which was concluded with a barbecue, was W. E. Person, Concordia parish Farm Bureau president and a former state senator. John B. Filhiol, a Farm Bureau leader in Ouachita parish, was among the out-of-parish guests at the meeting.

Gomulka

party was informed that Soviet troops entered Poland from East Germany. It was not known what Moscow's orders for them were.

Poland's future was far from clear Saturday night but Gomulka, jailed five years ago for supporting the line of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, obviously emerged as a victor in the first round of a sudden political upheaval set off by the June 28 Poznan riots.

He survived a face-to-face challenge by Khrushchev and then went before the Central Committee and gave a two-hour speech.

Internal security troops headed by Gen. Waclaw Kimar, who was jailed with Gomulka in the Titoist purges and rehabilitated with him several months ago, guarded the Radio Warsaw transmitter and studios while Gomulka's speech was broadcast.

Wearing steel helmets and carrying rifles they surrounded the station during the day and moved inside after dark, barring admission to unauthorized persons.

However, the streets of Warsaw were calm. Except for factory meetings and delegations calling on Gomulka there were no other outward demonstrations.

Deputy Stefan Staszewski told a mass meeting of 10,000 workers and students that in addition to the Russian troops rolling into the country, units of the Polish army which is commanded by Red army Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, the pro-Soviet Polish defense minister, have taken up positions in and around Warsaw.

Gomulka, who was jailed in 1951 as a Titoist and ousted as vice premier, is the key to the tense situation.

Thousands of factory workers staged sitdown strikes in Warsaw and elsewhere Saturday morning to support the popular Gomulka and to demand that Russia keep hands off internal Polish affairs.

Gomulka, a "Titoist" restored only this month to party membership, was named to a seat on the central committee Friday. The Committee Plenum (executive group) heard him deliver a 2½-hour address on the political and economic problems besetting Poland at a meeting Saturday.

Staszewski announced that "Gomulka is the new first secretary (chief) of the central committee."

flexible interest rate for government-insured FHA and G.I. mortgages," Holloway stated.

He concluded that Louisiana currently is having its least productive year of home building since 1950, including all types of houses.

Turley, of St. Louis, Mo., said yesterday that "despite a tight-money situation, 1956 will still be a good year for realtors."

Present from northeast Louisiana were Mrs. Freeda Anderson, Mrs. Martha Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Carter, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lester, E. A. Porter, Sr., E. A. Porter, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rosenhein, all of Monroe, and George B. Land of Bastrop and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Varnado of Winnsboro.

Other action included the formation of a Louisiana - Mississippi chapter of the American institute real estate appraisers at a breakfast meeting.

A charter and by-laws were adopted under the national association of real estate boards with membership being confined to L-MAI's and prospective candidates.

Officers elected were J. Clifford Doiron, Baton Rouge, president; Omar F. Kuebel, New Orleans, vice - president; W. M. Mann, Jackson, secretary and George Hines, Lake Charles, treasurer.

Members of the Louisiana real estate board met simultaneously and elected officers for 1957. They included Allen H. Johness, New Orleans, president; C. J. Brown, Baton Rouge, vice - president; Allen H. Generes, New Orleans, secretary.

Board members and board members at large include H. L. Rosenhein of Monroe and Arthur Ray Teague, Bossier City.

J. W. Glover, director of the state Department of Occupational Standards, of Baton Rouge was present.

Rosenhein served as president of the board during 1956.

The board operates under the state Department of Occupational Standards, which controls the issuance of licenses to real estate brokers and salesmen.

A Shreveport realtor —Frank Grigsby—was elected to the state board of directors to replace the retiring Lawrence A. May, also of Shreveport.

The convention, which will be held in Monroe next year, convened Thursday afternoon and ran until noon today. Some 192 realtors and their wives were in attendance.

The fixed rate resolution reads as follows:

"Whereas, it is recognized that the present financing situation on VA and FHA loan is not realistic, and because of the high discount rates on both and the difficulty of procuring money at the going interest rates allowable and whereas the present low rates with its resulting high discount rates defeats the purpose of the FHA and VA program, and rather than act adverse to the veterans' act, resolved that every effort be exerted to have the acts changed so that efforts will be made to correct the inflexibility of the acts to meet current conditions."

E. M. WOOTEN

North Louisiana Teachers Slate Business Confab

Members of the northern district, Louisiana Business Education Association, will consider the question: "How can I be a better business teacher?" at a conference scheduled October 27 at the West Monroe High School.

The meeting, opening at 9 a.m., will be devoted to general convocations and special clinics, Vice President E. M. Wooten announced.

This district conference should be a great asset to North Louisiana business teachers, Wooten said. "The entire program will stress practicability."

On the social calendar is a luncheon which will be held in the high school cafeteria. All persons who plan to attend the affair are urged to notify Wooten in advance if possible.

Featured at the session will be Dr. Irol Whitmore Balsley, professor of secretarial science at Louisiana Tech and co-author of "Transcription and Dictation," who will address the meeting at 11:30 a.m. on scientific methods of measurement in shorthand and typing.

Miss Gladys Peck, state supervisor of business education in Louisiana, and Richard D. Clanton, assistant supervisor, are expected to attend the sessions.

Special clinics will be conducted in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, clerical practice, general business and motivation and discipline.

The six teachers in the northern district who will chairman these clinics include: Ellen Boatwright, Northeast State instructor, clerical practice; Elva Nugent, Cotton Valley High School, Typing; La Verne Cook Williams, West Monroe High School, shorthand; Ruth P. Martin, Grand Cane High School bookkeeping; Ruby C. Baxter, Grayson High School, general business; Harold Bartlett, Dubberly High School, motivation and discipline.

These subjects are the most widely taught in the field of business, and should be of primary concern to business teachers in this area, Wooten explained.

Parishes comprising the northern district comprise: Caddo, Bossier, Webster, Claiborne, Union, Morehouse, West Carroll, East Carroll, Madison, Richland Ouachita, Lincoln, Bienville, DeSoto, Red River Jackson, Caldwell, Franklin, Tensas and the Monroe City School System.

A 39-year-old West Monroe man yesterday became one of the first hunting casualties of this area during the current squirrel and rabbit season.

The accidental shooting occurred yesterday at 7:30 a.m. at Irvin Lake, near the Arkansas Line north of Bastrop.

According to Morehouse parish officials, Roth was sitting on the ground behind a log. He raised his head up over the log, and Beason, from some distance away, thought he was a squirrel and fired his 12-gauge automatic shotgun.

Roth was taken to the Morehouse General Hospital in Bastrop by J. W. Gifford of Bastrop. He was described as "resting well and his condition is not serious." Hospital attendants said Roth's eyes were not injured by the blast.

Don't Fail To Vote For Amendment No. 23

The Greater Ouachita Port Commission, proposed in the form of a Constitutional Amendment (No. 23) to be voted on in less than three weeks from now, promises to be a key to full scale reactivation of commerce on the Ouachita River.

Empowered to direct the development and expansion of port facilities along the Ouachita River here, the commission would be a vehicle of organized management for all port activities. Its role would be even more important in the event a 9-foot channel is approved for the Ouachita River. A 9-foot channel would standardize the Ouachita River for inter-changing barges from deep river commerce on the Mississippi and other important waterways.

The commission, under provisions of Amendment No. 23, would be composed of seven members who would serve without pay. All seven would ultimately be appointed by the governor.

One would be appointed from a panel of three names to be submitted by the Police Jury; two from a panel of six names recommended by the City Council of West Monroe; three from a panel of nine names submitted by the Monroe City Council, and one would receive a direct appointment from the governor.

The commissioner directly appointed by the governor and the commissioner appointed by the governor from a panel of three submitted by the Police Jury would be appointed for a term of two years. One of the commissioners appointed from names submitted by Monroe and one appointed from the panel of names offered by West Monroe would serve for terms of four years. The remaining three commissioners would serve six-year terms. At the expiration of these initial terms, successors would be appointed for a period of six years each.

Once organized and put into authority the commission would have full jurisdiction to build, supervise and manage any port facilities it deemed necessary in order to serve the river trade. As a bona fide public body it would have authority to enter contracts, charge fees, establish rules and regulations regarding commercial activities on the river and employ any personnel it considered necessary to perform various duties for the commission.

Contracts made by the commission would not exceed a forty year period. Nor could it grant an exclusive franchise to any carrier.

The far reaching authority of the Greater Ouachita Port Commission would give that body almost unlimited power to conduct a modern port operation.

At present, no managed port facilities are available along the Ouachita River here, except in a few cases where private industry, on its own, has installed various ramps, loading docks and piers.

Only through organized, functioning management can the Ouachita River be utilized to its maximum commercial value. The Port Commission amendment is a step in the right direction.

The Morning World opposes more than half of the Constitutional amendments to be submitted to Louisiana voters on November 6. But, No. 23, the Greater Ouachita Port Commission amendment, is among those we strongly urge the voters of this area to approve.

All three members of the Ouachita parish delegation in the state Legislature support Amendment No. 23. They supported the necessary enabling legislation during the last regular session at Baton Rouge.

In the interest of progress in this part of the state every voter should vote for this amendment, along with some of the others.

Now It's 'Brainstorming'

The old bull session and kaffe klatch have come into their own. Business now has refined them into a system.

A number of firms, spurred by an advertising agency, have adopted what they call "brainstorming." What it involves is turning a group of persons loose to concentrate on solving problems, letting them toss in ideas willy-nilly.

The plan is pushed by Alex F. Osborn of the Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne advertising agency. In advertising jargon it is called "ideation" but he prefers the term "creative thinking." About 30,000 persons now are taking courses in learning how to use the system.

Here is the way it works: a group of persons in a firm sit down in an office. Each tries to come up with a different idea for solving a given situation. All judgment of the ideas and criticism are ruled out. "Free wheeling" is encouraged and the wilder the ideas the better.

Quantity is desired because it is figured the larger the number of ideas the larger the number of good ideas. "Ideas stimulate additional ideas from others," Osborn says, "and they multiply faster when you are in a group than when you are thinking alone."

No top executive is permitted to sit in. "If there are 11 people and the boss, you have 11 apple polishers," Osborn says.

What does the method produce? Well, only about 10 per cent of the ideas are usable. But if a panel of 12 persons come up with 60 ideas in 10 minutes (as a group recently did for Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. on the subject of "How can we attract more technicians?"), then this will produce six usable ideas—far more than one or two individuals working alone could have provided.

Who said you can't mass-produce ideas?

To Scrap Enterprise

Announcement by the Navy that the aircraft carrier Enterprise will be sold for scrap because she is unfit for further naval service brought back nostalgic memories of the part played by this vessel in the War with Japan. History records no matching record for any other naval vessel.

The Enterprise is credited by the Navy with taking part in "every major battle of the Pacific War except the battle of the Coral Sea. Guns and planes of the Enterprise shot down 911 Japanese aircraft, sank 71 ships and damaged 192 more. The gallant flatop won 20 battle stars.

Efforts by patriotic societies and by the Navy to preserve the vessel as a memorial came to naught and bids will now be sought for her. Launched in October 1936, the carrier has been in mothballs at Bayonne, N. J., since 1948, and is declared to be outmoded for further service.

New York Race Defies Prediction

Washington, —Armchair political strategists go crazy when they think about the New York Senate race. And with reason.

In this most complicated of all battlegrounds — an exaggerated version of the American melting pot — opposing candidates of remarkably similar beliefs are engaged in a nip-and-tuck race for the seat being vacated by Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D).

Both have formidable equipment for the contest. Republican Jacob K. Javits, an honored eight-year veteran of the House of Representatives, was the only GOP survivor of the 1954 state election. He won the attorney general's job by defeating a top-line Democratic name, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., by 174,000 votes.

Further confirmation of Javits' unique bipartisan appeal came in that year's Congressional election, when the New York City district he had represented for four terms went Democratic by better than a 2-1 margin.

His opponent for the Senate, Robert F. Wagner Jr. (D), has been a popular and effective mayor of New York City for the past three years. He bears one of the proudest names in New York political history. As a Senator, his father authored many basic New Deal measures including the liberal labor laws of the 1930s. This will draw many upstate and New York City labor votes to Wagner's cause and already has helped him gain the endorsement of the Liberal party, a group whose votes in 1954 tipped the governorship to Democrat Averell Harriman.

But both candidates have certain built-in liabilities. Wagner's very popularity as mayor makes some New Yorkers reluctant to see him leave the job. In particular, there is doubt whether Democratic leader Carmine DeSapio, who steered Wagner into the mayoralty, wants to see him abandon it for the less obvious political advantages of a Washington career.

DeSapio declares that "whatever my wishes, Wagner knows I support him." But, though Gov. Harriman is stumping the state for Wagner, reports persist that DeSapio's troops will not break their backs to boost him out of City Hall.

As for Javits, the very liberalism that makes him attractive to New York City voters makes him suspect in conservative upstate areas. Javits received only 17 of 32 possible first ballot votes from the GOP state executive committee for the Senatorial nomination. His voluntary appearance in September before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to deny soliciting Communist support in 1946 may or may not have satisfied their doubts. But as in his 1954 campaign against Roosevelt, Javits will get most of these upstate votes, if for no other reason than his being on the Republican ticket.

Whatever the risks, both candidates have concentrated their campaigns on winning liberal and minority votes in New York City.

When Wagner links his opponent to "the party of Herbert Hoover and Andrew Mellon" and asserts "you can't be both a Republican and a liberal," Javits replies that the New Deal measures "have now been accepted by both parties and if that's heresay, I still say it."

When Javits asks where Wagner stands on the civil rights issue, the Democrat says his own party's platform should have been stronger and challenges Javits to criticize the "weak" Republican plank.

When Wagner advocates free arms for Israel, Javits hustles down to Washington to see Secretary of State John Foster Dulles about a $75 million loan to that country.

On a more personal level, Javits accuses Wagner of being a "novice" in foreign policy, says he uses "the Tammany technique of reducing all issues to a quick handout."

Wagner labels Javits a "donothing" Congressman and attorney general, an apologist for the Administration's "reactionary economic policies and dangerous international blunders."

Only on the farm issue have the rival taken squarely opposite positions. Wagner blames flexible price supports for the $128 million drop in New York farm income from 1952 to 1955. Javits says restpration of high, rigid supports would hurt upstate dairy farmers, who must import feed grains, and city consumders alike.

There is also, fortunately or unfortunately, a religious issue. Democrats hope Wagner, a Catholic, will reclaim many Italian and Polish votes President Eisenhower won in 1952. Republicans count on Javits, a Jew, to make inroads into the heavy Democratic tally usually furnished by New York City.

Both men are campaigning hard, but neither has predicted victory. Not even the experts know how this one will come out.

Airman Seeks Aid For Arab Chidren

Editor, Morning World:

I am Mrs. O. W Cosby, an "old timer" from Monroe now living in Baton Rouge. This boy Charles (whose letter to the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate is enclosed) is a friend of mine. It is very commendable in him taking such an active interest in these poor children. I hope that he may get some response from Monroe people.

MRS. O. W. COSBY,
Baton Rouge

Editor Morning Advocate:

Even before I came here to Morocco I had heard of the deplorable situation that existed but the things that I had heard didn't even come close to preparing me for the sights I have seen here.

Today I saw a little girl about 8 years old stealing scraps of food that had been left on someone's plate in a small cafe. What she didn't eat she put inside of her blouse for later. That was by no means a rare sight.

When we Americans go to town, we are surrounded by small boys dressed in filthy rags who cling to us and beg for money or food. Every night, at least 3 or 4 GI's are robbed and entire blocks of the city are Off Limits because of the thieves who lurk in the shadows, waiting. Few indeed are those among us who hasn't been shortchanged or robbed. And yet, can we honestly blame these poor people? I've seen entire families living in one wretched, smelly room and eating food infested with all kinds of vermin. Base medics have discovered incurable diseases here that have no names.

Will you help me to help these people?

I asked my friends and neighbors back home that same question last year when I was in Korea and the response was truly wonderful. I received boxes and boxes of food and clothes, which I gave out to the villagers around the base. The dreaded rainy season will soon be upon us; it is then that the icy winds sweep down from the nearby snow-clad Atlas Mountains. The need for clothing is most acute at this time.

Baton Rouge has always been noted for its generosity in undertakings of this sort so my expectations are great. Please send old clothes of any size but children's size preferably.

My address is:
3906 Air Police Sqd. (Box 46)
A.P.O. 117 New York, N. Y.

I am doing this strictly on my own so I'll personally give the clothes to the ones who need them most.

The Communist leaders here are trying to convince the people that all Americans are cold, selfish and too occupied with acquiring wealth to care about anyone but themselves. What do you say we show them how wrong they are about us? Their words of propaganda are no good if the Arabs show them a box of clothes that a "cold, selfish American" gave them. Send clothes or anything you think will gladden the heart of another human being to me and I'll make these Commies eat their words!

Jackpot Vote A Menace

Editor Morning World,

If we would divide the electoral votes of each state according to the popular votes it would reduce the powers of the NAACP bloc votes to normal. As it is now, we are using a jackpot system of dividing these votes. If one Party gets one popular vote more than his opponent, this Party gets all the electoral votes of the state.

This is mostly in favor of the bloc-voting NAACP. For illustration, New York has 45 electoral votes and at times the two parties are evenly divided. If these votes were counted according to the popular votes, one Party would receive 23 electoral votes, the other 22. As it is now, the bloc-voting NAACP can jump to either Party and it will receive the entire 45 electoral votes in spite of the fact that the Negro population of New York is about seven per cent.

This illustration will also apply to Pennsylvania—it has 32 votes — California, 32, Illinois, 27, Ohio, 25, more electoral votes than the entire South. This explains why a presidential candidate will jump a ten-rail fence for these bloc votes. Bear in mind, these electoral votes are the ones that elect a president. Strange it may seem, but most all of our ex-presidents have been in favor of the jackpot system. In a way it is gambling, like playing a slotmachine. The votes should be divided according to the votes of the people, then the bloc votes of the NAACP and other minority groups would have no more powers than the rest.

Correction Covers Wide Area

Dear Mr. Editor:

On Friday, the 5th of this month there appeared in the News-Star, a purported announcement from the paper stating that I had made some announcement about the big lake project here known as the D'Arbonne Lake.

I desire to state that I made no announcement. That an announcement would come from an officer or one connected with the project. In the statement it was recited that I said it was a huge lake and a little further on that it was 18 to 20 acres. I made no announcement to the Press. In an interview where another newspaper man asked me some things I stated that it was a huge lake and would cover in my opinion from 18 to 20 thousand acres.

Quite a number of friends have laughed and asked me if a huge lake could be 18 to 20 acres, and I stated to them that would make a pond, so I think you should allow this letter to be given as a correction of the innocent error of which I am sorry your reporter made, but is deserving of correction.

With kindest regards, I am

When Death, And Why?

IN GREAT disasters, why is it . . . That certain people die . . . While others manage to escape . . . And keep their earthly tie? . . . Why is it that so many times . . . Yet there are old and virtuous folks . . . On every death list too . . . The answer is that God decides . . . Just how and when and where . . . To take away the earthly load . . . Thrift

Thrift used to mean something of healthy growth. Thriving meant growing in wholesome fashion. A thriving family meant a healthy group who were prospering in every way. It was a good word to hold to and still is, in spite of modern wastefulness.

Thrift in practice means discipline. It denies the childish habit of wanting everything one sees, everything anybody else has, regardless of personal need or ability to pay. It means the clear-headed, common-sense attitude of keeping out of debt and of providing for future needs. It means the strength of character to say, "I can do without," instead of, "I can make monthly payments." Those monthly payments can be highly expensive in money and in character growth.

A debt is a sort of bondage. The fruit of the debtor's work goes to his creditor. He loses the satisfaction of handling his money, managing it himself, controlling it, which is the inspiration one needs to work and keep working. It is well for government, for society at large, to make provision for the helpless ones, but those who are not helpless should be very careful not to get into that class by mortgaging their earnings by thoughtless spending. To buy what is needed to make a home comfortable, easy to keep clean and in order, to provide for illness and the education of the children are matters of common sense. Setting aside a certain percentage of one's earnings as a backlog is common sense.

A young man told me he was about to be married and I said, "But you have no job and no training for a job. What are you going to do to support your wife?"

Of course, he was not an intelligent young person — but even some of the intelligent ones are beginning to think that it is useless, quite unnecessary, to save any money. All that, they think, is attended to by the firm, by insurance, by this and that social organization. This attitude is a mistake, and one that is certain to cost some people dearly. Nothing, nothing and nobody, can ever take the place of personal thrift.

Sensible young people will think this through and try to keep out of paralyzing debt. They will follow the old - fashioned idea of Macawber that saving one penny out of each schilling means happiness, spending one penny over the schilling in hand spells misery. Nothing will change this. Nothing can. Only personal thrift, personal saving will give one the serene feeling of power, integrity, security

Only personal earnings, budgeting and thought will make working the joy it can be for the worker. Earn and save, even though society and government lend a helping hand.

Useful habits make happy living and add to the mind and character of a child. Dr. Patri explains how to encourage your child to be helpful in leaflet P-14 "Helpful Habits." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Peace Efforts By Dulles

Some American University which desires to give the nation a much needed chance to smile over the Suez canal dilemma, if only briefly, might think about giving Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the degree of M. I. — meaning Master of Improvisation.

In late November, 1952, when President - elect Eisenhower announced the first choice for his cabinet, his Secretary of State, quiet whispers were heard among trained U. S. diplomats that Dulles would undoubtedly run the department as he saw fit, because under a Democratic administration, on special diplomatic missions, he had learned how not to direct American state craft.

If this referred to any specific instance, it was the speech given by Secretary of State Dean Acheson in January, 1950, defining the U. S. Pacific defense area in terms which excluded Korea. Six months later, shortly after Dulles on a special mission to Seoul assured the Korean parliament that the U. S. would defend them if South Korea were attacked, the North Korean Reds invaded their free neighbor.

The situation then was that the Reds had eally called our bluff, made by Dulles and that President Truman had to fight or face a complete loss of U. S. prestige in all Asia. Dulles was given no more missions by the Democratic administration. He moved into the Eisenhower camp when it was being formed but didn't get far until Gov. Thomas E. Dewey told the President-elect that Dulles was really a Republican who understood diplomacy.

Now, almost four years later, the Eisenhower administration bases a major part of its campaign appeal on the peace which has been maintained since the end of the Korean war. The price, however, has been to give way before the Russian Communists in so many instances that millions of Americans have accepted the idea that peace can only be kept in that way.

Secretary Dulles has been kept out of the presidential campaign, supposedly because the President had said he did not want politics injected into our foreign affairs. Many observers here suspect that another reason is that whatever Dulles said would draw challenge from our enemies or criticism from some nominally friendly nations.

Few individuals in official life here would deny that the United States might be engaged in military action within a few months after the election, regardless of which party wins. Even President Eisenhower's assertion that he would send no troops into combat without the approval of Congress offers no assurance, because the U. S. could well be in a position where its failure to fight would lose it the friendship of NATO allies, and Congress would have little alternative but to stand with the President, whether Eisenhower or Stevenson.

Newspapermen come away from Dulles' press conferences shaking their heads, for the indication that his replies are based on spur of the moment thinking is inescapable. The canal users' association idea, which Russia now feels free to treat with contempt, because the U. S. has no means left of enforcing any agreement, has been brought along slowly, so that if no agreement on Suez can be reached before election, at least the Dulles proposals will be pending.

Those who seem to derive some satisfaction from the fact that President Eisenhower, as a military man, commends great respect abroad do not take into account that his diplomatic experience has been extemely limited, and that the position of the U. S. against the Communists has weakened instead of strengthening since the conferences in Switzerland in the summer of 1955, which were hailed at the time as a great victory for Ike.

In the present crisis in the middle east, further complicated by American interest in Israel, surrounded by unfriendly Arabs, the United States has no statesman capable of taking hold and convincing Pesident Eisenhower that the U. S. is more likely to fumble its way into a major war under the Dulles improvisations than by taking a firm stand against a Communist world, which its leaders in Moscow are having too much difficulty holding together to risk a major conflict.

Don't Fail To Vote For Amendment No. 23

The Greater Ouachita Port Commission, proposed in the form of a Constitutional Amendment (No. 23) to be voted on in less than three weeks from now, promises to be a key to full scale reactivation of commerce on the Ouachita River.

Empowered to direct the development and expansion of port facilities along the Ouachita River here, the commission would be a vehicle of organized management for all port activities. Its role would be even more important in the event a 9-foot channel is approved for the Ouachita River. A 9-foot channel would standardize the Ouachita River for inter-changing barges from deep river commerce on the Mississippi and other important waterways.

The commission, under provisions of Amendment No. 23, would be composed of seven members who would serve without pay. All seven would ultimately be appointed by the governor.

One would be appointed from a panel of three names to be submitted by the Police Jury; two from a panel of six names recommended by the City Council of West Monroe; three from a panel of nine names submitted by the Monroe City Council, and one would receive a direct appointment from the governor.

The commissioner directly appointed by the governor and the commissioner appointed by the governor from a panel of three submitted by the Police Jury would be appointed for a term of two years. One of the commissioners appointed from names submitted by Monroe and one appointed from the panel of names offered by West Monroe would serve for terms of four years. The remaining three commissioners would serve six-year terms. At the expiration of these initial terms, successors would be appointed for a period of six years each.

Once organized and put into authority the commission would have full jurisdiction to build, supervise and manage any port facilities it deemed necessary in order to serve the river trade. As a bona fide public body it would have authority to enter contracts, charge fees, establish rules and regulations regarding commercial activities on the river and employ any personnel it considered necessary to perform various duties for the commission.

Contracts made by the commission would not exceed a forty year period. Nor could it grant an exclusive franchise to any carrier.

The far reaching authority of the Greater Ouachita Port Commission would give that body almost unlimited power to conduct a modern port operation.

At present, no managed port facilities are available along the Ouachita River here, except in a few cases where private industry, on its own, has installed various ramps, loading docks and piers.

Only through organized, functioning management can the Ouachita River be utilized to its maximum commercial value. The Port Commission amendment is a step in the right direction.

The Morning World opposes more than half of the Constitutional amendments to be submitted to Louisiana voters on November 6. But, No. 23, the Greater Ouachita Port Commission amendment, is among those we strongly urge the voters of this area to approve.

All three members of the Ouachita parish delegation in the state Legislature support Amendment No. 23. They supported the necessary enabling legislation during the last regular session at Baton Rouge.

In the interest of progress in this part of the state every voter should vote for this amendment, along with some of the others.

Now It's 'Brainstorming'

The old bull session and kaffe klatch have come into their own. Business now has refined them into a system.

A number of firms, spurred by an advertising agency, have adopted what they call "brainstorming." What it involves is turning a group of persons loose to concentrate on solving problems, letting them toss in ideas willy-nilly.

The plan is pushed by Alex F. Osborn of the Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne advertising agency. In advertising jargon it is called "ideation" but he prefers the term "creative thinking." About 30,000 persons now are taking courses in learning how to use the system.

Here is the way it works: a group of persons in a firm sit down in an office. Each tries to come up with a different idea for solving a given situation. All judgment of the ideas and criticism are ruled out. "Free wheeling" is encouraged and the wilder the ideas the better.

Quantity is desired because it is figured the larger the number of ideas the larger the number of good ideas. "Ideas stimulate additional ideas from others," Osborn says, "and they multiply faster when you are in a group than when you are thinking alone."

No top executive is permitted to sit in. "If there are 11 people and the boss, you have 11 apple polishers," Osborn says.

What does the method produce? Well, only about 10 per cent of the ideas are usable. But if a panel of 12 persons come up with 60 ideas in 10 minutes (as a group recently did for Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co. on the subject of "How can we attract more technicians?"), then this will produce six usable ideas—far more than one or two individuals working alone could have provided.

Who said you can't mass-produce ideas?

To Scrap Enterprise

Announcement by the Navy that the aircraft carrier Enterprise will be sold for scrap because she is unfit for further naval service brought back nostalgic memories of the part played by this vessel in the War with Japan. History records no matching record for any other naval vessel.

The Enterprise is credited by the Navy with taking part in "every major battle of the Pacific War except the battle of the Coral Sea. Guns and planes of the Enterprise shot down 911 Japanese aircraft, sank 71 ships and damaged 192 more. The gallant flatop won 20 battle stars.

Efforts by patriotic societies and by the Navy to preserve the vessel as a memorial came to naught and bids will now be sought for her. Launched in October 1936, the carrier has been in mothballs at Bayonne, N. J., since 1948, and is declared to be outmoded for further service.

New York Race Defies Prediction

Washington, —Armchair political strategists go crazy when they think about the New York Senate race. And with reason.

In this most complicated of all battlegrounds — an exaggerated version of the American melting pot — opposing candidates of remarkably similar beliefs are engaged in a nip-and-tuck race for the seat being vacated by Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D).

Both have formidable equipment for the contest. Republican Jacob K. Javits, an honored eight-year veteran of the House of Representatives, was the only GOP survivor of the 1954 state election. He won the attorney general's job by defeating a top-line Democratic name, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., by 174,000 votes.

Further confirmation of Javits' unique bipartisan appeal came in that year's Congressional election, when the New York City district he had represented for four terms went Democratic by better than a 2-1 margin.

His opponent for the Senate, Robert F. Wagner Jr. (D), has been a popular and effective mayor of New York City for the past three years. He bears one of the proudest names in New York political history. As a Senator, his father authored many basic New Deal measures including the liberal labor laws of the 1930s. This will draw many upstate and New York City labor votes to Wagner's cause and already has helped him gain the endorsement of the Liberal party, a group whose votes in 1954 tipped the governorship to Democrat Averell Harriman.

But both candidates have certain built-in liabilities. Wagner's very popularity as mayor makes some New Yorkers reluctant to see him leave the job. In particular, there is doubt whether Democratic leader Carmine DeSapio, who steered Wagner into the mayoralty, wants to see him abandon it for the less obvious political advantages of a Washington career.

DeSapio declares that "whatever my wishes, Wagner knows I support him." But, though Gov. Harriman is stumping the state for Wagner, reports persist that DeSapio's troops will not break their backs to boost him out of City Hall.

As for Javits, the very liberalism that makes him attractive to New York City voters makes him suspect in conservative upstate areas. Javits received only 17 of 32 possible first ballot votes from the GOP state executive committee for the Senatorial nomination. His voluntary appearance in September before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee to deny soliciting Communist support in 1946 may or may not have satisfied their doubts. But as in his 1954 campaign against Roosevelt, Javits will get most of these upstate votes, if for no other reason than his being on the Republican ticket.

Whatever the risks, both candidates have concentrated their campaigns on winning liberal and minority votes in New York City.

When Wagner links his opponent to "the party of Herbert Hoover and Andrew Mellon" and asserts "you can't be both a Republican and a liberal," Javits replies that the New Deal measures "have now been accepted by both parties and if that's heresay, I still say it."

When Javits asks where Wagner stands on the civil rights issue, the Democrat says his own party's platform should have been stronger and challenges Javits to criticize the "weak" Republican plank.

When Wagner advocates free arms for Israel, Javits hustles down to Washington to see Secretary of State John Foster Dulles about a $75 million loan to that country.

On a more personal level, Javits accuses Wagner of being a "novice" in foreign policy, says he uses "the Tammany technique of reducing all issues to a quick handout."

Wagner labels Javits a "donothing" Congressman and attorney general, an apologist for the Administration's "reactionary economic policies and dangerous international blunders."

Only on the farm issue have the rival taken squarely opposite positions. Wagner blames flexible price supports for the $128 million drop in New York farm income from 1952 to 1955. Javits says restpration of high, rigid supports would hurt upstate dairy farmers, who must import feed grains, and city consumders alike.

There is also, fortunately or unfortunately, a religious issue. Democrats hope Wagner, a Catholic, will reclaim many Italian and Polish votes President Eisenhower won in 1952. Republicans count on Javits, a Jew, to make inroads into the heavy Democratic tally usually furnished by New York City.

Both men are campaigning hard, but neither has predicted victory. Not even the experts know how this one will come out.

Airman Seeks Aid For Arab Chidren

Editor, Morning World:

I am Mrs. O. W Cosby, an "old timer" from Monroe now living in Baton Rouge. This boy Charles (whose letter to the Baton Rouge Morning Advocate is enclosed) is a friend of mine. It is very commendable in him taking such an active interest in these poor children. I hope that he may get some response from Monroe people.

MRS. O. W. COSBY,
Baton Rouge

Editor Morning Advocate:

Even before I came here to Morocco I had heard of the deplorable situation that existed but the things that I had heard didn't even come close to preparing me for the sights I have seen here.

Today I saw a little girl about 8 years old stealing scraps of food that had been left on someone's plate in a small cafe. What she didn't eat she put inside of her blouse for later. That was by no means a rare sight.

When we Americans go to town, we are surrounded by small boys dressed in filthy rags who cling to us and beg for money or food. Every night, at least 3 or 4 GI's are robbed and entire blocks of the city are Off Limits because of the thieves who lurk in the shadows, waiting. Few indeed are those among us who hasn't been short-changed or robbed. And yet, can we honestly blame these poor people? I've seen entire families living in one wretched, smelly room and eating food infested with all kinds of vermin. Base medics have discovered incurable diseases here that have no names.

Will you help me to help these people?

I asked my friends and neighbors back home that same question last year when I was in Korea and the response was truly wonderful. I received boxes and boxes of food and clothes, which I gave out to the villagers around the base. The dreaded rainy season will soon be upon us; it is then that the icy winds sweep down from the nearby snow-clad Atlas Mountains. The need for clothing is most acute at this time.

Baton Rouge has always been noted for its generosity in undertakings of this sort so my expectations are great. Please send old clothes of any size but children's size preferably.

My address is:
A.P.O. 117 New York, N. Y.

I am doing this strictly on my own so I'll personally give the clothes to the ones who need them most.

The Communist leaders here are trying to convince the people that all Americans are cold, selfish and too occupied with acquiring wealth to care about anyone but themselves. What do you say we show them how wrong they are about us? Their words of propaganda are no good if the Arabs show them a box of clothes that a "cold, selfish American" gave them. Send clothes or anything you think will gladden the heart of another human being to me and I'll make these Commies eat their words!

Jackpot Vote A Menace

Editor Morning World,

If we would divide the electoral votes of each state according to the popular votes it would reduce the powers of the NAACP bloc votes to normal. As it is now, we are using a jackpot system of dividing these votes. If one Party gets one popular vote more than his opponent, this Party gets all the electoral votes of the state.

This is mostly in favor of the bloc-voting NAACP. For illustration, New York has 45 electoral votes and at times the two parties are evenly divided. If these votes were counted according to the popular votes, one Party would receive 23 electoral votes, the other 22. As it is now, the bloc-voting NAACP can jump to either Party and it will receive the entire 45 electoral votes in spite of the fact that the Negro population of New York is about seven per cent.

This illustration will also apply to Pennsylvania—it has 32 votes — California, 32, Illinois, 27, Ohio, 25, more electoral votes than the entire South. This explains why a presidential candidate will jump a ten-rail fence for these bloc votes. Bear in mind, these electoral votes are the ones that elect a president. Strange it may seem, but most all of our ex-presidents have been in favor of the jackpot system. In a way it is gambling, like playing a slotmachine. The votes should be divided according to the votes of the people, then the bloc votes of the NAACP and other minority groups would have no more powers than the rest.

When Death, And Why?

IN GREAT disasters, why is it . . . That certain people die . . . While others manage to escape . . . And keep their earthly tie? . . . Why is it that so many times . . . The good ones pass away . . . And undesirables are saved . . . To live another day? . . . Is it because "the good die young?" . . . Well, maybe that is true . . . Yet there are old and virtuous folks . . . On every death list too . . . The answer is that God decides . . . Just how and when and where . . . To take away the earthly load . . . Each human has to bear . . . But when a sinner's life is saved . . . By some strange circumstance . . . It may be God's reminder of . . . A last and final chance.

Correction Covers Wide Area

Dear Mr. Editor:

On Friday, the 5th of this month there appeared in the News-Star, a purported announcement from the paper stating that I had made some announcement about the big lake project here known as the D'Arbonne Lake.

I desire to state that I made no announcement. That an announcement would come from an officer or one connected with the project. In the statement it was recited that I said it was a huge lake and a little further on that it was 18 to 20 acres. I made no announcement to the Press. In an interview where another newspaper man asked me some things I stated that it was a huge lake and would cover in my opinion from 18 to 20 thousand acres.

Quite a number of friends have laughed and asked me if a huge lake could be 18 to 20 acres, and I stated to them that would make a pond, so I think you should allow this letter to be given as a correction of the innocent error of which I am sorry your reporter made, but is deserving of correction.

With kindest regards, I am

Our Children

Thrift

Thrift used to mean something of healthy growth. Thriving meant growing in wholesome fashion. A thriving family meant a healthy group who were prospering in every way. It was a good word to hold to and still is, in spite of modern wastefulness.

Thrift in practice means discipline. It denies the childish habit of wanting everything one sees, everything anybody else has, regardless of personal need or ability to pay. It means the clear-headed, common-sense attitude of keeping out of debt and of providing for future needs. It means the strength of character to say, "I can do without," instead of, "I can make monthly payments." Those monthly payments can be highly expensive in money and in character growth.

A debt is a sort of bondage. The fruit of the debtor's work goes to his creditor. He loses the satisfaction of handling his money, managing it himself, controlling it, which is the inspiration one needs to work and keep working. It is well for government, for society at large, to make provision for the helpless ones, but those who are not helpless should be very careful not to get into that class by mortgaging their earnings by thoughtless spending. To buy what is needed to make a home comfortable, easy to keep clean and in order, to provide for illness and the education of the children are matters of common sense. Setting aside a certain percentage of one's earnings as a backlog is common sense.

A young man told me he was about to be married and I said, "But you have no job and no training for a job. What are you going to do to support your wife?"

Of course, he was not an intelligent young person — but even some of the intelligent ones are beginning to think that it is useless, quite unnecessary, to save any money. All that, they think, is attended to by the firm, by insurance, by this and that social organization. This attitude is a mistake, and one that is certain to cost some people dearly. Nothing, nothing and nobody, can ever take the place of personal thrift.

Sensible young people will think this through and try to keep out of paralyzing debt. They will follow the old - fashioned idea of Macawber that saving one penny out of each schilling means happiness, spending one penny over the schilling in hand spells misery. Nothing will change this. Nothing can. Only personal thrift, personal saving will give one the serene feeling of power, integrity, security

Only personal earnings, budgeting and thought will make working the joy it can be for the worker. Earn and save, even though society and government lend a helping hand.

Useful habits make happy living and add to the mind and character of a child. Dr. Patri explains how to encourage your child to be helpful in leaflet P-14 "Helpful Habits." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c-o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Peace Efforts By Dulles

Some American University which desires to give the nation a much needed chance to smile over the Suez canal dilemma, if only briefly, might think about giving Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the degree of M. I. — meaning Master of Improvisation.

In late November, 1952, when President - elect Eisenhower announced the first choice for his cabinet, his Secretary of State, quiet whispers were heard among trained U. S. diplomats that Dulles would undoubtedly run the department as he saw fit, because under a Democratic administration, on special diplomatic missions, he had learned how not to direct American state craft.

If this referred to any specific instance, it was the speech given by Secretary of State Dean Acheson in January, 1950, defining the U. S. Pacific defense area in terms which excluded Korea. Six months later, shortly after Dulles on a special mission to Seoul assured the Korean parliament that the U. S. would defend them if South Korea were attacked, the North Korean Reds invaded their free neighbor.

The situation then was that the Reds had eally called our bluff, made by Dulles and that President Truman had to fight or face a complete loss of U. S. prestige in all Asia. Dulles was given no more missions by the Democratic administration. He moved into the Eisenhower camp when it was being formed but didn't get far until Gov. Thomas E. Dewey told the President-elect that Dulles was really a Republican who understood diplomacy.

Now, almost four years later, the Eisenhower administration bases a major part of its campaign appeal on the peace which has been maintained since the end of the Korean war. The price, however, has been to give way before the Russian Communists in so many instances that millions of Americans have accepted the idea that peace can only be kept in that way.

Secretary Dulles has been kept out of the presidential campaign, supposedly because the President had said he did not want politics injected into our foreign affairs. Many observers here suspect that another reason is that whatever Dulles said would draw challenge from our enemies or criticism from some nominally friendly nations.

Few individuals in official life here would deny that the United States might be engaged in military action within a few months after the election, regardless of which party wins. Even President Eisennower's assertion that he would send no troops into combat without the approval of Congress offers no assurance, because the U. S. could well be in a position where its failure to fight would lose it the friendship of NATO allies, and Congress would have little alternative but to stand with the President, whether Eisenhower or Stevenson.

Newspapermen come away from Dulles' press conferences shaking their heads, for the indication that his replies are based on spur of the moment thinking is inescapable. The canal users' association idea, which Russia now feels free to treat with contempt, because the U. S. has no means left of enforcing any agreement, has been brought along slowly, so that if no agreement on Suez can be reached before election, at least the Dulles proposals will be pending.

Those who seem to derive some satisfaction from the fact that President Eisenhower, as a military man, commends great respect abroad do not take into account that his diplomatic experience has been extemely limited, and that the position of the U. S. against the Communists has weakened instead of strengthening since the conferences in Switzerland in the summer of 1955, which were hailed at the time as a great victory for Ike.

In the present crisis in the middle east, further complicated by American interest in Israel, surrounded by unfriendly Arabs, the United States has no statesman capable of taking hold and convincing Pesident Eisenhower that the U. S. is more likely to fumble its way into a major war under the Dulles improvisations than by taking a firm stand against a Communist world, which its leaders in Moscow are having too much difficulty holding together to risk a major conflict.

Game Preserves Closed For Hunting This Season

North Louisiana game preserves are out of bounds for hunters this season, a Wild Life Commission official told the Morning World last night.

Mel Washburn, of New Orleans, who is chief of the division of educational publicity of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, last night asked the public's cooperation in clarifying a "mixup" over controlled hunting in the Terzia and Singer game preserves.

The official explained that with the advent of hunting season Friday hunters had been going into the preserves under the misconception that they were "open."

The Terzia preserve, which is in the extreme western portion of Morehouse parish, was cited by Washburn. He also called attention to the famed Singer preserve in Tensas parish.

Morehouse parishes hunting season opened on schedule Friday, but Tensas closed its season because of the tinder-dry woodlands which could easily burst into a large-scale forest fire.

According to Washburn, the "mixup" was a result of the previous Wild Life administration's decisions. "Last spring, the national magazines were told by the fish and game division of the previous administration that public shooting would be allowed in the preserves this year," he said. Controlled shooting was allowed last year.

Washburn said that the new administration had been "unaware" that the public was still "misinformed" about the preserve hunting. "The new director has decided that these preserves should be closed to hunters," he declared.

The preserves were set up as incubators for game rather than for controlled hunting, he said. "There is no sense in setting up a game management area to protect and increase game, if by the time you get it underway, you let people come in and kill the animals," he asserted.

Washburn said the new commission's policy would be game-trapping of over-populated preserves in areas

Morehouse parish officials, he said, have been trying to reach all hunters to give them "fair warning" about the state's taboo on hunting on game preserves.

Officials will begin making arrests Monday of hunters found on the Terzia preserve, he added.

Washburn expressed appreciation for the assistance of North Louisiana officials, and asked for the public's cooperation in keeping the game preserves free of hunters.

Two Banks Give $2,500 Each To United Givers

The United Givers Fund announced a corporate gift of $2,500 from the Central Savings Bank and a similar gift from Ouachita National Bank. A $10,000 corporate gift from Olin Mathieson Corporation, Frostcraft Division, was announced earlier.

The Special Gifts division of the campaign has been working for several days and large firms solicitation will begin this week, Walter Kellogg, general chairman of the campaign, announced.

Three firms which have conducted the United Givers Fund campaign among their employees in advance of the regular campaign report excellent support. J. C. Penney Company employees signed up 100 per cent for the payroll deduction plan at that company. The corporate gift from the local Penney store was $500.

Ouachita National Bank reports that 97 per cent of its staff have pledged to support the Give Once For All drive through the payroll deduction plan. One hundred per cent of the staff of KNOE television and radio signed pledge cards for one hour's pay per month to the United campaign, making it the first group of employees to subscribe 100 per cent.

C. D. McAdams, chairman of the large firms division, announced that all larger firms in the parish would be contacted during the next several days in an effort to establish payroll deduction plans for support of the United Givers campaign.

McAdams stated that almost 100 firms have agreed to form a United Fund chapter within their companies.

Under this plan, only a single annual solicitation is held at each firm and a year-round payroll deduction plan is established for meeting pledges made by employees. The plan also contemplates contributions of at least an hour per month. Suggested gifts for higher salaried employes and executives is also recommended.

McAdams stated that this "represents their realization that adequate giving is needed from all working people this year to enable the Fund to meet its goal."

The goal is $189,000.

Leaders pointed out that all gifts to the United Givers Fund are deductible for tax purposes.

Campaign leaders urged use of the payroll deduction plan to enable contributors to make their donations in the easiest possible manner.

Since no house-to-house canvass will be made by the United Givers Fund nor any of its member agencies, particular stress is given to the chapter plan where every working person gives at his place of employment.

"My dear!" thundered the manager, "you surely won't sing with a veil on!" he asked.

"Of course I am," was the reply, "I want to hurry off as soon as I sing."

"Oh well," sighed the manager, "I can't help it if you just will strain your voice."

The past week had any number of activities in courts, parish and federal, and in lectureres of prominence here as well as many others but the city hall saw more activity than probably ever before in several days time. First the activities of one of the city commissions, that of streets and parks was cut down badly; that official, Wayne Huckaby, resigned during the day, and his resignation was accepted by the governor and W. D. H. Rodriguez was named to the vacant office. All this in slightly more than 24 hours time.

Close on the heels of this new re-adjustment, Mr. Huckaby was named by the governor to the job which places him at the head of highways in the Fifth district, by governmental action.

We have witnessed more than 30 years in this city but never before were there so many changes in the short space of a few hours' time.

Over in West Monroe Mayor J. Allan Norris is calling an open meeting on October 30 in the city hall over there, when the voters of the city can meet and discuss plans for or against the sewerage bond issued that has been desired.

The mayor desires to have a good cross section of the wishes of the people, the ones who must pay the bills eventually.

Governor J. P. Coleman headed the Jackson delegation of 80 persons who went to Washington, D. C. for the ceremony.

The Y. W. C. A. Open House is set for Wednesday October 24 from 7 to 10 p.m. for an open house.

A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the great work the "Y" is doing to be with them and participate in the fellowship of the organization. A new work year is dawning and all can expect great progress in the months to come.

Bulganin Note Urges Immediate Bans On H-Bomb

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin has proposed to President Eisenhower an immediate U.S.-Soviet agreement to ban H-bomb tests, Moscow radio said tonight.

Bulganin used an argument advanced by Democrat Adlai Stevenson in the U.S. presidential campaign that violation of such an agreement is impossible because science now can detect atomic tests anywhere.

"I hope you will agree," Bulganin said in a letter to Eisenhower "that should such agreement be reached on this matter there will be no particular difficulty in supervising its execution since wth the present state of science no atomic or hydrogen explosion can be carried out without it being recorded in other countries."

President Eisenhower has taken the position there must be adequate inspection safegards before the United States enters into any Soviet Union.

The proposal was in a letter Bulganin sent Eisenhower Wednesday.

The letter said Bulganin had in mind "the question of atomic weapons and notably of the tests of these weapons."

The letter, which was handed to Secretary of State Dulles in Washington, said such a discussion "is apt to take the form of polemics in the United States today as the election is going on."

Bulganin added that, "In some instances, official pronouncements are giving evidence of manifest misrepresentation of the Soviet Union's policy on these matters."

"This is, unfortunately, particularly true of the statements made by Mr. Dulles, who is not stopping short of direct attacks on the Soviet Union and her peace-striving foreign policy," the letter said.

"But since we have failed so far to reach any agreement on the question of atomic weapons," he added, "it appears advisable to try and weigh the available opportunities once more so as to take a step forward toward reaching agreement on the prohibition of atomic weapons."

Egypt Claims New Suez Talks Slated October 29; Britain, France In Denial

CAIRO, Oct. 20 (AP)—An Egyptian government official said today preliminary talks on the Suez Canal dispute will open in Geneva Monday, Oct. 29.

(France and Britain promptly torpedoed the announcement. The French called it probably a "trial balloon" and the British declared 'no arrangements have been made for" such a meeting. At U.N. headquarters in New York officials would only say: "No comment.")

The Egyptian official, who asked that he not be quoted by name, told Egyptian reporters his government probably would be represented by the same delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Mahmound Fawzi, which presented Egypt's case in recent U.N. Security Council debate.

The Council adopted six principles as a basis of settlement of the dispute provoked by Egypt's nationalization of the Suez on July 26. These dealt with guarantees of freedom of navigation through the 103-mile waterway, insulating the canal from political control of any nation, and with tolls and improvement of the canal.

Fawzi, homeward bound after the Council meeting in New York, stopped off today in Geneva and conferred with the Egyptian ambassadors to France and Britain. The latter flew to Geneva to fill him in on the latest developments

Asked about the possibility of the meeting in Geneva of the foreign ministers of Egypt, France and Britain, Fawzi said the "time and place have not been agreed upon." Asked if it had been agreed to hold such a meeting, Fawzi declined comment.

India's foreign affairs expert, V. K. Khrishna Menon, had a 90-minute meeting with Egyptian President Nasser. Menon told reporters he 'put various plans for consideration" to Nasser. "It is up to the parties concerned to decide whether these plans are successful or not," he said.

In Liverpool, England, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told a Conservative party meeting Egypt has made no response to the Security Council resolution asking it to make proposals for settlement of the canal dispute.

The United Givers Fund announced a corporate gift of $2,500 from the Central Savings Bank and a similar gift from Ouachita National Bank. A $10,000 corporate gift from Olin Mathieson Corporation, Frostcraft Division, was announced earlier.

The Special Gifts division of the campaign has been working for several days and large firms solicitation will begin this week, Walter Kellogg, general chairman of the campaign, announced.

Three firms which have conducted the United Givers Fund campaign among their employees in advance of the regular campaign report excellent support. J. C. Penney Company employees signed up 100 per cent for the payroll deduction plan at that company. The corporate gift from the local Penney store was $500.

Ouachita National Bank reports that 97 per cent of its staff have pledged to support the Give Once For All drive through the payroll deduction plan. One hundred per cent of the staff of KNOE television and radio signed pledge cards for one hour's pay per month to the United campaign, making it the first group of employees to subscribe 100 per cent.

C. D. McAdams, chairman of the large firms division, announced that all larger firms in the parish would be contacted during the next several days in an effort to establish payroll deduction plans for support of the United Givers campaign.

McAdams stated that almost 100 firms have agreed to form a United Fund chapter within their companies.

Under this plan, only a single annual solicitation is held at each firm and a year-round payroll deduction plan is established for meeting pledges made by employees. The plan also contemplates contributions of at least an hour per month. Suggested gifts for higher salaried employes and executives is also recommended.

McAdams stated that this "represents their realization that adequate giving is needed from all working people this year to enable the Fund to meet its goal."

The goal is $189,000.

Leaders pointed out that all gifts to the United Givers Fund are deductible for tax purposes.

Campaign leaders urged use of the payroll deduction plan to enable contributors to make their donations in the easiest possible manner.

Since no house-to-house canvass will be made by the United Givers Fund nor any of its member agencies, particular stress is given to the chapter plan where every working person gives at his place of employment.

"My dear!" thundered the manager, "you surely won't sing with a veil on!" he asked.

"Of course I am," was the reply, "I want to hurry off as soon as I sing."

The past week had any number of activities in courts, parish and federal, and in lectureres of prominence here as well as many others but the city hall saw more activity than probably ever before in several days time. First the activities of one of the city commissions, that of streets and parks was cut down badly; that official, Wayne Huckaby, resigned during the day, and his resignation was accepted by the governor and W. D. H. Rodriguez was named to the vacant office. All this in slightly more than 24 hours time.

Close on the heels of this new re-adjustment, Mr. Huckaby was named by the governor to the job which places him at the head of highways in the Fifth district, by governmental action.

Bulganin Note Urges Immediate Bans On H-Bomb

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin has proposed to President Eisenhower an immediate U.S.-Soviet agreement to ban H-bomb tests, Moscow radio said tonight.

Bulganin used an argument advanced by Democrat Adlai Stevenson in the U.S. presidential campaign that violation of such an agreement is impossible because science now can detect atomic tests anywhere.

"I hope you will agree," Bulganin said in a letter to Eisenhower "that should such agreement be reached on this matter there will be no particular difficulty in supervising its execution since wth the present state of science no atomic or hydrogen explosion can be carried out without it being recorded in other countries."

President Eisenhower has taken the position there must be adequate inspection safegards before the United States enters into any Soviet Union.

The proposal was in a letter Bulganin sent Eisenhower Wednesday.

The letter said Bulganin had in mind "the question of atomic weapons and notably of the tests of these weapons."

The letter, which was handed to Secretary of State Dulles in Washington, said such a discussion "is apt to take the form of polemics in the United States today as the election is going on."

Bulganin added that, "In some instances, official pronouncements are giving evidence of manifest misrepresentation of the Soviet Union's policy on these matters."

"This is, unfortunately, particularly true of the statements made by Mr. Dulles, who is not stopping short of direct attacks on the Soviet Union and her peace-striving foreign policy," the letter said.

"But since we have failed so far to reach any agreement on the question of atomic weapons," he added, "it appears advisable to try and weigh the available opportunities once more so as to take a step forward toward reaching agreement on the prohibition of atomic weapons."

Egypt Claims New Suez Talks Slated October 29; Britain, France In Denial

CAIRO, Oct. 20 (AP)—An Egyptian government official said today preliminary talks on the Suez Canal dispute will open in Geneva Monday, Oct. 29.

(France and Britain promptly torpedoed the announcement. The French called it probably a "trial balloon" and the British declared 'no arrangements have been made for" such a meeting. At U.N. headquarters in New York officials would only say: "No comment.")

The Egyptian official, who asked that he not be quoted by name, told Egyptian reporters his government probably would be represented by the same delegation, headed by Foreign Minister Mahmound Fawzi, which presented Egypt's case in recent U.N. Security Council debate.

The Council adopted six principles as a basis of settlement of the dispute provoked by Egypt's nationalization of the Suez on July 26. These dealt with guarantees of freedom of navigation through the 103-mile waterway, insulating the canal from political control of any nation, and with tolls and improvement of the canal.

Fawzi, homeward bound after the Council meeting in New York, stopped off today in Geneva and conferred with the Egyptian ambassadors to France and Britain. The latter flew to Geneva to fill him in on the latest developments

Asked about the possibility of the meeting in Geneva of the foreign ministers of Egypt, France and Britain, Fawzi said the "time and place have not been agreed upon." Asked if it had been agreed to hold such a meeting, Fawzi declined comment.

India's foreign affairs expert, V. K. Khrishna Menon, had a 90-minute meeting with Egyptian President Nasser. Menon told reporters he 'put various plans for consideration" to Nasser. "It is up to the parties concerned to decide whether these plans are successful or not," he said.

In Liverpool, England, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told a Conservative party meeting Egypt has made no response to the Security Council resolution asking it to make proposals for settlement of the canal dispute.

Why Grow Old?

Tenseness is an enemy of beauty in all forms . . . it will put wrinkles in our faces and knots in our personalities.

Develop The Light Touch: Don't Worry And Tense Up

Tenseness is an enemy of beauty in all forms. Relaxation of the body is an essential to physical loveliness while relaxation of the spirit is an ally of charm. Kefauver Lashes GOP On Issue Of H-Bomb Threats

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Oct. 20 (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver warned Saturday that continued H-bomb tests could contaminate the world's food supply, cause bone cancer "and even twist and deform the bodies of the unborn children of tomorrow."

The Democratic vice presidential candidate painted a grim picture of possible world "suicide" in remarks prepared for a national television broadcast from Los Angeles.

"A distinguished nuclear scientist says that fragments of the debris from these H-bomb tests already are showing up in the bones of people all over the world," Kefauver said.

"We are talking about the survival of the human race.

"Can anything be done about it?" he asked.

"The Eisenhower-Nixon administration says no, not right now," he said.

"They offer us no hope, We say there is hope," Kefauver said. "We say stop them now."

Using films of H-bomb explosions for emphasis, Kefauver cited Pope Pius XII, Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray and professor Milton Burton, head of Notre Dame's atomic laboratories, to support his stand.

Kefauver, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, insisted "we can stop these tests and still maintain our atomic superiority."

"We can stop these tests and still keep on stock piling these H-bombs to halt aggression," he said.

Kefauver said that Mr. Eisenhower's disarmament aide, Harold E. Stassen, "has told us that within a year the secret of making the H-bomb will spread all around the world."

State Employe Security Probe To Be Resumed

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 20—(UP) Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa said today his legislative committee will resume its investigation Monday into operations of the Louisiana Employment Security Division.

The committee is checking reports that the division from 1950-55 showed favoritism to some employers in the collection of payroll taxes.

Taxes collected from employers are used for unemployment compensation payments.

Earlier this year, a state audit and a confidential federal report both pointed to irregularities in the division. The audit said the tax delinquency rate was very high. The federal report said thousands of workers may have lost benefit rights due to a lax tax collection program.

Rayburn, with House and Senate committee members, are checking records and interviewing personnel in the division.

He said they will also check charges that former members of the division used state and federal documents for private gain. Alleged excessive rebates to some companies will be checked, he said.

The division, half federal and half state, has undergone a federal investigation, but full findings were never announced.

'Kenya Tummy' Hits Princess On Visit In Nairobi

NAIROBI, Kenya, Oct. 20 (UP) —Britain's Princess Margaret suffered a stomach upset known locally as "Kenya tummy" Saturday and had to skip a civic lunch in this African colony capital.

"The indisposition is temporary only," said the director of Kenya medical services, Dr. Anderson Farnsworth.

Crowds lined the streets outside the New Stanley Hotel waiting for the visiting princess to arrive for the lunch. Sir Evelyn Baring, governor of Kenya, read a formal announcement to disappointed guests.

"In returning from her morning engagements today her royal highness felt ill," it explained, Dr. Anderson had advised her not to attend the lunch.

Earlier the 26-year-old princess had presented colors and a shield to the colony's Olympic team and had visited a housing project.

An official spokesman said later the princess was suffering from "a slight gastric upset, a common complaint among visitors to Nairobi.

Doctors Hold Hope For Retired General

FT. BENNING, Ga., Oct. 20 (AP) —Doctors are reported optimistic today about the condition of Lt. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, retired, who underwent major surgery Thursday for an undisclosed illness.

The 66-year-old general heads Alabama's planning and industrial board. He is the former chief of U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Capt. Ralph W Stieglitz, a base public information officer, said Ft. Benning doctors reported Pick "coming along fine."

Cotton Futures Continuing On Trek Downward

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Cotton futures prices continued on the downward path this week.

With the exception of October 1956 which went off the board Monday, all deliveries finished in lower ground. Net losses for active futures contracts on the New York Exchange ranged from 65 cents to $2.20 a bale.

Continued weakness of the market was ascribed in part to increased hedge selling and to expectations that a considerable amount of unhedged cotton might come on the market soon. The decline was hastened by uncovering of stop-loss orders.

The downtrend was held in check, however, by short covering and trade price fixing and by continuing prospect of a tight free cotton supply later in the season.

Traders took note of a Census Bureau report Friday on domestic consumption of the staple. In the period from Aug. 26 to Sept. 29, mills used an average of 32,900 bales a day. This compared with an average daily rate of 34,300 in August and 35,000 in September last year. This was the fourth in a row the daily consumption rate had fallen below year-ago levels. It was also noted the decline from August was 4.1 per cent as against an average decline of only 2.6 per cent for the same period in recent years.

For the first two months of the current season, consumption totals 1,508,000 bales. This compares with 1,591,000 bales for the first two months of the previous season.

After close of the market Friday, the Commodity Credit Corporation reported it had sold 467,000 bales of upland cotton for export against bids opened Oct. 16. The average price for basis middling 1-inch staple was 26.29 cents a pound, the same as for the CCC's Oct. 2 sale. So far the CCC has disposed of 4,634,000 bales of cotton under its emergency export program which got under way last April.

Exports of U.S. lint cotton in the week ended Tueday were estimated by the New York cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 77,000 bales. This compared with 119,000 the previous week and 49,000 in the like week last year. Exports for the season through Tuesday were estimated at 848,000 bales vs. only 295,000 at approximately the same time last season.

Chicago American Sold To Tribune

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (UP)—The Chicago Tribune and the Hearst Publishing Company Saturday night announced the sale of the Chicago American and Chicago Sunday American to the Tribune.

An announcement appearing in the Tribune's Sunday morning edition and in the American's mid-afternoon edition told of the purchase, but no price was announced.

The Tribune statement said the Tribune company bought the "franchises, assets and good will of the Chicago American and the Chicago Sunday American."

Stock Market Slips On Average In Near Standoff

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The stock market slipped a little on average this week but it was virtually a standoff. As of noon yesterday, the average was a shade above last week's close.

Stock market analysts said the market was undergoing consolidation. Others said investors were staying on the sidelines awaiting some good firm clue about the election.

On all sides, it was agreed that the market should have a rally—either before the election or just after it.

A growing assumption was that President Eisenhower would win. Apparently not enough confidence—prevailed for any heavy buying of stocks to take advantage of the general rally his success presumably would bring.

The Associated Press Average was down 30 cents on the week to $179.70. The rail component of the average rose $2.80.

Some heavily traded issues and their prices changes this week were New York Central up 2; U.S. Steel off T; Bethlehem Steel up 1⅛, and Chrysler off 1⅝.

The five most active stocks were Standard Oil NJ off 1⅜ at 54, Georgia-Pacific off ⅞ at 31½; American Telephone up 1⅜ at 169½; Columbia Gas up ¼ at 17; and General Motors, off 1¼ at 46¾.

Serving Free Beer In Schools Legal, Says Jefferson DA

LAFITTE, La., Oct. 20—UP—Jefferson parish District Attorney Frank Langridge said today the serving of beer at a rally held in a public school last night by Sheriff William Coci was not a violation of state law.

Langridge pointed out that state law only prohibits the sale of "liquor" within 100 yards of a school or church but apparently contains no provision against the serving of beer free inside a school.

Loney J. Austin, president of the Jefferson school board, took part in the meeting called by Coci to combat a recall movement started over gambling charges. He said today the beer actually was served outside on the school grounds but that some persons brought it inside to their tables.

He said, "It's not the proper thing to do, speaking as a general principal, to serve it in school." Autin said he did not authorize the bringing of the beer inside.

"But in Lafitte, the school building is the only adequate place for a big meeting," he said.

Kefauver Lashes GOP On Issue Of H-Bomb Threats

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Oct. 20 (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver warned Saturday that continued H-bomb tests could contaminate the world's food supply, cause bone cancer "and even twist and deform the bodies of the unborn children of tomorrow."

The Democratic vice presidential candidate painted a grim picture of possible world "suicide" in remarks prepared for a national television broadcast from Los Angeles.

"A distinguished nuclear scientist says that fragments of the debris from these H-bomb tests already are showing up in the bones of people all over the world," Kefauver said.

"We are talking about the survival of the human race.

"Can anything be done about it?" he asked.

"The Eisenhower-Nixon administration says no, not right now," he said.

"They offer us no hope, We say there is hope," Kefauver said. "We say stop them now."

Using films of H-bomb explosions for emphasis, Kefauver cited Pope Pius XII, Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray and professor Milton Burton, head of Notre Dame's atomic laboratories, to support his stand.

Kefauver, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, insisted "we can stop these tests and still maintain our atomic superiority."

"We can stop these tests and still keep on stock piling these H-bombs to halt aggression," he said.

Kefauver said that Mr. Eisenhower's disarmament aide, Harold E. Stassen, "has told us that within a year the secret of making the H-bomb will spread all around the world."

State Employe Security Probe To Be Resumed

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 20—(UP) Sen. B. B. Rayburn of Bogalusa said today his legislative committee will resume its investigation Monday into operations of the Louisiana Employment Security Division.

The committee is checking reports that the division from 1950-55 showed favoritism to some employers in the collection of payroll taxes.

Taxes collected from employers are used for unemployment compensation payments.

Earlier this year, a state audit and a confidential federal report both pointed to irregularities in the division. The audit said the tax delinquency rate was very high. The federal report said thousands of workers may have lost benefit rights due to a lax tax collection program.

Rayburn, with House and Senate committee members, are checking records and interviewing personnel in the division.

He said they will also check charges that former members of the division used state and federal documents for private gain. Alleged excessive rebates to some companies will be checked, he said.

The division, half federal and half state, has undergone a federal investigation, but full findings were never announced.

'Kenya Tummy' Hits Princess On Visit In Nairobi

NAIROBI, Kenya, Oct. 20 (UP) —Britain's Princess Margaret suffered a stomach upset known locally as "Kenya tummy" Saturday and had to skip a civic lunch in this African colony capital.

"The indisposition is temporary only," said the director of Kenya medical services, Dr. Anderson Farnsworth.

Crowds lined the streets outside the New Stanley Hotel waiting for the visiting princess to arrive for the lunch. Sir Evelyn Baring, governor of Kenya, read a formal announcement to disappointed guests.

"In returning from her morning engagements today her royal highness felt ill," it explained, Dr. Anderson had advised her not to attend the lunch.

Earlier the 26-year-old princess had presented colors and a shield to the colony's Olympic team and had visited a housing project.

An official spokesman said later the princess was suffering from "a slight gastric upset, a common complaint among visitors to Nairobi.

Cotton Futures Continuing On Trek Downward

With the exception of October 1956 which went off the board Monday, all deliveries finished in lower ground. Net losses for active futures contracts on the New York Exchange ranged from 65 cents to $2.20 a bale.

Continued weakness of the market was ascribed in part to increased hedge selling and to expectations that a considerable amount of unhedged cotton might come on the market soon. The decline was hastened by uncovering of stop-loss orders.

The downtrend was held in check, however, by short covering and trade price fixing and by continuing prospect of a tight free cotton supply later in the season.

Traders took note of a Census Bureau report Friday on domestic consumption of the staple. In the period from Aug. 26 to Sept. 29, mills used an average of 32,900 bales a day. This compared with an average daily rate of 34,300 in August and 35,000 in September last year. This was the fourth in a row the daily consumption rate had fallen below year-ago levels. It was also noted the decline from August was 4.1 per cent as against an average decline of only 2.6 per cent for the same period in recent years.

For the first two months of the current season, consumption totals 1,508,000 bales. This compares with 1,591,000 bales for the first two months of the previous season.

After close of the market Friday, the Commodity Credit Corporation reported it had sold 467,000 bales of upland cotton for export against bids opened Oct. 16. The average price for basis middling 1-inch staple was 26.29 cents a pound, the same as for the CCC's Oct. 2 sale. So far the CCC has disposed of 4,634,000 bales of cotton under its emergency export program which got under way last April.

Exports of U.S. lint cotton in the week ended Tueday were estimated by the New York cotton Exchange Service Bureau at 77,000 bales. This compared with 119,000 the previous week and 49,000 in the like week last year. Exports for the season through Tuesday were estimated at 848,000 bales vs. only 295,000 at approximately the same time last seasou.

Stock Market Slips On Average In Near Standoff

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The stock market slipped a little on average this week but it was virtually a standoff. As of noon yesterday, the average was a shade above last week's close.

Stock market analysts said the market was undergoing consolidation. Others said investors were staying on the sidelines awaiting some good firm clue about the election.

On all sides, it was agreed that the market should have a rally —either before the election or just after it.

A growing assumption was that President Eisenhower would win. Apparently not enough confidence —prevailed for any heavy buying of stocks to take advantage of the general rally his success presumably would bring.

The Associated Press Average was down 30 cents on the week to $179.70. The rail component of the average rose $2.80.

Some heavily traded issues and their prices changes this week were New York Central up 2; U.S. Steel off T; Bethlehem Steel up 1⅛, and Chrysler off 1⅜.

The five most active stocks were Standard Oil NJ off 1⅜ at 54, Georgia-Pacific off ⅞ at 31½; American Telephone up 1⅜ at 169½; Columbia Gas up ¼ at 17; and General Motors, off 1¼ at 46¾.

Serving Free Beer In Schools Legal, Says Jefferson DA

LAFITTE, La., Oct. 20—UP—Jefferson parish District Attorney Frank Langridge said today the serving of beer at a rally held in a public school last night by Sheriff William Coci was not a violation of state law.

Langridge pointed out that state law only prohibits the sale of "liquor" within 100 yards of a school or church but apparently contains no provision against the serving of beer free inside a school.

Loney J. Austin, president of the Jefferson school board, took part in the meeting called by Coci to combat a recall movement started over gambling charges. He said today the beer actually was served outside on the school grounds but that some persons brought it inside to their tables.

He said, "It's not the proper thing to do, speaking as a general principal, to serve it in school." Autin said he did not authorize the bringing of the beer inside.

"But in Lafitte, the school building is the only adequate place for a big meeting," he said.

Truman Says President's Vision 'Warped, Twisted'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—Former President Truman charged Saturday that President Eisenhower has a "warped and twisted" vision which is "dominated by the interests of the few who control our great financial and industrial organizations."

Mr. Truman, self-styled "No. 1 precinct captain" of the Democrats, also took some sharp cuts at Vice President Richard M. Nixon in a give-em-hell speech before cheering Democrats here.

When anyone looks at Nixon with the rose - colored glasses used by the Republicans, he said, an "amazing" thing happens. "He looks as clean as a hound's tooth and every inch a statesman. He has little Lord Fauntleroy clothes and wears a halo."

Mr. Truman had warm praise for Adlai E. Stevenson, the man he opposed for the party's presidential nomination. He called him a "leader of discernment, wisdom and courage" and predicted he will sweep to victory next month.

The former president spoke at a $100-a-plate dinner which helped mark the kickoff of a "17 days to victory" drive. He also delivered a pep talk over a closed television circuit which carried the word of party leaders to similar Democratic dinners all over the country.

In his pre-television address, Mr. Truman said the "greatest mystery of these last few years is why Mr. Eisenhower cannot see the distress of the farmer. The housewife, the small businessmen."

"It seemed incredible to me that he should be doing so little about our school problem, about high taxes, and hard money and the cost of doctors' bills and hospital bills. . ."

But Mr. Truman said the answer seems to be rose-colored glasses which, he said, the Republicans have been using to view America's problems at home and abroad.

Through these glasses, he said, Nixon looks like a statesman and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., "looks like an attorney general . . .instead of what he really is." And he said Former Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott, who resigned under congressional fire for writing business letters on Air Force stationery, "looks like a fellow who deserves a medal" and "you can't see any corruption at all."

'Hospitality' Is Key To Success In Hotel, Hilton Says

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20 —UP— World famous hotel-owner Conrad Hilton stressed "hospitality" as the keynote of a successful hotel here today in an address which was read to the more than 1,000 members of the American Hotel Association convention.

His speech was delivered for him by Fred Joyce, manager of Hilton's Chicago hotel.

He urged hotelmen to be "true keepers of the inn" by having room enough for everyone—especially at Christmas time. "Let no one in your community go hungry or alone at Christmas," he said, and asked that hotels everywhere celebrate the holiday nationally in the true spirit.

Earl M. Johnson, Chicago and Houghton Lake, Michigan, was elected president of the association today, succeeding Lester W. Carter of Billings, Mont., who became chairman of the board.

Cleveland was chosen as the 1957 convention city on Nov. 8-10.

East Carroll Cotton Harvest Tops 1955 Figure

Jesse Johnson, manager of the local compress, states that a total of 18,200 bales of cotton have been stored to date, in comparison with 15,500 at the same time last year.

A large number of mechanical pickers are being used throughout the parish causing the gins to have to run 24 hours per day, seven days per week, in order to keep up.

The dry, sunshiny weather has caused the cotton to open at a rapid pace and facilitated the harvest.

Missouri Pacific

he expressed some doubts about the ability of railroads to survive as private enterprises unless some change is made in the government's regulatory transportation policy in the near future.

The most pressing problem confronting railroads Neff said is the "inability of the carriers to price their products to meet constantly changing market conditions like other industries do." The railroads in the north, east and west have asked the interstate commerce commission for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates to meet higher costs, but Neff pointed out "it will be after the first of the year before the commission can hear the application, and, by that time, the industry . . . will be faced with awards for higher wages and other fringe benefits by emergency boards . . . Each one cent an hour wage increase costs the Mo. Pac about $1 million annually," he said.

Another governmental handicap under which the railroad labors, according to Neff is the "refusal of the commission to permit the railroads to meet the rates of the government subsidized barge competition even when rail rates are proven to be compensatory."

"We are not trying to put truck and barges out of business," the railroad executive pointed out, "but we do feel we should be given the opportunity to compete price-wise with other forms of transportation and, thus, give shippers the opportunity to choose the type of service that best meets their needs."

Neff was hopeful that bills introduced by the congress convening about "measure of equality in tranportation" would be re-introduced by the congress convening in January.

Missouri Pacific is keeping abreast of the handling of trucks by train from two angles. "First," he said, "we have the demountable trailer type whereby only the body or container itself is transported in any open top freight car. This service is available only to and from stations on the Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific and gantry cranes needed for lifting the container from the truck chassis and depositing it in freight cars have been or are in the process of being installed at certain key points on the two systems. Monroe, Memphis, New Orleans, Little Rock, St. Louis, Kansas City, Houston and San Antonio are among the seventeen places where these cranes will operate. Distribution from crane locations is made by tractors operated by the railroads' highway - truck subsidiaries.

"In the second type of service the entire trailer is transported on flat cars which have been especially equipped for this type of service. In this trailer - on - flat car type of service Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific are joining with certain railroads operating to and from the east and north to provide interline service. As other railroads in other sections of the country make the service available Missouri Pacific will expand its field of operation to include these new areas.

The president and his party were met in Monroe by D. T. Barsdale, superintendent; M. E. Picket, division freight and passenger agent, and other local officials from Monroe.

Site Accepted For Delta Area Vocational School

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 20 (Special) —The Louisiana Board of Education Saturday approved a site offered by the City of Monroe for the establishment of the Delta Area Vocational school (for Negroes) near the Monroe Negro High School.

The board announced that the city's land was chosen over another tract of land offered by a developer, R. D. Kellogg, southeast of Monroe. The site selected was considered more accessable.

George T. Madison, board member from Bastrop, said the board had been in the unusual situation of having two "very suitable sites" offered free for the establishment of the school.

The seven - acre tract near the high school would be separate from the high school but close enough for classes between the two schools. In addition the city site was chosen because the other location would entail a greater transportation problem.

The board accepted the site and authorized board President Curry to sign a deed after working out the necessary arrangements for transferring the property.

Today marked the first time the board has ever met in Shreveport. They met here in connection with the opening of the State Fair.

In other action the board named Earl Lee Hammett coordinator of Ouachita Valley Trade School, replacing Joe Oswalt who was recently named director of Minden Trade School.

Truman Says President's Vision 'Warped, Twisted'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—Former President Truman charged Saturday that President Eisenhower has a "warped and twisted" vision which is "dominated by the interests of the few who control our great financial and industrial organizations."

Mr. Truman, self-styled "No. 1 precinct captain" of the Democrats, also took some sharp cuts at Vice President Richard M. Nixon in a give-em-hell speech before cheering Democrats here.

When anyone looks at Nixon with the rose - colored glasses used by the Republicans, he said, an "amazing" thing happens. "He looks as clean as a hound's tooth and every inch a statesman. He has little Lord Fauntleroy clothes and wears a halo."

Mr. Truman had warm praise for Adlai E. Stevenson, the man he opposed for the party's presidential nomination. He called him a "leader of discernment, wisdom and courage" and predicted he will sweep to victory next month.

The former president spoke at a $100-a-plate dinner which helped mark the kickoff of a "17 days to victory" drive. He also delivered a pep talk over a closed television circuit which carried the word of party leaders to similar Democratic dinners all over the country.

In his pre-television address, Mr. Truman said the "greatest mystery of these last few years is why Mr. Eisenhower cannot see the distress of the farmer. The housewife, the small businessmen."

"It seemed incredible to me that he should be doing so little about our school problem, about high taxes, and hard money and the cost of doctors' bills and hospital bills. . ."

But Mr. Truman said the answer seems to be rose-colored glasses which, he said, the Republicans have been using to view America's problems at home and abroad.

Through these glasses, he said, Nixon looks like a statesman and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Jr., "looks like an attorney general . . .instead of what he really is." And he said Former Air Force Secretary Harold E. Talbott, who resigned under congressional fire for writing business letters on Air Force stationery, "looks like a fellow who deserves a medal" and "you can't see any corruption at all."

'Hospitality' Is Key To Success In Hotel, Hilton Says

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20 —UP—World famous hotel-owner Conrad Hilton stressed "hospitality" as the keynote of a successful hotel here today in an address which was read to the more than 1,000 members of the American Hotel Association convention.

His speech was delivered for him by Fred Joyce, manager of Hilton's Chicago hotel.

He urged hotelmen to be "true keepers of the inn" by having room enough for everyone—especially at Christmas time. "Let no one in your community go hungry or alone at Christmas," he said, and asked that hotels everywhere celebrate the holiday nationally in the true spirit.

Earl M. Johnson, Chicago and Houghton Lake, Michigan, was elected president of the association today, succeeding Lester W. Carter of Billings, Mont., who became chairman of the board.

Cleveland was chosen as the 1957 convention city on Nov. 8-10.

East Carroll Cotton Harvest Tops 1955 Figure

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 20 (Special) — Prospects for the cotton harvest in East Carroll parish are looming larger each day as more and more cotton is being stored in the federal compress. Jesse Johnson, manager of the local compress, states that a total of 18,200 bales of cotton have been stored to date, in comparison with 15,500 at the same time last year.

A large number of mechanical pickers are being used throughout the parish causing the gins to have to run 24 hours per day, seven days per week, in order to keep up.

The dry, sunshiny weather has caused the cotton to open at a rapid pace and facilitated the harvest.

he expressed some doubts about the ability of railroads to survive as private enterprises unless some change is made in the government's regulatory transportation policy in the near future.

The most pressing problem confronting railroads Neff said is the "inability of the carriers to price their products to meet constantly changing market conditions like other industries do." The railroads in the north, east and west have asked the interstate commerce commission for a 15 per cent increase in freight rates to meet higher costs, bu' Neff pointed out "it will be after the first of the year before the commission can hear the application, and, by that time, the industry . . . will be faced with awards for higher wages and other fringe benefits by emergency boards . . . Each one cent an hour wage increase costs the Mo. Pac about $1 million annually," he said.

Another governmental handicap under which the railroad labors, according to Neff is the "refusal of the commission to permit the railroads to meet the rates of the government subsidized barge competition even when rail rates are proven to be compensatory."

"We are not trying to put truck and barges out of business," the railroad executive pointed out, "but we do feel we should be given the opportunity to compete price-wise with other forms of transportation and, thus, give shippers the opportunity to choose the type of service that best meets their needs."

Neff was hopeful that bills introduced by the congress convening about "measure of equality in tranportation" would be re-introduced by the congress convening in January.

Missouri Pacific is keeping abreast of the handling of trucks by train from two angles. "First," he said, "we have the demountable trailer type whereby only the body or container itself is transported in any open top freight car. This service is available only to and from stations on the Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific and gantry cranes needed for lifting the container from the truck chassis and depositing it in freight cars have been or are in the process of being installed at certain key points on the two systems. Monroe, Memphis, New Orleans, Little Rock, St. Louis, Kansas City, Houston and San Antonio are among the seventeen places where these cranes will operate. Distribution from crane locations is made by tractors operated by the railroads' highway - truck subsidiaries.

"In the second type of service the entire trailer is transported on flat cars which have been especially equipped for this type of service. In this trailer - on - flat car type of service Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific are joining with certain railroads operating to and from the east and north to provide interline service. As other railroads in other sections of the country make the service available Missouri Pacific will expand its field of operation to include these new areas.

The president and his party were met in Monroe by D. T. Barsdale, superintendent; M. E. Picket, division freight and passenger agent, and other local officials from Monroe.

Site Accepted For Delta Area Vocational School

SHREVEPORT, Oct. 20 (Special) —The Louisiana Board of Education Saturday approved a site offered by the City of Monroe for the establishment of the Delta Area Vocational school (for Negroes) near the Monroe Negro High School.

The board announced that the city's land was chosen over another tract of land offered by a developer, R. D. Kellogg, southeast of Monroe. The site selected was considered more accessable.

George T. Madison, board member from Bastrop, said the board had been in the unusual situation of having two "very suitable sites" offered free for the establishment of the school.

The seven - acre tract near the high school would be separate from the high school but close enough for classes between the two schools. In addition the city site was chosen because the other location would entail a greater transportation problem.

The board accepted the site and authorized board President Curry to sign a deed after working out the necessary arrangements for transferring the property.

Today marked the first time the board has ever met in Shreveport. They met here in connection with the opening of the State Fair.

In other action the board named Earl Lee Hammett coordinator of Ouachita Valley Trade School, replacing Joe Oswalt who was recently named director of Minden Trade School.

Week In Finance

Business Activity Sets Record Pace During Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Business activity set a record pace this week despite materials shortages, rising prices and tight credit.

Interest focused on Detroit.

After months of slow production in the auto factories, things were beginning to hum again. Virtually all the markers were rolling out their 1957 models, and for some the outpouring of rakish long sedans and hardtops began to assume the proportions of a flood.

Chevrolet planned to turn out 32,000 of its new models this week; Ford set a production goal of 29,000. The 1957 model race was on.

Never had the auto industry offered so much in the way of style, color, gadgetry and horsepower. People crowding into dealers' showrooms for a look at the low-slung jobs with the upswept tail fins found prices anywhere from $70 to $300 higher. But, auto sales chiefs said, the brash newness of the 1957 cars should easily overcome price resistance.

Biggest problem confronting the auto makers was availability of steel. Steel output was being pushed to the hilt even before Detroit started making its 1957 models; builders of schools, factories, freight cars, oil tankers and superhighways had long been clamoring for hard-to-get steel. A sudden burst of ordering by the auto manufacturers was expected to add to an already badly confused situation.

With mone orders on their books than they could possibly fill, steel markers this week scheduled their operations at 101.7 per cent of capacity—a rate calculated to result in production of more than 2½ million tons.

Business was humming, too, in such varied lines as railroad freight traffic, textiles and retail trade.

The stock market, still awaiting the outcome of the November elections, managed to stage a half-hearted rally after several days of decline. Steels and rails led the advance. Trading was very much on the light side, indicating lack of participation by the public.

Credit remained tight this week and there was every indication it would stay that way for as far ahead as you could see. The Bank of Canada raised the interest rate it charges on loans to commercial banks. The move stirred immediate speculation about the possibility of similar action by the Federal Reserve here at home. Last time the Bank of Canada raised its discount rate—in August 1956—the U. S. Federal Reserve hiked rates the very next week. The rate currently charged by the Federal Reserve is 3 per cent. The Bank of Canada, which had been charging 3¼ per cent, moved up to 3½.

While tight credit was expected to exert a continued braking influence on marginal expansion projects, inventory speculation and home construction, retailers said the effect on consumer goods purchases would be slight.

Merchants from 35 states attending a National Retail Dry Goods Assn. conference at Atlanta, Ga., overwhelmingly predicted a record Christmas season. The majority forecast gains of about 5 per cent over last Christmas and some anticipated gains as high as 15 per cent. Only about 10 of the 200 retailers questioned said they looked for lower volume.

Consensus was that brisk Christmas business would help push 1956 retail sales to new peaks. Ninety per cent of the retail executives said they expected to top 1955's record sales by 2 to 8 per cent. What's more, the great majority said they believed their profits would be higher. Most said they would rely heavily on credit as a booster for Christmas sales; 50 per cent said they planned to give credit more emphasis in their Christmas advertising.

Biggest worry facing merchants was the shortage of Christmas help. Most predicted the Christmas labor market would be tighter than ever.

The National Safety Council says accidents are killing, on the average, about 40 farm residents each day and injuring one farm person about every half-minute.

Surface Pressure Of Acadia Well To Exceed 10,000 Bls.

An exploratory well from which the operators expect to produce gas with surface pressures of perhaps 10,000 pounds has been staked by Tidewater Oil Company, et al, in the Church Point Field of Acadia Parish, La.

The test, Tidewater's No. 1 H. Thibodeaux, is spotted 1500 feet southeast of Tidewater's No. 1 Daigle, drilled two years ago, which tapped a 14,500-foot gas and distillate sand with a bottom hole pressure estimated in excess of 13,000 psig. The well was plugged back and completed uphole because the operators and their associates did not feel it safe to complete in the high pressure zone with the equipment then available.

Modern metallurgical advances have now developed pipe sufficiently strong to control the high pressures, the operators feel.

The pipe, designated P-110, has been developed by the National Tube Division of United States Steel. Tidewater engineers and consultants worked with National in testing and evaluating the new pipe, which was used by Richardson and Bass in the world's deepest well, drilled in Louisiana with Independent John Mecom and Freeport Sulphur Company participating.

The test, which will be closely watched by the oil industry, is in Section 83, T8S, R2E, in Acadia Parish, two miles south of the town of Church Point and some 20 miles northeast of Crowley. Tidewater has some 2500 acres in the area.

Participants in the test, which include Gulf, Amerada and Petroleum Reserves, Inc., have budgeted some $756,000 for the completed well.

Included in the cost is a casing program which calls for 000 feet of 13⅜, surface casing, 9⅝ protection program which calls for 5,000 feet 14,500 feet of P-110 seven-inch oil string and a like amount of four-inch tubing, also rated to 110,000 pounds minimum yield. A relief string of two-inch tubing will also be hung.

A Christmas tree rated at 15,000 pounds working pressure, developed by Cameron Iron Works, will be installed at the wellhead.

Missing Youths Found In Houston; Held For Thefts

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP) — Two shivering boys who disappeared from their homes in Kilgore were picked up wandering Houston's streets early today and they admitted two cafe burglaries.

The boys, stopped by patrolmen J. A. Price and J. D. Pullin, identified themselves as Billy McKisling, 16, of 504 Thompson, and David Johnson, 15, of 815 E. Couch. Both addresses are in Kilgore. Both are students at Kilgore Junior High School.

With teeth chattering in the damp early morning air, the boys, dressed in shabby clothes that they had apparently not changed since leaving home, told officers they've been living on candy, gum, and whatever they found in the two cafes they burglarized.

Soles of their feet showed through tattered socks and worn out shoe soles as they were led to the Harris County detention ward to await officers from Kilgore.

They told crime prevention officers that they got into Houston about four days ago and found themselves shelter in a vacant house at the edge of the downtown area.

They even stole a water can from a truck and had been using that for their water the boys said.

A TRIBUTE To Our Women's Clubs!

Those groups of our local women who have organized themselves into Clubs, deserve the unstinted commendation of all of us! There are bridge clubs. There are self-improvement clubs. There are clubs whose charitable work among the needy exemplifies the finest traits of American womanhood. Most of these are home women, women with families and all the cares of home management. Yet they find time for richly-deserved recreation, as well as charitable activities. They are making the most of their busy lives . . . and we heartily applaud their feminine proclivities. Let's give them generous support whenever they request it!

Surface Pressure Of Acadia Well To Exceed 10,000 Bls.

An exploratory well from which the operators expect to produce gas with surface pressures of perhaps 10,000 pounds has been staked by Tidewater Oil Company, et al, in the Church Point Field of Acadia Parish, La.

The test, Tidewater's No. 1 H. Thibodeaux, is spotted 1500 feet southeast of Tidewater's No. 1 Daigle, drilled two years ago, which tapped a 14,500-foot gas and distillate sand with a bottom hole pressure estimated in excess of 13,000 psig. The well was plugged back and completed uphole because the operators and their associates did not feel it safe to complete in the high pressure zone with the equipment then available.

Modern metallurgical advances have now developed pipe sufficiently strong to control the high pressures, the operators feel.

The pipe, designated P-110, has been developed by the National Tube Division of United States Steel. Tidewater engineers and consultants worked with National in testing and evaluating the new pipe, which was used by Richardson and Bass in the world's deepest well, drilled in Louisiana with Independent John Mecom and Freeport Sulphur Company participating.

The test, which will be closely watched by the oil industry, is in Section 83, T8S, R2E, in Acadia Parish, two miles south of the town of Church Point and some 20 miles northeast of Crowley. Tidewater has some 2500 acres in the area.

Participants in the test, which include Gulf, Amerada and Petroleum Reserves, Inc, have budgeted some $756,000 for the completed well.

Included in the cost is a casing program which calls for 000 feet of 13⅜, surface casing, 9⅝ protec-program which calls for 5,000 feet 14,500 feet of P-110 seven-inch oil string and a like amount of four-inch tubing, also rated to 110,000 pounds minimum yield. A relief string of two-inch tubing will also be hung.

A Christmas tree rated at 15,000 pounds working pressure, developed by Cameron Iron Works, will be installed at the wellhead.

Missing Youths Found In Houston; Held For Thefts

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 20 (AP) — Two shivering boys who disappeared from their homes in Kilgore were picked up wandering Houston's streets early today and they admitted two cafe burglaries.

The boys, stopped by patrolmen J. A. Price and J. D. Pullin, identified themselves as Billy McKissing, 14, of 604 Thompson, and David Johnson, 13, of 815 E. Couch. Both addresses are in Kilgore. Both are students at Kilgore Junior High School.

With teeth chattering in the damp early morning air, the boys, dressed in shabby clothes that they had apparently not changed since leaving home, told officers they've been living on candy, gum, and whatever they found in the two cafes they burglarized.

Soles of their feet showed through tattered socks and worn out shoe soles as they were led to the Harris County detention ward to await officers from Kilgore.

They told crime prevention officers that they got into Houston about four days ago and found themselves shelter in a vacant house at the edge of the downtown area.

They even stole a water can from a truck and had been using that for their water the boys said.

Week In Finance

Business Activity Sets Record Pace During Week

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Business activity set a record pace this week despite materials shortages, rising prices and tight credit.

Interest focused on Detroit.

After months of slow production in the auto factories, things were beginning to hum again. Virtually all the markers were rolling out their 1957 models, and for some the outpouring of rakish long sedans and hardtops began to assume the proportions of a flood.

Chevrolet planned to turn out 32,000 of its new models this week; Ford set a production goal of 29,000. The 1957 model race was on.

Never had the auto industry offered so much in the way of style, color, gadgetry and horsepower. People crowding into dealers' showrooms for a look at the low-slung jobs with the upswept tail fins found prices anywhere from $70 to $300 higher. But, auto sales chiefs said, the brash newness of the 1957 cars should easily overcome price resistance.

Biggest problem confronting the auto makers was availability of steel. Steel output was being pushed to the hilt even before Detroit started making its 1957 models; builders of schools, factories, freight cars, oil tankers and superhighways had long been clamoring for hard-to-get steel. A sudden burst of ordering by the auto manufacturers was expected to add to an already badly confused situation.

With more orders on their books than they could possibly fill, steel markers this week scheduled their operations at 101.7 per cent of capacity—a rate calculated to result in production of more than 2½ million tons.

Business was humming, too, in such varied lines as railroad freight traffic, textiles and retail trade.

The stock market, still awaiting the outcome of the November elections, managed to stage a half-hearted rally after several days of decline. Steels and rails led the advance. Trading was very much on the light side, indicating lack of participation by the public.

Credit remained tight this week and there was every indication it would stay that way for as far ahead as you could see. The Bank of Canada raised the interest rate it charges on loans to commercial banks. The move stirred immediate speculation about the possibility of similar action by the Federal Reserve here at home. Last time the Bank of Canada raised its discount rate—in August 1956—the U. S. Federal Reserve hiked rates the very next week. The rate currently charged by the Federal Reserve is 3 per cent. The Bank of Canada, which had been charging 3¼ per cent, moved up to 3½.

While tight credit was expected to exert a continued braking influence on marginal expansion projects, inventory speculation and home construction, retailers said the effect on consumer goods purchases would be slight.

Merchants from 35 states attending a National Retail Dry Goods Assn. conference at Atlanta, Ga., overwhelmingly predicted a record Christmas season. The majority forecast gains of about 5 per cent over last Christmas and some anticipated gains as high as 15 per cent. Only about 10 of the 200 retailers questioned said they looked for lower volume.

Consensus was that brisk Christmas business would help push 1956 retail sales to new peaks. Ninety per cent of the retail executives said they expected to top 1955's record sales by 2 to 8 per cent. What's more, the great majority said they believed their profits would be higher. Most said they would rely heavily on credit as a booster for Christmas sales; 50 per cent said they planned to give credit more emphasis in their Christmas advertising.

Biggest worry facing merchants was the shortage of Christmas help. Most predicted the Christmas labor market would be tighter than ever.

The National Safety Council says accidents are killing, on the average, about 40 farm residents each day and injuring one farm person about every half-minute.

McNeese Halts Northeast Indians, 12-0

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Ouachita Parish High Lions and the West Monroe Rebels, with only one victory between them in 14 games, headline the Twin Cities prep fotball show next Friday night, and, despite all the heartaches they have experienced so far, the team that wins this football game will feel a measure of success for the otherwise disastrous campaign.

Coach Howard Barker"'s Rebels polished off the Lions, 40-0, last year at this stage of the season, but West Monroe's performance this year indicates the Rebs can expect no such margin this time.

West Monroe's football fortunes haven't arrived in four seasons of campaigns, and the Rebs are having a harder campaign than they experienced in their first year. After sharing a scoreless tie with Menard and a 21-21 draw with a strong Baker team it looked like the Rebels might be coming around, but their disaster at Bastrop Friday night (45-0 for the Rams who two weeks earlier had stopped Ouachita 25-14) the outlook for the rest of the season is indeed dim. Rayville, tied by Bastrop, Fair Park and Ruston also remain on the Rebel slate with indications of a winless season. Stopping Ouachita could go a long way toward lifting West Monroe morale.

Ouachita stock soared in defeat Friday night, and any Shreveport followers of the Fair Park Indians will probably tell you they never saw a more intense game, especially since Fair Park won to their delight. But Coach Bob Ellen's Lions, who hadn't been given any chance of making a game of it, much less a victory, left the outcome in doubt until the final three minutes. Ouachita was behind only 21-19 when the Tribe scored the clinching touchdown for a 28-19 decision, and later reports on the game show Dickie Crowe, who had himself a field day in scoring all of Ouachita's points, had another 75-yard touchdown run nullified on a ruling that he had stepped out of bounds.

The very fact that Ouachita's offense hasn't failed to produce at least two touchdowns in every losing effort will probably establish the Lions as the favorite Friday night. The only game in which Ouachita was held to one touchdown came as a victory in beating Homer, 7-6. If Ouachita had found adequate defense this season could have been entirely different.

But anything could happn Friday night. Certainly both ball clubs and student followers will be looking to the battle as if a championship were at stake and the whole season's success depended on the outcome. In a way it is a title scrap—for the championship of the parish school system of which both are a part. A mighty interesting game is forecast. Records so far will mean nothing.

Fumbles In Rain Stall Two Tribe Scoring Threats

Gene Gibson recovered a Northeast fumble on his 18 to set up the final 82-yard touchdown march. Castle, on the 11th play of the drive, went over from the 18.

Both teams entered the game with 1-1 GSC records.

Two Northeast scoring opportunities were spiked by fumbles deep in McNeese territory, the Cowboys recovering both. Tommy Leos fumbled on the 12 in the third quarter, and Aubrey Wade lost the ball on the 18 in the final period.

Wade, the G.S.C.'s leading rusher carried the ball 18 times tonight for 86 of Northeast's 146 yards rushing.

The rain, a solid downpour through the first half, discouraged passing, only three being thrown during the entire game. McNeese passed once and had it intercepted by Mack Powell. Northeast completed one of two passes for five yards.

Arizona's Lupino Sets New College Offensive Record

By JACK WILKINSON

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Oct. 20 (UP)—Arizona's brilliant Art Lupino set a new intercollegiate rushing record with a 46 - yard touchdown scamper that started his speedy Wildcats on their way to a 26-12 victory over New Mexico before 13,172 fans Saturday night.

Arizona, a slight underdog in the battle, but holding a 15-year jinx over the Lobos, exploded for three touchdowns in the second quarter lead and all but salted the game away.

Lupino, used briefly because of injuries, left little doubt he'd set a record. Needing only 21 yards to break Alan Ameche's record of 3,212 yards, Lupino broke loose the third time he carried the ball to gallop 46 yards into the end zone.

He picked up an additional seven yards to establish his own national mark of 3,235 yards.

New Mexico, playing before the largest night crowd in the history of Zimmerman stadium, scored early in the second quarter after having a first period drive bog down on the Arizona one. Wynn White took an Arizona punt and did a tightrope dash down the sideline for a 51-scoring burst.

Arizona added two more touchdowns in the second quarter with New Mexico boys doing the damage. Sal Gonzales, former New Mexico prep star from Anthony, took a Lobo punt and raced 80 yards to score. The third Wildcat tally came shortly before the half when Lionel Romero, an Albuquerque lad, climaxed a 49-yard drive with a one-yard buck.

The teams traded touchdowns in the third quarter. Ralph Hunsaker, the nation's No. 2 passer, intercepted a New Mexico pass and raced 50 yards to score. UNM matched it after Hunsaker had fumbled a punt attempt on his own eight. John Denman cracked over from the one for the score.

Score by periods:

Arizona	0	20	6	0	26
New Mexico	0	6	6	0	12

Virginia Tops Lehigh

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 20 (UP)—Virginia, led by Jim Bakhtiar, 200-pound fullback from Iran, came from behind Saturday to defeat Lehigh University, 24-12, before 9,000 fans. Bakhtiar scored a touchdown, kicked a field goal and added three points for what proved to be Virginia's 12 point margin of victory.

Bowling is Old Sport

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (UP)—The sport of bowling dates back to 5200 B.C., according to the findings of Sir Flinders Petrie, a prominent British Egyptologist. Upon excavation in Egypt, Petrie found in a child's grave all the equipment for playing a game resembling modern bowling.

Wave Engulfs Rebels, 10-3

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 20 — Gene Newton's magnificent 86-yard run down the right sideline set Tulane on fire tonight and the Green Wave, in its third straight upset, beat defending Southeastern Conference champion, Mississippi 10-3.

Mississippi, defeated by Tulane for the first time since 1950, was battling on Tulane's 2 with hopes high when the final gun sounded.

Newton, the same 160-pound supercharger who led Tulane to a 21-6 upset over Nevy last week and the surprise 20-13 edge over Northwestern, made his decisive scoring run on the second play after the half with the field slippery and puddle-spotted from a first-half downpour.

With the Mississippi defense drawn to the left, Newton went through a wide hole in the right side standing up and then outran Mississippi's famed track star, John Wallace Blalack, in a stirring 86-yard dash to score.

As a track event it was a little unfair because Blalack was handicapped by the angle. He started from the opposite corner of the field.

Mississippi, its victory string cut short at 13 and its hopes for a third straight SEC crown in trouble after Georgia Tech's 28-7 victory over Auburn today, got some satisfaction in letting fullback Paige Cothren make another of his celebrated field goals. His sixth this season, it was enough to match the national collegiate field goal record.

Cothren's field goal came in 4:57 of the game's start and the Rebels immediately began piling up a wide margin in rushing yardage until they got into scoring territory. Coach Johnny Vaught said earlier this week his team lacked scoring punch when it counted. That was proved tonight.

Tulane then rubbed it in by scoring a field goal of its own with Emmett Zelenka scoring it from the 16 in the final period.

Newton was the electrical charge but much of Tulane's spare yardage — and Mississippi had a top heavy margin in total yards on the ground and in the air — was the result of the steady methodical work of fullback Ronnie Quillian.

The rain did strange things to the game. Many punts went uncovered because they didn't have bounce; they simply landed in the mud with an audible "plunk" and stuck there. Many a pass and hand-off went awry.

Mississippi's edge in yards was thinner during the last part of the second half during which the teams traded punts. Neither was able to move until the Rebels' last gallant but futile attempt. With Raymond Brown carrying, or passing to Eddie Crawford, Mississippi worked its way down to the shadow of the goalline.

The fans were leaving the stadium when the frustrated attempt to salvage Rebel glory died with the game-ending gun.

Blalack, who came closest to stopping Newton's glory gallop, was also a top offensive man, sparking both of the fourth quarter scoring efforts which moved relentlessly downfield — until the Rebels got into scoring territory. Another good Rebel, Billy Lott, limped off the field with injuries in the third quarter.

It was the first time Mississippi had been scored on since its SEC opener with Kentucky. Mississippi won that game 37-7. The Rebels defeated North Texas 45-0, rolled easily past Houston 14-0 and last week overturned Vanderbilt 16-0.

Tulane, looking stronger than at any time in the 1950's, has been beaten only once — and then managed to look like the better team. Thatwas their 7-6 loss to Texas during which a Tulane touchdown was called back.

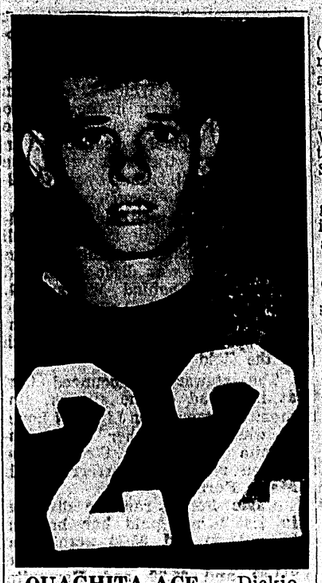
Northwestern, Louisiana Tech Battle To 0-0 Tie



OUACHITA ACE — Dickie Crowe (above), quarterback of the Ouachita Parish High Lions, came up with the standout performance of his football career Friday night when he scored three touchdowns and a conversion for all Lion points in a 28-19 losing cause to Fair Park at Shreveport. SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 20 (Special) — Slowed down by a rain-soaked field, Louisiana Tech and Northwestern State battled to a scoreless tie Saturday at the Louisiana State Fair Stadium. It was the first tie contest in 17 times the two teams have met in the State Fair.

It was a Gulf States Conference game, and now both teams have identical records of 2 won, 2 lost, and 2 tied.

Some 11,000 fans saw the two elevens drive within the 10 yard line only to falter within sight of paydirt. NSC got to the Tech 5-yard stripe in the second quarter with the aid of a 59-yard punt return reeled off by quarterback Dale Hoffpauir.

Tech's deepest penetration came in the fourth quarter when the Bulldogs drove to the Demon seven. A 44-yard pass play from quarterback Billy Bond to End Sydney Anderson was the highlight of the drive.

Both teams tried field goals that went wide. The Demons in the third quarter tried a field goal with Charles Johnson kicking from the Tech 20. Wayne Bourgeois attempted Tech's field goal early in the fourth quarter from the 12.

Line play of both teams was rugged For Tech it was Pat and Tommy Hinton, Charles Clover and Bobby Stone who shone on defense. Outstanding in the line for Northwestern were Lexie Gregg, Harry Fontenot and Ray Lockwood.

Tech's best yard-makers were fullback Jerry Frasier and halfback Sonny Sumlin. Sharing the Demon ball-carrying load were James McNew, quarterback; Charles Hennigan, halfback, and fullback Charles Tolar.

Istrouma Thumps Byrd's Jackets By 14-7 Margin

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 19 (AP) — Struggling to hold place among the top triple-A teams, Istrouma took a 14-7 victory from Byrd tonight in a drizzling rain that thinned out the fans and left Memorial Stadium almost empty.

Istrouma scored in the opening minutes when halfback Rodney white went over from the 21. Lynn Amedee kicked his first two conversions.

Istrouma scored again before the period ended with fullback on Smith slamming over from a yard out to cap a 42-yard drive.

Louisiana College Rallies To Shade Lutheran, 20 To 19

SEGUIN, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—Louisiana College came from behind twice, scoring its final touchdown in the last minute of play to beat Texas Lutheran 20-19 Saturday night.

With 50 seconds left in the game, quarterback Julius Scott passed to Larry Steedley for 30 yards and six points. The pass capped a 73-yard dribe.

Texas Lutheran had moved into a 13-0 halftime lead. The home team scored in the first quarter when Eddie Marburger went over tackle for 62 yards and again in the second quarter when Charley McMann passed to Rod Marburger for 76 yards and a tally.

Early in the third stanza Louisiana College scored twice in two minutes, once on a pass by Frank Mobley to Bill Gardner apnt'hen on a 28-yard run by Paul Fortenberry after a fumble recovery.

Southern State Beaten By SLI By 32-12 Count

MAGNOLIA, Ark., Oct. 20 — Southwestern Louisiana Institute unleashed a powerful ground attack, sprinkled with sharp passing, to overwhelm Southern State College 32-12 tonight.

The SLI Bulldogs poured on three touchdowns in the second half after holding only a 13-12 margin at intermission.

Fullback Frank Foreman led the Southwestern yardage parade, running for 102 of SLI's 399 yards on the ground. Nine complete passes gobbled up 140 more yards for the Bulldogs. Southern State got 65 yards on the ground and 202 in the air on 12 pass completions.

Nemour Maurin led SLI scoring with two touchdowns. Other SLI touchdowns were scoredby Marvin Leonard on a five-yard plunge, Ralph Davis on a five-yard pass from Jerry Lewis, and Ronnie Crochet on a nine-yard pass from Lewis.

Porkers Return In Second Half To Wallop Texas

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—Arkansas came from behind Saturday night on the slashing ground drives of fullback Gerald Nesbitt and halfback Ronny Underwood to overwhelm Texas, 32-14 in a furious Southwest Conference game before 40,000 fans.

Arkansas, behind 14-6 at halftime, outclassed the Longhorns in second-half play with a running attack that netted one touchdown in the third period and three in the last quarter.

Nesbitt, a 24-year-old, 190-pound junior from Big Sandy, Tex., plunged over from the one-foot mark in the opening period and raced 57 yards in the third, then converted to cut Texas' margin to 14-13.

The Razorbacks' wrecking crew went into action in the fourth period. Underwood intercepted a pass and ran it back 76 yards. Four plays later quarterback Don Christian plunged over from the one and Nesbitt converted again.

Underwood's brilliant 42 - yard punt return to the Texas 32 set up an Arkansas touchdown climaxed seven plays later when fullback Jerry Ferguson shot over from the seven.

Arkansas wound up the scoring when halfback Don Ritschel took a lateral from Ferguson and went 47 yards. Ritschel converted after Nesbitt's first period touchdown.

Texas struck for its only two markers in the second period, sparked by quarterback Joe Clements' passing and halfback Walter Fondren's running. Clements connected for seven of nine aerials in the two drives.

A fumble by Christian on his own 17 opened the way for Texas' first score. Five plays after Bob Bryant recovered the ball, Clements threw a 10-yard scoring pass to Bryant.

Texas went 44 yards on its second drive, climaxed by a nine-yard pass from Clements to Fondren. Fondren converted twice.

A penalty erased an 82-yard run by Arkansas halfback Donnie Stone in the second period.

Stanford, On Rose Bowl Path, Slaps Oregon, 21-7

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 20 (UP)—Stanford maintained its favored role for a Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl bid Saturday oy handing the Oregon Webfoots a 21-7 walloping on the razor sharp passing of John Brodie and the hard running of fullback Lou Valli.

Brodie, who went into the game leading the nation's college passers, completed 11 out of 21 in the three quarters that he played, one for a touchdown. Valli, who packed the ball 17 times, picked up two touchdowns on short bursts and a total of 106 yards from rushing.

Oregon, a victim of fumbleitis in its last two games, had the same trouble Saturday. The game was less than two minutes old when halfback Jack Brown fumbled and Troy Barbee of Stanford pounced on the ball on the Webfoot 30.

A few minutes later, Valli punched across his first touchdown as Stanford went 33 yards in five plays. A 32 yard punt return by halfback Gordy Young set it up.

A crowd of 14,800 watched disappointed as Oregon, after a 43-yard punt return by Leroy Phelps, drove to the Stanford 10 where Phelps fumbled and Jack Taylor recovered for Stanford.

Yale Still Unbeaten

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 20 (UP)—Unbeaten Yale, boasting its best team in two decades, shook loose its highly rated backfield Saturday to defeat winless, injury-riddled Cornell, 25-7. The victory gave the Elis undisputed possession of first place in the Ivy League.

BC Blanks Rutgers

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 20 (UP)—Boston College, rolling relentlessly on the ground, defeated Rutgers Saturday, 32-0, shutting out the Scarlet's football team for the first time in 100 games. Rutgers hadn't been held scoreless since Lafayette did it on 1944.

UCLA Bruins Whip California, 34-20, In PCC Errorfest

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 20 (UP)—The UCLA Bruins parlayed passes, penalties and pass interceptions into five touchdowns Saturday as they walloped hapless California 34-20 in a Pacific Coast Conference game before 48,000 fans.

Spotted two touchdowns in the first four minutes and 43 seconds of play, UCLA let Cal catch up once, then rolled on to victory with some sensational performances by ends Pete O'Garr and Dick Wallen.

On the first scrimmage play of the game, Louis Elias intercepted one of Joe Contestable's passes on the Cal 32 and two minutes later Barry Billington dived over from the one to score—helped along by three Cal offside penalties.

UCLA kicked off and Contestible, apparently confused on the downs, tried a pass that fell incomplete on fourth down and UCLA took over on the Cal 43. On the first play, Dug Bradley completed a pass to O'Garro for a score and the Bruins led 14-0.

That set the pattern for the rest of the wild and wooly game—a conflict of errors most of the way

Majors, Chocs Play Scoreless Deadlock

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 20 (AP) — Millsaps met Mississippi College on a rain-soggy football field today and 5,000 fans watched the two squads stymied to a 0-0 tie.

Mississippi College dug in for four goal-line stands that prevented Millsaps from punching across a touchdown.

Millsaps halted Mississippi College drives that ended on the 12, the 28, the 22 and the 9.

The march to the 9 ended with two minutes to play.

Kentucky Masters L.S.U.

By BILL HUDSON

LEXINGTON, Ky., OCT. 20 (AP)—Louisiana State gambled twice and lost both times tonight when it's misfired daring set up scoring drives that led to a 14-0 Kentucky football victory.

The winless Bayou Bengals twice went for first downs they couldn't achieve and Kentucky wrapped its first opportunity into a 54-yard scoring drive and its second into a 60-yard touchdown excursion.

It was a bit of daring by junior quarterback Kenny Robertson, too, that kept Kentucky's first hope alive.

Faced with a fourth down and 5 situation at mid-field, Robertson passed 14 yards to halfback Billy Mitchell to keep the threat going and later set up the score with a 17-yard throw to Jim Urbaniak at the 10.

The scoring march materialized after LSU, needing only inches for a first down, sent Jimmy Taylor into the line and missed.

Trying desperately through the air in the last period, Louisiana State failed at the Kentucky 40 and surrendered the ball, igniting an 11-play Kentucky march that ended with Mitchell going over from the four.

Hughes again converted, this time with only 52 seconds left.

LSU had only one real opportunity, getting to the Kentucky 10 in the last round. But three successive passes by M. C. Reynolds fell incomplete and Kentucky took over.

Strictly a ground team up to now, Robertson put some spice in the Kentucky attack by completing five of 13 passes for a total gain of 66 yards, nearly twice what Kentucky had gained through the aid in its four previous Southeastern Conference games.

Winless Louisiana State gave Kentucky's pass defenders a real workout, throwing 24 times, but completing only six and losing three more by interceptions.

Kentucky	0	7	0	7	14

McNeese Halts Northeast Indians, 12-0

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Ouachita Parish High Lions and the West Monroe Rebels, with only one victory between them in 14 games, headline the Twin Cities prep fotball show next Friday night, and, despite all the heartaches they have experienced so far, the team that wins this football game will feel a measure of success for the otherwise disastrous campaign.

Coach Howard Barker"'s Rebels polished off the Lions, 40-0, last year at this stage of the season, but West Monroe's performance this year indicates the Rebs can expect no such margin this time.

West Monroe's football fortunes haven't arrived in four seasons of campaigns, and the Rebs are having a harder campaign than they experienced in their first year. After sharing a scoreless tie with Menard and a 21-21 draw with a strong Baker team it looked like the Rebels might be coming around, but their disaster at Bastrop Friday night (45-0 for the Rams who two weeks earlier had stopped Ouachita 25-14) the outlook for the rest of the season is indeed dim. Rayville, tied by Bastrop, Fair Park and Ruston also remain on the Rebel slate with indications of a winless season. Stopping Ouachita could go a long way toward lifting West Monroe morale.

Ouachita stock soared in defeat Friday night, and any Shreveport followers of the Fair Park Indians will probably tell you they never saw a more intense game, especially since Fair Park won to their delight. But Coach Bob Ellen's Lions, who hadn't been given any chance of making a game of it, much less a victory, left the outcome in doubt until the final three minutes. Ouachita was behind only 21-19 when the Tribe scored the clinching touchdown for a 28-19 decision, and later reports on the game show Dickie Crowe, who had himself a field day in scoring all of Ouachita's points, had another 75-yard touchdown run nullified on a ruling that he had stepped out of bounds.

The very fact that Ouachita's offense hasn't failed to produce at least two touchdowns in every losing effort will probably establish the Lions as the favorite Friday night. The only game in which Ouachita was held to one touchdown came as a victory in beating Homer, 7-6. If Ouachita had found adequate defense this season could have been entirely different.

But anything could happn Friday night. Certainly both ball clubs and student followers will be looking to the battle as if a championship were at stake and the whole season's success depended on the outcome. In a way it is a title scrap—for the championship of the parish school system of which both are a part. A mighty interesting game is forecast. Records so far will mean nothing.

Fumbles In Rain Stall Two Tribe Scoring Threats

Gene Gibson recovered a Northeast fumble on his 18 to set up the final 82-yard touchdown march. Castle, on the 11th play of the drive, went over from the 18.

Two Northeast scoring opportunities were spiked by fumbles deep in McNeese territory, the Cowboys recovering both. Tommy Leos fumbled on the 12 in the third quarter, and Aubrey Wade lost the ball on the 18 in the final period.

Wade, the G.S.C.'s leading rusher ,carried the ball 18 times tonight for 86 of Northeast's 146 yards rushing.

The rain, a solid downpour through the first half, discouraged passing, only three being thrown during the entire game. McNeese passed once and had it intercepted by Mack Powell. Northeast completed one of two passes for five yards.

Arizona's Lupino Sets New College Offensive Record

By JACK WILKINSON

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Oct. 20 (UP)—Arizona's brilliant Art Lupino set a new intercollegiate rushing record with a 46 - yard touchdown scamper that started his speedy Wildcats on their way to a 26-12 victory over New Mexico before 13,172 fans Saturday night.

Arizona, a slight underdog in the battle, but holding a 15-year jinx over the Lobos, exploded for three touchdowns in the second quarter lead and all but salted the game away.

Lupino, used briefly because of injuries, left little doubt he'd set a record. Needing only 21 yards to break Alan Ameche's record of 3,212 yards, Lupino broke loose the third time he carried the ball to gallop 46 yards into the end zone.

He picked up an additional seven yards to establish his own national mark of 3,235 yards.

New Mexico, playing before the largest night crowd in the history of Zimmerman stadium, scored early in the second quarter after having a first period drive bog down on the Arizona one. Wynn White took an Arizona punt and did a tightrope dash down the sideline for a 51-scoring burst.

Arizona added two more touchdowns in the second quarter with New Mexico boys doing the damage. Sal Gonzales, former New Mexico prep star from Anthony, took a Lobo punt and raced 80 yards to score. The third Wildcat tally came shortly before the half when Lionel Romero, an Albuquerque lad, climaxed a 49-yard drive with a one-yard buck.

The teams traded touchdowns in the third quarter. Ralph Hunsaker, the nation's No. 2 passer, intercepted a New Mexico pass and raced 50 yards to score. UNM matched it after Hunsaker had fumbled a punt attempt on his own eight. John Denman cracked over from the one for the score.

Score by periods:

Arizona	0	20	6	0	26
New Mexico	0	6	6	0	12

Virginia Tops Lehigh

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Oct. 20 (UP)—Virginia, led by Jim Bakhtiar, 200-pound fullback from Iran, came from behind Saturday to defeat Lehigh University, 24-12, before 9,000 fans. Bakhtiar scored a touchdown, kicked a field goal and added three points for what proved to be Virginia's 12 point margin of victory.

Bowling is Old Sport

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (UP)—The sport of bowling dates back to 5200 B.C, according to the findings of Sir Flinders Petrie, a prominent British Egyptologist. Upon excavation in Egypt, Petrie found in a child's grave all the equipment for playing a game resembling modern bowling.

Wave Engulfs Rebels, 10-3

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 20 — Gene Newton's magnificent 86-yard run down the right sideline set Tulane on fire tonight and the Green Wave, in its third straight upset, beat defending Southeastern Conference champion, Mississippi 10-3.

Mississippi, defeated by Tulane for the first time since 1950, was battling on Tulane's 2 with hopes high when the final gun sounded.

Newton, the same 160-pound supercharger who led Tulane to a 21-6 upset over Nevy last week and the surprise 20-13 edge over Northwestern, made his decisive scoring run on the second play after the half with the field slippery and puddle-spotted from a first-half downpour.

With the Mississippi defense drawn to the left, Newton went through a wide hole in the right side standing up and then outran Mississippi's famed track star, John Wallace Blalack, in a stirring 86-yard dash to score.

As a track event it was a little unfair because Blalack was handicapped by the angle. He started from the opposite corner of the field.

Mississippi, its victory string cut short at 13 and its hopes for a third straight SEC crown in trouble after Georgia Tech's 28-7 victory over Auburn today, got some satisfaction in letting fullback Paige Cothren make another of his celebrated field goals. His sixth this season, it was enough to match the national collegiate field goal record.

Cothren's field goal came in 4:57 of the game's start and the Rebels immediately began piling up a wide margin in rushing yardage until they got into scoring territory. Coach Johnny Vaught said earlier this week his team lacked scoring punch when it counted. That was proved tonight.

Tulane then rubbed it in by scoring a field goal of its own with Emmett Zelenka scoring it from the 16 in the final period.

Newton was the electrical charge but much of Tulane's spare yardage — and Mississippi had a top heavy margin in total yards on the ground and in the air — was the result of the steady methodical work of fullback Ronnie Quillian.

The rain did strange things to the game. Many punts went uncovered because they didn't have bounce; they simply landed in the mud with an audible "plunk" and stuck there. Many a pass and hand-off went awry.

Mississippi's edge in yards was thinner during the last part of the second half during which the teams traded punts. Neither was able to move until the Rebels' last gallant but futile attempt. With Raymond Brown carrying, or passing to Eddie Crawford, Mississippi worked its way down to the shadow of the goalline.

The fans were leaving the stadium when the frustrated attempt to salvage Rebel glory died with the game-ending gun.

Blalack, who came closest to stopping Newton's glory gallop, was also a top offensive man, sparking both of the fourth quarter scoring efforts which moved relentlessly downfield — until the Rebels got into scoring territory. Another good Rebel, Billy Lott, limped off the field with injuries in the third quarter.

It was the first time Mississippi had been scored on since its SEC opener with Kentucky. Mississippi won that game 37-7. The Rebels defeated North Texas 45-0, rolled easily past Houston 14-0 and last week overturned Vanderbilt 16-0.

Tulane, looking stronger than at any time in the 1950's, has been beaten only once — and then managed to look like the better team. Thatwas their 7-6 loss to Texas during which a Tulane touchdown was called back.

Porkers Return In Second Half To Wallop Texas

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—Arkansas came from behind Saturday night on the slashing ground drives of fullback Gerald Nesbitt and halfback Ronny Underwood to overwhelm Texas, 32-14 in a furious Southwest Conference game before 40,000 fans.

Arkansas, behind 14-6 at halftime, outclassed the Longhorns in second-half play with a running attack that netted one touchdown in the third period and three in the last quarter.

Nesbitt, a 24-year-old, 190-pound junior from Big Sandy, Tex., plunged over from the one-foot mark in the opening period and raced 57 yards in the third, then converted to cut Texas' margin to 14-13.

The Razorbacks' wrecking crew went into action in the fourth period. Underwood intercepted a pass and ran it back 76 yards. Four plays later quarterback Don Christian plunged over from the one and Nesbitt converted again.

Underwood's brilliant 42 - yard punt return to the Texas 32 set up an Arkansas touchdown climaxed seven plays later when fullback Jerry Ferguson shot over from the seven.

Arkansas wound up the scoring when halfback Don Ritschel took a lateral from Ferguson and went 47 yards. Ritschel converted after Nesbitt's first period touchdown.

Texas struck for its only two markers in the second period, sparked by quarterback Joe Clements' passing and halfback Walter Fondren's running. Clements connected for seven of nine aerials in the two drives.

A fumble by Christian on his own 17 opened the way for Texas' first score. Five plays after end Bob Bryant recovered the ball. Clements threw a 10-yard scoring pass to Bryant.

Texas went 44 yards on its second drive, climaxed by a nine-yard pass from Clements to Fondren. Fondren converted twice.

A penalty erased an 82-yard run by Arkansas halfback Donnie Stone in the second period.

UCLA Bruins Whip California, 34-20, In PCC Errorfest

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 20 (UP)—The UCLA Bruins parlayed passes, penalties and pass interceptions into five touchdowns Saturday as they walloped hapless California 34-20 in a Pacific Coast Conference game before 48,000 fans.

Spotted two touchdowns in the first four minutes and 43 seconds of play, UCLA let Cal catch up once, then rolled on to victory with some sensational performances by ends Pete O'Garr and Dick Wallen.

On the first scrimmage play of the game, Louis Elias intercepted one of Joe Contestable's passes on the Cal 32 and two minutes later Barry Billington dived over from the one to score—helped along by three Cal offside penalties.

UCLA kicked off and Contestible, apparently confused on the downs, tried a pass that fell incomplete on fourth down and UCLA took over on the Cal 43. On the first play, Dug Bradley completed a pass to O'Garro for a score and the Bruins led 14-0.

That set the pattern for the rest of the wild and wooly game—a conflict of errors most of the way

Majors, Chocs Play Scoreless Deadlock

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 20 (AP) — Millsaps met Mississippi College on a rain-soggy football field today and 5,000 fans watched the two squads stymied to a 0-0 tie.

Mississippi College dug in for four goal-line stands that prevented Millsaps from punching across a touchdown.

Millsaps halted Mississippi College drives that ended on the 12, the 28, the 22 and the 9.

The march to the 9 ended with two minutes to play.

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 20 (UP)—Stanford maintained its favored role for a Pacific Coast Conference Rose Bowl bid Saturday oy handing the Oregon Webfoots a 21-7 walloping on the razor sharp passing of John Brodie and the hard running of fullback Lou Valli.

Brodie, who went into the game leading the nation's college passers, completed 11 out of 21 in the three quarters that he played, one for a touchdown. Valli, who packed the ball 17 times, picked up two touchdowns on short bursts and a total of 106 yards from rushing.

Oregon, a victim of fumbleitis in its last two games, had the same trouble Saturday. The game was less than two minutes old when halfback Jack Brown fumbled and Troy Barbee of Stanford pounced on the ball on the Webfoot 30.

A few minutes later, Valli punched across his first touchdown as Stanford went 33 yards in five plays. A 32 yard punt return by halfback Gordy Young set it up.

A crowd of 14,800 watched disappointed as Oregon, after a 43-yard punt return by Leroy Phelps, drove to the Stanford 10 where Phelps fumbled and Jack Taylor recovered for Stanford.

Then Brodie, mixing his plays beautifully, marched the Indians 90 yards in 17 plays. Brodie hit his favorite target, halfback Paul Camera, from 20 yards out for the touchdown.

Score by periods:

Stanford	7	7	7	7	21
Oregon	0	0	0	7	7

Yale Still Unbeaten

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 20 (UP)—Unbeaten Yale, boasting its best team in two decades, shook loose its highly rated backfield Saturday to defeat winless, injury-riddled Cornell, 25-7. The victory gave the Elis undisputed possession of first place in the Ivy League.

BC Blanks Rutgers

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 20 (UP)—Boston College, rolling relentlessly on the ground, defeated Rutgers Saturday, 32-0, shutting out the Scarlet's football team for the first time in 100 games. Rutgers hadn't been held scoreless since Lafayette did it on 1944.

Kentucky Masters L.S.U.

By BILL HUDSON

LEXINGTON, Ky., OCT. 20 (AP)—Louisiana State gambled twice and lost both times tonight when it's misfired daring set up scoring drives that led to a 14-0 Kentucky football victory.

The winless Bayou Bengals twice went for first downs they couldn't achieve and Kentucky wrapped its first opportunity into a 54-yard scoring drive and its second into a 60-yard touchdown excursion.

It was a bit of daring by junior quarterback Kenny Robertson, too, that kept Kentucky's first hope alive.

Faced with a fourth down and 5 situation at mid-field, Robertson passed 14 yards to halfback Billy Mitchell to keep the threat going and later set up the score with a 17-yard throw to Jim Urbaniak at the 10.

The scoring march materialized after LSU, needing only inches for a first down, sent Jimmy Taylor into the line and missed.

Trying desperately through the air in the last period, Louisiana State failed at the Kentucky 40 and surrendered the ball, igniting an 11-play Kentucky march that ended with Mitchell going over from the four.

Hughes again converted, this time with only 52 seconds left.

LSU had only one real opportunity, getting to the Kentucky 10 in the last round. But three successive passes by M. C. Reynolds fell incomplete and Kentucky took over.

Strictly a ground team up to now, Robertson put some spice in the Kentucky attack by completing five of 13 passes for a total gain of 66 yards, nearly twice what Kentucky had gained through the aid in its four previous Southeastern Conference games.

Winless Louisiana State gave Kentucky's pass defenders a real workout, throwing 24 times, but completing only six and losing three more by interceptions.

Michigan State Overwhelms Notre Dame, 47 To 14

Fine Mendyk Runs Feature Spartans' Romp Over Irish

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 20 (AP)—Dennis (The Menace) Mendyk, bursting 62 and 68 yards on touchdown runs, today featured unbeaten Michigan State's production line use of three sets of backs in overwhelming Norte Dame's worn-down football forces, 47-14.

In pumping more points against the Irish than at any time since the series was inaugurated in 1897, the No. 2 ranking Spartans blasted six touchdowns in the second half after the teams had battled to a 7-7 standstill.

The key play came in the first 2½ minutes of the third period when Mendyk, 183-pound senior left half streaked 62 yards on a quick opener.

John Matsko booted the first of three extra points and the Spartans were off to their greatest victory over the Irish since blanking them 35-0 in 1951.

The triumph, before an overflowing throng of 59,378 fans, was MSU's fourth over the Irish in their last five meetings and gave Coach Terry Brenan's young team its third loss in four starts this season.

Jim Ninowski, junior quarterback, herded MSU into a 21-7 bulge midway in the third by hitting 3 out of 3 passes for 55 yards. The drive carried 83 yards in 14 plays with Don Gilbert ramming the last 3.

At the outset of the finale, Clarence Peaks drilled over from the 2 to complete a comp that included sophomore Mike Panitch's 49-yard punt return and then a catch of Mendyk's 16-yard pass.

Three more sensational scoring jaunts soon followed.

Mendyk barried 68 yards.

End Larry Harding stole a Paul Horning pass and raced 28 yards into the end zone.

Don Arend, sophomore fullback from Baroda, Mich., broke loose for a 65-yard scoring scamper.

Gophers Top Illini In Last 3 Minutes

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 20, (AP)—Bold and baffling Bobby Cox cut the legs under an Illinois comeback by steering a clock-fighting Minnesota drive in the fourth quarter that ended with Dick Borstad's field goal with less than three minutes left for a 16-13 victory today.

Borstad boomed through the payoff kick from the 12 yard line with 2:41 remaining in the game after Cox stormed 30 yards with a punt return and fired a 23 yard pass to Dave Lindblom to get the unbeaten but once tied Gophers into position.

Maroons Halt Arkansas State Upset Threat, 19-9

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Oct. 20 (AP) —Outplayed and outscored the first half, Mississippi State bounced back with two third-period touchdowns for a 19-9 victory over upset-minded Arkansas State today.

Four thousand rain-drenched fans watched Arkansas State maul Mississippi State during the first 30 minutes despite pre-game figuring which had the visitors playing dead.

Frank Sabbatini, 190-pound senior fullback from Leland, Miss., started the upstream paddling by Mississippi State, with his fiery thrusts through the line in soggy going.

When Sabbatini started the comeback, Arkansas State led, 9-6, principally because the Mississippi center couldn't flip the ball where the kicker or ball-carrier stood. Both times Arkansas State took advantage, first for a touchdown, next for a safety.

Down three points in the third quarter, Mississippi State drove 62 yards in eight plays to score, quarterback Billy Stacey plunging over from the five. Sabbatini converted.

Ignited by Sabbatini's hard-running, Mississippi State came back with a 51-yard scoring drive. Halfback Molly Halbert punched over from the one, but Sabbatini's kick failed.

After that, the Mississippians played it close to their chests and neither team seriously threatened.

First Arkansas touchdown came when a snap from center on fourth down sailed over halfback Gil Peterson's head as he prepared to punt. Arkansas State recovered on the 20. Halfback Billy Templeton smashed to the 17 and then quarterback Tommy Spiers passed for the score to left end Bobby Gray. Spiers converted.

Mississippi State came to life briefly late in the first period, moving 62 yards for a touchdown with halfback Jim Tait going over standing up from 14 yards out. Sabbatini's kick was no good.

In the second period, Arkansas's Darrell Arnold kicked to Halbert, who danced and skidded to the Arkansas State 20. Mississippi State was penalized for clipping back to its own five-yard line.

Disqualification Puts Magic Forest First In Gardenia

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP) — Magic Forest, with one previous victory in 13 starts, took first money in the $136,275 Gardenia Stakes at Garden State Park today after the first horse across the finish line, the favored Romanita, was diqualified.

Jockey Hedley Woodhouse, aboard C. V. Whiteney's brown filly, hadn't even dismounted to file his claim of foul when the stewards themselves called for an inquiry into the running of the mile and a sixteenth event for 2-year-old fillies.

After a 15 minute delay, Romanita, owned by the Reverie Knoll farm and ridden by the veteran Eric Guerin, was disqualified and placed third behind William G. Helis' Light 'N Lovely. Maine Chance farm's Jet's Charm, handled by Willie Hartack, was fourth in the field of 12.

The stewards announced that at the head of the stretch, Romanita came out on Light 'N Lovely, which clipped her heels. Romanita came out through the stretch run and interferred with Magic Forest."

Magic Forest ran the distance in 1:45.2 and paid her backers $29, $11.60 and $5.20 across the board. Light 'N Lovely returned $11.60 and $5.20 and Romanita $2.80.

DODGERS WIN

TOKYO, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, whose failure to hit effectively in the last five games of the World Series cost each regular player almost $2,000, today regained their batting eyes and pounded out a 7-1 victory over Japan's Central League All-Stars.

Texas Ags Spring Upset On Horned Frogs, 7 To 6

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 20 —Little Don Watson, who beat Texas Christian last year with a 51-yard run, clattered down shadowy rain swept sidelines to set up a touchdown he passed for himself today and it brought Texas A&M an upset 7-6 victory in the biggest game of Southwest Conference football.

Texas Christian's mighty Frogs had virtually camped on the Aggie goal line for three periods and were leading 6-0 when Watson electrified the crowd of 42,000 that sat huddled under umbrellas and raincoats with a 26-yard dash that set the ball on the Frog 31, John Crow hammered right end down to the TCU seven, then Watson passed to Crow on the 1-yard line and the score was tied.

Out came Loyd Taylor to kick the extra point and Texas A&M had felled the nation's No. 4 team and surged into the favorite's spot in the southwest conference race.

The Aggies beat TCU 19-16 last year and had they not fallen to Texas on Thanksgiving Day in an upset would have won the championship.

Part of the game was played in a driving rain and winds that approximated 90 miles per hour. Paper, stray coats and cushions were blown onto the field. But it was at the height of the storm that TCU made its touchdown.

Tex. Christian..... 0 0 6 0 —6

Underdog Nittany Lions Upset Ohio State Bucks, 7-6

COLUMBUS, Ohio Oct. 20 (AP)—Penn State knocked much of the luster off Ohio State's Buckeyes today as the three-touchdown underdog Nittany Lions beat the two-time Big Ten champions at their own game and won a 7-6 football victory before a sellout crowd of 82,584.

It was a game of lost opportunities with all the scoring packed in a thrilling, final four minutes. Ohio State's vaunted ground attack, which had averaged 333 yards per game in victories over Nebraska, Stanford and Illinois, was held to 188 yards by the stubborn defense of the Easterners. Ohio, which has featured control ball all season, lost out on that end, too. The Lions held the ball for 75 plays to the Buckeyes' 58.

After three quarters of frustrations, in which Penn State lost the ball three times inside Ohio's 20 — twice on pass interceptions and once on a fumble — Penn State struck suddenly late in the fourth.

A 73-yard punt by quarterback Milton Plum died on Ohio's 3, and the Bucks, unable to dig out of the coffin corner, punted to the 45.

The Bucks, noted for their grinding ground assault, took to the airways in the fading minutes and Jimmy Roseboro and Don Clark hit end Leo Brown with consecutive tosses covering 64 yards to the Lions' 3. From there Clark plunged into the end zone.

As the teams lined up for the conversion, Brown dashed back on the field and Ohio was pentilzed 5 yards for having too many men in play.

Pittsburgh Tops Duke With Big 2nd Quarter

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 20 (UP) —Three touchdowns in five minutes, featuring the running and throwing of Corny Salvaterra and the pass-snatching of big Joe Walton, gave Pittsburgh a 27-14 win over Duke Saturday in the 10th annual Oyster Bowl.

The trip-hammer touchdown flurry started early in the second period before a crowd of 28,000 most of them dismayed Duke partisans, and wrapped up what was otherwise a close game.

Salvaterra started the onslaught on the first play of the second period when he raced seven yards to score. A few plays later he connected on a 27-yard scoring pass to Walton. Two minutes after that, Walton got in the clear, caught a pass from quarterback Darrell Lewis, and raced to the goal on a 59-yard play.

Powerful Cougars Punch Oklahoma Aggies, 13 To 0

By JIM WILLIAMS

STILWATER, Okla., Oct. 20 (UP)—Houston University scored two first - half touchdowns, then held Oklahoma A&M to a draw the second half for a 13-0 Missouri Valley Conference victory Saturday before 25,000 rain - soaked homecoming fans.

The powerful Houston team scored its first tally with 3:40 gone in the game when fullback Donnie Caraway plunged over from the two. The touchdown was set up by an Aggie fumble on the 22, and Houston required only four plays to score. Quarterback Don Flynn converted.

The Cougars scored again late in the second period after intercepting an Aggie pass on the A&M 37. Four plays later, in a downpour, quarterback Sammy Blount passed from the eight to right end Buddy Boek in the end zone for the score.

Houston failed to make the extra point when Flynn tried to run it across and was stopped on the five-yard line.

The Aggies controlled the ball during most of the fourth quarter but were unable to score. Coach Cliff Speegle's young ball club was stopped on the six-yard line when halfback Forrest Campbell fumbled, and Caraway recovered for Houston.

An earlier A&M drive, in the second quarter, was stopped after 77 yards on the two.

Wisconsin, Purdue Wobble To 6-6 Tie In Big Ten Duel

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20 (UP) Wisconsin and Purdue scored a touchdown apiece in a Big Ten football game Saturday, then each fumbled four times and stumbled their way to a 6-6 tie.

The result left both teams without a conference victory, each having lost in Big Ten play earlier.

The touchdowns were scored in the first 22 minutes of the game, when both teams showed consistent offensive abilities and the game appeared to be a budding thriller.

Wisconsin scored on eight plays the first time it got the ball in the first period. Danny Lewis' 30-yard dash capped the 68-yard drive with about a third of the period gone. Fullback Glen Bestor missed the kick for extra point.

Purdue's only successful drive came in the second period — 13 plays that took the Boilermakers 80 yards. Quarterback Lenny Dawson, deadly in short passes but unable to connect with long ones, passed four times during the drive. Dawson missed the conversion, his first bad kick this season.

Trojans Tumble Huskies For 4th Straight, 35-7

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (UP)—All-America halfback Jon Arnett, backed up by hard-running fullback C. R. Roberts, led the University of Southern California to a 35-7 victory over Washington in a Pacific Coast Conference football game witnessed by 44,749 fans in Memorial Collseum Saturday.

The victory was Southern Cal's fourth straight this season and kept the Trojans undefeated in conference play.

Arnett, limited to five games this season by a conference ruling, made his final home appearance a briliant one as he moved up to third place among Trojan all - time ground-gaining heroes with 1,781 yards for his collegiate career. He replaced the great Morley Drury.

But it took the hard - running Roberts to help get Southern California into the lead and halfback Tony Ortega punched over two of the scores.

Washington's hard charging ground game led by Dean Darby, Luther Carr, Credell Green and Jim Jones worried Southern California for three periods but fell apart in the final quarter when Southern Cal demoralized the Huskies with three touchdowns.

Southern Cal spotted Washington a touchdown lead in the first period and then roared back in the second to score a touchdown and field goal for a 9-7 halftime lead.

Girl Wrestlers On Triple Main Event At Kallio's

An explosive triple mainevent will be awaiting local grappling fans this Tuesday when wrestling returns to Kallio's Arena after a week layoff.

Promoter Kallio cancelled his show last week to give plenty of time for his Cook-Flanagan boxing bout in case there had been rain on Monday night.

But the old gentleman returned with a bang! This week's card has all three-fall main events including a girls' match. Caroll Cook of Columbus, Ohio, tangles with Mary Jane Mull from Tampa, Fla. in what will probably be the most popular event of the evening.

"Wild Bill" Steddum faces the Golden Terror in another one-third of the top matches.

To wrap up the slate will be a battle of champions. Jack Curtis, Louisiana heavyweight champ, meets Jose Alvarado, the Mexican heavyweight king.

Alvarado has appeared on the Monroe mat only once before. But in that single glimpse local wrestling enthusiasts became convinced that he was a vicious villain who means business. The slick-headed bone stretcher from across the border says very little in the ring —just wrestles.

In the past, girl wrestlers have always proven to be great favorites with Kallio's customers and Carrol and Mary Jane are almost certain to hold true to form. They will be going the three fall distance just as the men.

All three matches will have time limits of one hour with two falls needed to win.

Kallio is keeping his regular admission prices. The doors will open at 7 o'clock with the program beginning at 8:15.

Hoosiers Return To Swat Huskers In Fourth Period

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 20 (UP)—Fullback Bob Fee rammed over for two fourth-period touchdowns Saturday to lead Indiana to a 19-14 victory over determined Nebraska

The Hoosiers, registering their first win in four starts this season, spotted the Cornhuskers two touchdowns, but relentlessly wore down the tiring Nebraskans in the final stages.

The first of Fee's touchdown plunges was set up by a 20-yard Cichowski to Bomba pass which carried to the two. The second was set up by halfback Dave Whitesel, who smashed from the 15 to the one only minutes later.

Nebraska dominated the play until midway in the second period, and had a 14-0 lead when the Hoosiers finally uncorked an effective passing attack. The first Indiana drive included five straight pass completions, three from Cichowski to Bomba.

By JIM WILLIAMS

STILWATER, Okla., Oct. 20 (UP)—Houston University scored two first - half touchdowns, then held Oklahoma A&M to a draw the second half for a 13-0 Missouri Valley Conference victory Saturday before 25,000 rain - soaked homecoming fans.

The powerful Houston team scored its first tally with 3:40 gone in the game when fullback Donnie Caraway plunged over from the two. The touchdown was set up by an Aggie fumble on the 22, and Houston required only four plays to score. Quarterback Don Flynn converted.

The Cougars scored again late in the second period after intercepting an Aggie pass on the A&M 37. Four plays later, in a downpour, quarterback Sammy Blount passed from the eight to right end Buddy Boek in the end zone for the score.

Houston failed to make the extra point when Flynn tried to run it across and was stopped on the five-yard line.

The Aggies controlled the ball during most of the fourth quarter but were unable to score. Coach Cliff Speegle's young ball club was stopped on the six-yard line when halfback Forrest Campbell fumbled, and Caraway recovered for Houston.

An earlier A&M drive, in the second quarter, was stopped after 77 yards on the two.

Girl Wrestlers On Triple Main Event At Kallio's

An explosive triple mainevent will be awaiting local grappling fans this Tuesday when wrestling returns to Kallio's Arena after a week layoff.

Promoter Kallio cancelled his show last week to give plenty of time for his Cook-Flanagan boxing bout in case there had been rain on Monday night.

But the old gentleman returned with a bang! This week's card has all three-fall main events including a girls' match. Caroll Cook of Columbus, Ohio, tangles with Mary Jane Mull from Tampa, Fla. in what will probably be the most popular event of the evening.

"Wild Bill" Steddum faces the Golden Terror in another one-third of the top matches.

To wrap up the slate will be a battle of champions. Jack Curtis, Louisiana heavyweight champ, meets Jose Alvarado, the Mexican heavyweight king.

Alvarado has appeared on the Monroe mat only once before. But in that single glimpse local wrestling enthusiasts became convinced that he was a vicious villain who means business. The slick-headed bone stretcher from across the border says very little in the ring —just wrestles.

In the past, girl wrestlers have always proven to be great favorites with Kallio's customers and Carrol and Mary Jane are almost certain to hold true to form. They will be going the three fall distance just as the men.

All three matches will have time limits of one hour with two falls needed to win.

Kallio is keeping his regular admission prices. The doors will open at 7 o'clock with the program beginning at 8:15.

Wisconsin, Purdue Wobble To 6-6 Tie In Big Ten Duel

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20 (UP) Wisconsin and Purdue scored a touchdown apiece in a Big Ten football game Saturday, then each fumbled four times and stumbled their way to a 6-6 tie.

The result left both teams without a conference victory, each having lost in Big Ten play earlier.

The touchdowns were scored in the first 22 minutes of the game, when both teams showed consistent offensive abilities and the game appeared to be a budding thriller.

Wisconsin scored on eight plays the first time it got the ball in the first period. Danny Lewis' 30-yard dash capped the 68-yard drive with about a third of the period gone. Fullback Glen Bestor missed the kick for extra point.

Purdue's only successful drive came in the second period — 13 plays that took the Boilermakers 80 yards. Quarterback Lenny Dawson, deadly in short passes but unable to connect with long ones, passed four times during the drive. Dawson missed the conversion, his first bad kick this season.

Wisconsin 6 0 0 0—6
Purdue 0 6 0 0—6

Hoosiers Return To Swat Huskers In Fourth Period

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 20 (UP)—Fullback Bob Fee rammed over for two fourth-period touchdowns Saturday to lead Indiana to a 19-14 victory over determined Nebraska

The Hoosiers, registering their first win in four starts this season, spotted the Cornhuskers two touchdowns, but relentlessly wore down the tiring Nebraskans in the final stages.

The first of Fee's touchdown plunges was set up by a 20-yard Cichowski to Bomba pass which carried to the two. The second was set up by halfback Dave Whitesel, who smashed from the 15 to the one only minutes later.

Nebraska dominated the play until midway in the second period, and had a 14-0 lead when the Hoosiers finally uncorked an effective passing attack. The first Indiana drive included five straight pass completions, three from Cichowski to Bomba.

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 20 —Little Don Watson, who beat Texas Christian last year with a 51-yard run, clattered down shadowy rain swept sidelines to set up a touchdown he passed for himself today and it brought Texas A&M an upset 7-6 victory in the biggest game of Southwest Conference football.

Texas Christian's mighty Frogs had virtually camped on the Aggie goal line for three periods and were leading 6-0 when Watson electrified the crowd of 42,000 that sat huddled under umbrellas and raincoats with a 26-yard dash that set the ball on the Frog 31, John Crow hammered right end down to the TCU seven, then Watson passed to Crow on the 1-yard line and the score was tied.

Out came Loyd Taylor to kick the extra point and Texas A&M had felled the nation's No. 4 team and surged into the favorite's spot in the southwest conference race.

The Aggies beat TCU 19-16 last year and had they not fallen to Texas on Thanksgiving Day in an upset would have won the championship.

Part of the game was played in a driving rain and winds that approximated 90 miles per hour. Paper, stray coats and cushions were blown onto the field. But it was at the height of the storm that TCU made its touchdown.

Tex. Christian..... 0 0 6 0 —6

Texas Christian scoring: Touchdown: O. Williams (11, pass from Curtis).

Texas A&M scoring — Touchdown: Crow (7, pass from Watson). Conversion: Taylor.

Underdog Nittany Lions Upset Ohio State Bucks, 7-6

COLUMBUS, Ohio Oct. 20 (AP)—Penn State knocked much of the luster off Ohio State's Buckeyes today as the three-touchdown underdog Nittany Lions beat the two-time Big Ten champions at their own game and won a 7-6 football victory before a sellout crowd of 82,584.

It was a game of lost opportunities with all the scoring packed in a thrilling, final four minutes. Ohio State's vaunted ground attack, which had averaged 333 yards per game in victories over Nebraska, Stanford and Illinois, was held to 188 yards by the stubborn defense of the Easterners. Ohio, which has featured control ball all season, lost out on that end, too. The Lions held the ball for 75 plays to the Buckeyes' 58.

After three quarters of frustrations, in which Penn State lost the ball three times inside Ohio's 20 — twice on pass interceptions and once on a fumble — Penn State struck suddenly late in the fourth.

A 73-yard punt by quarterback Milton Plum died on Ohio's 3, and the Bucks, unable to dig out of the coffin corner, punted to the 45.

Thirteen plays later, sophomore Bruce Gilmore banged over from the 1-foot line and Plum converted to give the Lions a 7-0 lead.

The Bucks, noted for their grinding ground assault, took to the airways in the fading minutes and Jimmy Roseboro and Don Clark hit end Leo Brown with consecutive tosses covering 64 yards to the Lions' 3. From there Clark plunged into the end zone.

As the teams lined up for the conversion, Brown dashed back on the field and Ohio was pentlized 5 yards for having too many men in play.

Pittsburgh Tops Duke With Big 2nd Quarter

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 20 (UP) —Three touchdowns in five minutes, featuring the running and throwing of Corny Salvaterra and the pass-snatching of big Joe Walton, gave Pittsburgh a 27-14 win over Duke Saturday in the 10th annual Oyster Bowl.

The trip-hammer touchdown flurry started early in the second period before a crowd of 28,000 most of them dismayed Duke partisans, and wrapped up what was otherwise a close game.

Salvaterra started the onslaught on the first play of the second period when he raced seven yards to score. A few plays later he connected on a 27-yard scoring pass to Walton. Two minutes after that, Walton got in the clear, caught a pass from quarterback Darrell Lewis, and raced to the goal on a 59-yard play.

Trojans Tumble Huskies For 4th Straight, 35-7

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (UP)—All-America halfback Jon Arnett, backed up by hard-running fullback C. R. Roberts, led the University of Southern California to a 35-7 victory over Washington in a Pacific Coast Conference football game witnessed by 44,749 fans in Memorial Coliseum Saturday.

The victory was Southern Cal's fourth straight this season and kept the Trojans undefeated in conference play.

Arnett, limited to five games this season by a conference ruling, made his final home appearance a briliant one as he moved up to third place among Trojan all - time ground-gaining heroes with 1,781 yards for his collegiate career. He replaced the great Morley Drury.

But it took the hard - running Roberts to help get Southern California into the lead and halfback Tony Ortega punched over two of the scores.

Washington's hard charging ground game led by Dean Darby, Luther Carr, Credell Green and Jim Jones worried Southern California for three periods but fell apart in the final quarter when Southern Cal demoralized the Huskies with three touchdowns.

Southern Cal spotted Washington a touchdown lead in the first period and then roared back in the second to score a touchdown and field goal for a 9-7 halftime lead.

Score by periods:

Sooners Pack 20 Points In Second Quarter For Win

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 20 — Powerful Oklahoma captured its 34th consecutive football victory, 34-12, today but met unexpected competition from a souped-up Kansas team which scored the first touchdown Oklahoma has allowed in its last eight regular season games.

More than 31,000 fans cheered lustily as the Jayhawks matched Oklahoma's first quarter touchdown and then produced the only score of the last quarter.

In between the first and last periods, however, it was all Oklahoma and the Sooners won as they pleased with halfback Tommy McDonald, a 1955 all-American, and his understudy, sophomore David Baker, each scoring two touchdowns.

Oklahoma led 7-6 after one quarter, thanks to quarterback Jimmy Harris' conversion, then broke loose for three touchdowns in the second period for a 27-6 halftime lead.

Oklahoma lost a touchdown in the third quarter when halfback Clendon Thomas fumbled at the goal and Kansas' Homer Floyd recovered in the end zone. The Sooners banged back, however, for their only second half touchdown with Baker scoring from the 5 then converting.

Oklahoma	7	20	7	0—34
Kansas	6	0	0	6—12

Oklahoma scoring — Touchdowns: Thomas (1, plunge); McDonald 2 (12, run; 7, run) Timberlake (10, Lass from Baker); Baker); Baker (5, run). Conversions; Harris 2, Baker 2.

Menger's Fakes Ramrod Jackets Past Plainsmen

ATLANTA, Oct. 20 (AP) — Johnny Menger, Georgia Tech's "Mister Clutch" utility man, faked Auburn tacklers out of their shoes on a 60-yard run and an 87-yard punt return today and Tech walloped the Plainsmen 28-7 in their traditional football battle.

Menger, a 156-pound senior who can do everything, set up a touchdown with his almost unbelievable 60-yard, off-tackle sprint to the 1 to give Tech a 14-7 lead in the second quarter. Then, in the third, he made another fantastic run, eluding tackler after tackler and going all the way with a punt.

It was revenge aplenty for Auburn's 14-12 upset victory last year which cost Tech the Southeastern Conference championship. It left the Engineers unbeaten in four starts this season.

Auburn matched Tech's first-period score with a fine drive of its own, but the underdog Plainsmen were not in the game after Menger and his nimble feet started flying. Auburn's scoring drive covered 77 yards in 15 plays. Sophomore halfback Tommy Lorino, who seems destined for greatness, got the ball in scoring range with a fine 11-yard burst over guard to the Tech 5.

A Tech offside penalty moved it to the 1 and quarterback Howell Tubbs sneaked it across.

Auburn	7	0	0	7— 7
Ga. Tech	7	7	14	0—28

Auburn scoring — Touchdowns: Tubbs.

Tennessee Socks 'Bama With 17th Straight Defeat

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20 (AP) — Johnny Majors and Al Carter, Tennessee's talented tailback twosome, treated 27,500 fans to some dazzling running today as the Vols defeated Alabama 24-0 in a Southeastern Conference football game.

The fleet little halfbacks accounted for 183 yards rushing and passing to pick up seventh-ranking Tennessee's fourth victory of the season and hand Alabama its 17th loss in a row.

Majors, showing no ill effects from a shoulder injury that had sidelined him a week, raced 43 yards for one touchdown and engineered another while playing less than 20 minutes.

The 162-pound All-American candidate ran 9 times for 59 yards and completed 3 of 5 passes for 32. He averaged 45 yards on four kicks.

Carter, Majors' understudy, sped 44 yards for one touchdown and knifed from the 1 for a second. He netted 54 yards on 9 runs and connected with 4 of 7 passes for 38.

Fullback Tommy Bronson plunged from the 2 to complete the Vols' scoring.

Alabama, which hasn't won a game since it whipped Tennessee 27-0 here two years ago, drove down to the Vol 2 in the second period but lost the ball on downs.

Tennessee scoring: Touchdowns, Bronson (2, plunge), Carter 2 (44, run; 1, plunge); majors (43, run).

With the Recreation Grid Quiz well pass the halfway mark and the leaders running pretty close, the Monroe Recreation Department is slipping in a few of the lesser-known games to test the skill of amateur forecasters. Some of the games falling in this category this week are West Chester vs. East Stroudsburg and Dickinson vs. Swarthmore.

Contenders circle the names of the teams they think will win from each week's selections, sign their names and addresses clearly and mail to "Monroe Recreation Department, P. O. box 1293, Monroe" for a postmark not later than midnight Thursday.

Florida Topples Vanderbilt From S.E.C. Contention

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20 — Florida passed and ran for three touchdowns today, scoring in each of the last three periods to defeat Vanderbilt, 21-7, in a Southeastern Conference football game.

Stymied in the opening period, the Gators took to the air early in the second quarter and scored on a pass from quarterback Jimmy Dunn to end Bobby Burford good for 34 yards.

The Commodores moved 70 yards in 19 plays for their score in the final period.

Today's loss, its second conference defeat in two weeks, all but tossed Vanderbilt out of contention for the 1956 championship. The victory was Florida's second in the big 13, against one SEC loss.

Florida	0	7	7	7—21
Vanderbilt	0	0	0	7— 7

Hawkeyes Easily Trip Hawaiians In 34 To 0 Duel

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 20 (AP) —Undefeated Iowa rolled over the University of Hawaii, 34-0, Saturday despite a parade of Hawkeye substitutes who began entering the game in the second period.

The scrappy Hawaiians, who traveled 4,500 miles for their first venture against a Big Ten team, never threatened the Iowa goal line.

The crowd of 40,000, sitting in balmy weather that made the Hawaiians think of home, watched Coast Forest Evashevski's Hawkeyes play close to their vests. But the Iowa running attack and Hawaii errors still produced the predicted five-touchdown margin.

Michigan Visions Bowl As Northwestern Falls

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 20 (UP)—Michigan put a foot on the road to the Rose Bowl Saturday by turning back the stubborn Northwestern Wildcats 34-20 in a game played in intermittent rain before 81,227 fans.

Michigan's superior manpower wore down the Wildcats, who used only 26 men in taking their second loss of the season. All-America end Ron Kramer, halfback Terry Barr and sophomore fullback John Herrnstein sparkled in the scoring bursts by the Wolverines.

Herrnstein scored three times, twice on short plunges and once on a 17-yard run. Kramer made two circus catches, one for a touchdown and the other for a key gain, both times outleaping and outfighting two Wildcat defensemen.

Barr didn't score, but he ran, passed and blocked brilliantly. The slender halfback threw the 16-yard scoring aerial which Kramer caught for Michigan's fourth touchdown just before the half ended Michigan 27, Northwestern 13.

The Wildcats, 21 point underdogs, scored first midway in the opening quarter. Right halfback Wilmer Fowler got a key block from left half Bob McKiever and rambled 46 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown. McKiever converted.

Michigan came back and scored after the kickoff. Herrnstein went over on a 17-yard run over the left side of the Wildcat line. Kramer's try for the extra point was wide and Northwestern led 7-6.

Michigan turned a Wildcat fumble into a touchdown after the Wolverine kickoff. Right half Bob Ptacek passed 15 yards to Jim Maddock for the score, and Kramer converted making it 13-7 at the end of the first quarter.

Michigan	13	14	0	7—34

Syracuse Defense Halts Army Drive To Preserve Win

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20 (UP)—A rigid Syracuse line held Army to a fourth period standstill on the one-foot mark Saturday to preserve a 7-0 victory before a record crowd of more than 40,000 at Archbold Stadium.

Hard-running Syracuse halfback Jimmy Brown set up the only score on a 36-yard second period run, and the evenly - matched teams staged a battle of rock-hard lines throughout the remainder of the game.

Army threatened only twice, in the third period and again on a 67-yard drive to the Syracuse one-foot mark with less than three minutes left to play. The Orangemen took the ball on downs and ran it to Army's 44 as the game ended.

The Syracuse line crumbled only once, in the third period when the Cadets moved 70 yards to the five-yard line. Army quarterback Dave Bourland flipped a backward pass to halfback Bob Munger, who missed the ball. Munger picked it up back on the 20 and was downed on the 31 for a 26-yard loss.

Brown, the Syracuse workhorse, gained 125 yards in 22 carries to lead the ground-gainers on both teams, his 36-yard run took the ball to the Army five and on the next play halfback Jim Ridlon carried over for the score at 8:21 of the second quarter. Brown converted.

Score by periods:

Syracuse	0	7	0	0—7

Syracuse scoring: Touchdowns, Ridlon (5, run). Conversion, Brown.

Penalties Erase Cincinnati's Bid For Navy Upset

ANNAPOLIS, Md. Oct. 20 (AP)—Cincinnati was penalized out of a chance for a football upset today as Navy fought desperately in the second half to hold on to a 13-7 victory.

Halfback Ned Oldham scored two early touchdowns and kicked an extra point to get Navy off to a 13-0 lead before Cincinnati had made a first down.

The ponderous Cincinnati team came to life midway in the second period and scored on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Bill Williams to halfback Jim Niemann, a passing combination from high school days at Purcell in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati	0	7	0	0—7

Niemann (33, pass from Williams) Conversion: Evans.

Florida Deadlocks With Wake Forest On Soaked Field

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 20 (UP)—Speedy Lee Corso, switching from quarter to halfback and back again, sent Florida State University slogging through the mud Saturday to a 14-14 tie with Wake Forest.

Corso, running and passing on a field that had soaked up an inch and half of rain, almost turned it into a victory when he brought his team to the Wake Forest five with two minutes left. But a penalty and a misfired field goal attempt from the 19 turned the game into a deadlock.

Deacon fullback Bill Barnes, who scored both Wake Forest touchdowns, made it a one-man effort as he splashed through and over the Florida State team for two periods.

Not only that, but I'll start a Monthly Investment Plan

Is the girl you want to marry reluctant to say Yes? Do you need to build character with your wife? Then just use the magic words above. She may ask the following questions — so be sure you know the answers:

She: What is this Monthly Investment Plan?

You: It's a pay-as-you-go plan that helps you put money regularly in the stock of some of America's largest corporations — for as little as $40 every three months. After we've paid for our living expenses and have money set aside to meet family emergencies we can invest what's left over in stock.

She: What can the stock do for our marriage?

You: It can help keep it sweet and jolly because when we own stock we are part-owners of the company and if the company grows our money can grow. And the dividends we receive from profits can increase our income.

She: But will the company always make a profit so it can pay those lovely dividends?

You: It may not. If it doesn't, there's usually no dividend. And the price of stocks can go down as well as up. That's why stocks are not for everybody. But last year 9 out of 10 stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange paid dividends.

She: What makes you think you're smart enough to choose the right stock?

You: Because I'm smart enough to ask a broker in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange for facts and advice. Advice on whether I should invest — and how much.

She: Can I have the dividends?

You: (You'll have to answer this one yourself, old man. We're just warning you what's coming.)

Now that you've bowled her over, keep the upper hand by perusing our wonderful little booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." Then you can give her the records of more than 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid dividends every year from 25 to 108 years. It tells which of them have paid progressively higher dividends over the past ten years . . . which pay 5% to 6% at recent prices . . . which are favored by financial institutions . . . and much more. And find the facts about the Monthly Investment Plan in our booklet, "$40 — and I'm an owner of Common Stocks." Both of these immensely useful little booklets are yours free. Oklahoma Marches Over Kansas, 34 To 12

Sooners Pack 20 Points In Second Quarter For Win

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 20 — Powerful Oklahoma captured its 34th consecutive football victory, 34-12, today but met unexpected competition from a souped-up Kansas team which scored the first touchdown Oklahoma has allowed in its last eight regular season games.

More than 31,000 fans cheered lustily as the Jayhawks matched Oklahoma's first quarter touchdown and then produced the only score of the last quarter.

In between the first and last periods, however, it was all Oklahoma and the Sooners won as they pleased with halfback Tommy McDonald, a 1955 all-American, and his understudy, sophomore David Baker, each scoring two touchdowns.

Oklahoma led 7-6 after one quarter, thanks to quarterback Jimmy Harris' conversion, then broke loose for three touchdowns in the second period for a 27-6 halftime lead.

Oklahoma lost a touchdown in the third quarter when halfback Clendon Thomas fumbled at the goal and Kansas' Homer Floyd recovered in the end zone. The Sooners banged back, however, for their only second half touchdown with Baker scoring from the 5 then converting.

Oklahoma	7	20	7	0—34
Kansas	6	0	0	6—12

Oklahoma scoring — Touchdowns: Thomas (1, plunge); McDonald 2 (12, run; 7, run) Timberlake (10, Lass from Baker); Baker); Baker (5, run). Conversions; Harris 2, Baker 2.

Menger's Fakes Ramrod Jackets Past Plainsmen

ATLANTA, Oct. 20 (AP) — Johnny Menger, Georgia Tech's "Mister Clutch" utility man, faked Auburn tacklers out of their shoes on a 60-yard run and an 87-yard punt return today and Tech walloped the Plainsmen 28-7 in their traditional football battle.

Menger, a 156-pound senior who can do everything, set up a touchdown with his almost unbelievable 60-yard, off-tackle sprint to the 1 to give Tech a 14-7 lead in the second quarter. Then, in the third, he made another fantastic run, eluding tackler after tackler and going all the way with a punt.

It was revenge aplenty for Auburn's 14-12 upset victory last year which cost Tech the Southeastern Conference championship. It left the Engineers unbeaten in four starts this season.

Auburn matched Tech's first-period score with a fine drive of its own, but the underdog Plainsmen were not in the game after Menger and his nimble feet started flying. Auburn's scoring drive covered 77 yards in 15 plays. Sophomore halfback Tommy Lorino, who seems destined for greatness, got the ball in scoring range with a fine 11-yard burst over guard to the Tech 5.

A Tech offside penalty moved it to the 1 and quarterback Howell Tubbs sneaked it across.

Auburn	7	0	0	7— 7
Ga. Tech	7	7	14	0—28

Auburn scoring — Touchdowns: Tubbs.

Tennessee Socks 'Bama With 17th Straight Defeat

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20 (AP) — Johnny Majors and Al Carter, Tennessee's talented tailback twosome, treated 27,500 fans to some dazzling running today as the Vols defeated Alabama 24-0 in a Southeastern Conference football game.

The fleet little halfbacks accounted for 183 yards rushing and passing to pick up seventh-ranking Tennessee's fourth victory of the season and hand Alabama its 17th loss in a row.

Majors, showing no ill effects from a shoulder injury that had sidelined him a week, raced 43 yards for one touchdown and engineered another while playing less than 20 minutes.

The 162-pound All-American candidate ran 9 times for 59 yards and completed 3 of 5 passes for 32. He averaged 45 yards on four kicks.

Carter, Majors' understudy, sped 44 yards for one touchdown and knifed from the 1 for a second. He netted 54 yards on 9 runs and connected with 4 of 7 passes for 38.

Fullback Tommy Bronson plunged from the 2 to complete the Vols' scoring.

Alabama, which hasn't won a game since it whipped Tennessee 27-0 here two years ago, drove down to the Vol 2 in the second period but lost the ball on downs.

Tennessee scoring: Touchdowns, Bronson (2, plunge), Carter 2 (44, run; 1, plunge); majors (43, run).

Florida Topples Vanderbilt From S.E.C. Contention

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 20 — Florida passed and ran for three touchdowns today, scoring in each of the last three periods to defeat Vanderbilt, 21-7, in a Southeastern Conference football game.

Stymied in the opening period, the Gators took to the air early in the second quarter and scored on a pass from quarterback Jimmy Dunn to end Bobby Burford good for 34 yards.

The Commodores moved 70 yards in 19 plays for their score in the final period.

Today's loss, its second conference defeat in two weeks, all but tossed Vanderbilt out of contention for the 1956 championship. The victory was Florida's second in the big 13, against one SEC loss.

Florida	0	7	7	7—21
Vanderbilt	0	0	0	7— 7

Hawkeyes Easily Trip Hawaiians In 34 To 0 Duel

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Oct. 20 (AP) —Undefeated Iowa rolled over the University of Hawaii, 34-0, Saturday despite a parade of Hawkeye substitutes who began entering the game in the second period.

The scrappy Hawaiians, who traveled 4,500 miles for their first venture against a Big Ten team, never threatened the Iowa goal line.

The crowd of 40,000, sitting in balmy weather that made the Hawaiians think of home, watched Coast Forest Evashevski's Hawkeyes play close to their vests. But the Iowa running attack and Hawaii errors still produced the predicted five-touchdown margin.

Michigan Visions Bowl As Northwestern Falls

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 20 (UP)—Michigan put a foot on the road to the Rose Bowl Saturday by turning back the stubborn Northwestern Wildcats 34-20 in a game played in intermittent rain before 81,227 fans.

Michigan's superior manpower wore down the Wildcats, who used only 26 men in taking their second loss of the season. All-America end Ron Kramer, halfback Terry Barr and sophomore fullback John Herrnstein sparkled in the scoring bursts by the Wolverines.

Herrnstein scored three times, twice on short plunges and once on a 17-yard run. Kramer made two circus catches, one for a touchdown and the other for a key gain, both times outleaping and outfighting two Wildcat defensemen.

Barr didn't score, but he ran, passed and blocked brilliantly. The slender halfback threw the 16-yard scoring aerial which Kramer caught for Michigan's fourth touchdown just before the half ended Michigan 27, Northwestern 13.

The Wildcats, 21 point underdogs, scored first midway in the opening quarter. Right halfback Wilmer Fowler got a key block from left half Bob McKiever and rambled 46 yards down the sidelines for the touchdown. McKiever converted.

Michigan came back and scored after the kickoff. Herrnstein went over on a 17-yard run over the left side of the Wildcat line. Kramer's try for the extra point was wide and Northwestern led 7-6.

Michigan turned a Wildcat fumble into a touchdown after the Wolverine kickoff. Right half Bob Ptacek passed 15 yards to Jim Maddock for the score, and Kramer converted making it 13-7 at the end of the first quarter.

Syracuse Defense Halts Army Drive To Preserve Win

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 20 (UP)—A rigid Syracuse line held Army to a fourth period standstill on the one-foot mark Saturday to preserve a 7-0 victory before a record crowd of more than 40,000 at Archbold Stadium.

Hard-running Syracuse halfback Jimmy Brown set up the only score on a 36-yard second period run, and the evenly - matched teams staged a battle of rock-hard lines throughout the remainder of the game.

Army threatened only twice, in the third period and again on a 67-yard drive to the Syracuse one-foot mark with less than three minutes left to play. The Orangemen took the ball on downs and ran it to Army's 44 as the game ended.

The Syracuse line crumbled only once, in the third period when the Cadets moved 70 yards to the five-yard line. Army quarterback Dave Bourland flipped a backward pass to halfback Bob Munger, who missed the ball. Munger picked it up back on the 20 and was downed on the 31 for a 26-yard loss.

Brown, the Syracuse workhorse, gained 125 yards in 22 carries to lead the ground-gainers on both teams, his 36-yard run took the ball to the Army five and on the next play halfback Jim Ridlon carried over for the score at 8:21 of the second quarter. Brown converted.

Score by periods:

Penalties Erase Cincinnati's Bid For Navy Upset

ANNAPOLIS, Md. Oct. 20 (AP)—Cincinnati was penalized out of a chance for a football upset today as Navy fought desperately in the second half to hold on to a 13-7 victory.

Halfback Ned Oldham scored two early touchdowns and kicked an extra point to get Navy off to a 13-0 lead before Cincinnati had made a first down.

The ponderous Cincinnati team came to life midway in the second period and scored on a 33-yard pass from quarterback Bill Williams to halfback Jim Niemann, a passing combination from high school days at Purcell in Cincinnati.

Jordan Electing New Parliament In Air Of Crisis

AMMAN, Jordan, Oct. 20 (AP) — Jordanian voters, living in an air of crisis, are electing a new 40-seat Parliament tomorrow expected to call for abrogation of this desert kingdom's treaty with Britain.

The treaty is a defense alliance that has sustained poverty-stricken Jordan since its birth as an independent nation 10 years ago. It gives Britain three military bases in Jordan. In return, the British pay 25 to 30 million dollars a year for the upkeep of Jordan's 20,000-man army, once rated the Arab world's best; and promise to aid the Jordanians if they are attacked.

Anti-Western elements among Jordan's 1,400,000 population — stirred up by increased Israeli frontier attacks and the rise of Egypt's President Nasser as a professed champion of Arab rights — figure to gain so much ground that even moderate independents will be under heavy fire to join in cutting the last formal link with Britain.

The election raised anew the question whether Jordan may eventually be tucked under the wing of Iraq, a Baghdad Pact member whose King Faisal II is a cousin of Jordan's 21-year-old King Hussein, or go to the Egyptian-Syrian-Saudi Arabian triumvirate headed by Nasser.

Although the campaign appears freer than any ever held before in Jordan, interest seemed slack. Election talk has been overshadowed by Israeli raids that have taken a toll of 150 Jordanian lives in little more than a month and generated a new wave of war fever. The weak caretaker government of Premier Ibrahim Hashem has no interest in electing any particular group of candidates.

A third of Jordan's population is made up of Arab refugees of the Palestine War of 1948, an embittered group living on meager rations supplied by the United Nations.

Politicians expect at least one Communist, Dr. Yacoub Ziadin, to win a seat. He is a highly popular physician. Only one Communist has ever been elected to Parliament in an Arab country. He was Khalid Bekdash, a winner in Syria in 1954.

Moderate independents probably will win a majority of seats, but anti-Western elements could use Parliament as a forum for stirring up public opinion to force the independents into going along with the treaty abrogation demand.

Judge Sentences Negro 'Car Pool' Group In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 20 (UP)—City Judge John Rudd, calling on "divine guidence" fined 21 Negroes $500 each and gave them suspended 60-day jail sentences Saturday for operating a car pool in a racial boycott of city buses.

"I have never called for divine guidance so much and so often," Rudd said in handing down the sentence at the close of a four-day trial. "I hope each of you will be christian enough to abide by the law."

The Negroes, including local NAACP President the Rev. C. K. Steele, were convicted of running an illegal public transportation system without a city permit or a state "for hire" license.

The car pool was set up five months ago when Tallahassee's 15,000 Negroes launched a boycott of Cities Transit, Inc., to protest segregated seating.

Both the boycott and car pool are still operating, but police Chief Frank Stoutamire did not comment on what affect the court ruling will have. Attorney Francisco Rodriguez, representing the defendants and the Negro Inter Civic Council, said he will file a motion for a new trial.

Rudd also imposed a 60-day jail sentence for those failing to pay the fine and a 60-day suspended sentence with one year's probation for all. But he stayed execution until the motion for new trial is decided.

Rodriguez, facing special city prosecutor Mark Hawes of Tampa who has just been named counsel for a legislative committee investigating the NAACP, charged in his closing arguments that the city made no showing that any riders in the car pool paid the drivers or that the pool was a business activity. He called no witnesses.

Rodriguez charged the "for hire" laws were being given a "peculiar and strained interpretation" to apply only to the bus company because the Negroes "have taken exception to the manner in which the bus company operates its seating arrangements."

Hawes, however, charged the Inter Civic Council could "take over the taxi business (and) ... I have not the slightest difficulty in arriving at the conclusion they engaged in the taxi business in Tallahasse."

Hawes, who called dozens of policemen and newspaper reporters to back up city charges the car pool operated on regular bus routes and had regular pickup points, said the operation endangered "every franchise the city has ever issued."

Approximately 220,000 Texans are employed in the state's petroleum industry which boasts an annual payroll of about $1 billion.

Current developments in Poland and Hungary probably will have serious repercussions inside Russia.

They could lead to a change in the leadership of the Soviet Communist party or to a basic change in its policies, or both. In the present situation this could happen quickly. Much depends, of course, on how things go in Warsaw and Budapest and in the other East European satellite capitals, but already the post-Stalin leadership in the Kremlin has been hoisted on the horns of a most difficult dilemma.

The problem which Nikita Khrushchev and his colleagues must now decide is this: Shall they push further with a program of liberalization and "de-Stalinization" in the satellites and the Soviet Union or attempt to backtrack on this program in a big hurry?

There is great danger to the Soviet Communist party in proceeding further with liberalization. The cases of Poland and Hungary demonstrate vividly that a little freedom is a dangerous thing, that once a totalitarian regime begins letting up, all sorts of pent-up pressures begin to exert themselves in such a way as to endanger the foundations of the regime itself.

If the Soviet Union permits liberalization and "de-Stalinization" to go any further in Poland and Hungary, both countries will shortly cease to be Soviet puppet regimes. Like Yugoslavia they will have their independence from Moscow and the Kremlin will have to deal with them, as it deals with Yugoslavia, on a completely new basis.

And this is not the end. If Poland and Hungary should defect from the Moscow orbit of communism then other satellites would be tempted to follow. Czechoslovakia is the obvious next weak link in the chain. Ultimately this sort of thing might arouse within the Soviet Union itself some of the same spirit now motivating Poles and Hungarians.

On the other hand, for the Kremlin to try to backtrack now on liberalization and de-Stalinization would probably be even more dangerous. Having already exposed Stalinism and discredited some of its methods, in particular the method of purge on which Stalinism rested, the Soviet leadership can hardly return to this method without exposing itself. Particularly in the satellites this could easily lead to open revolt against communism or at any rate against the Soviet Union. The whole situation could explode.

It is impossible to predict in which of these ways the Kremlin will move—or whether it will simply attempt to stand still. The situation in Moscow is complicated by the fact that members of the Soviet leadership have different views of the problem.

One thing is obvious. If things go badly for the Soviet Union in Poland and Hungary it would be a logical occasion for a clique of young and tough men from the ranks or for the marshals of the Soviet army, or both, to sweep into history's ashcan most, or all, of the present leaders of the U.S.S.R.

Compulsory School Law In Missouri Headed For Test In Circuit Court

CALIFORNIA, Mo. Oct. 20 — A test of Missouri's compulsory school attendance law is headed for the Circuit Court because Mrs. Mary L. Schoenheit wouldn't give up her fight against formal education for her 7-year-old daughter Mary.

With the volunteered help of a St. Louis attorney, she has appealed a Magistrate Court order that she put Mary in public school by Monday or serve out a 10-day jail sentence and pay a $5 fine.

W. G. Heidbreder, Moniteau County magistrate, sentenced her Wednesday after he found the former school teacher had refused to send Mary to school. Mrs. Schoenheit argued that public schools just turn youngsters into "trained seals." She said she had given her daughter "substantially equivalent" instruction at home.

Mrs. Schoenheit went to jail, but a few hours later was released on her promise to put Mary in school.

Late Thursday, Ward Driscoll of St. Louis called Mrs. Schoenheit to offer his help as an attorney and they decided yesterday on the appeal.

Why did she start the fight in the first place? What made her "flee from society?"

Possibly the biographical notes she typed out at home in the old rural house, "on 20 acres of Missouri brush," provide a key.

She was born and reared in Cameron, a small agricultural center in northwestern Misouri. She grew up to become an accomplished musician, a public and private school teacher and later a book reviewer and lecturer.

She married a former Kansas City Philharmonic flutist, Brown Schoenheit, and he became her manager during the years she lectured to groups in California.

Then, she said, she found out she was just a "pseudo-intellectual." She wanted to quit the lecture circuit but her husband dissuaded her.

Shortly after that, she found she was to be a mother and "I vowed to become a model parent and conventional member of society.

"We moved to the suburbs. Immediately my troubles began, due chiefly to the intelligence and temperament of my infant. I tried everything.

"Back of me today are seven years of experimentation, disappointments, study, research, thought and suffering."

She said she studied the textbooks and books on modern teaching methods. After going through them, she said, "If I didn't know better, I would say they were written in an insane asylum."

Mrs. Schoenheit says "Brilliant children are quiet, sensitive and dignified. They do not do well in school. They can't adjust to being like everyone else. They become behavior problems and suffer dreadfully."

That's when the guidance counselors — she calls them "brain pickers" — step in and finish the job, she says.

"I made up my mind I could never submit to their insults or surrender my child to their torture," Mrs. Schoenheit said.

If she loses her fight here, she says she may move to Mississippi or Alabama — "we have relatives there and they won't treat us the way we've been treated here."

She says she has received 60 or 70 letters from other persons who, like herself have complained against education systems now in operation. All but one cheered her for her stand, she said, and one writer even sent her $5 to help finance her private "war."

"Our schools," she said, "have usurped the rights and duties and responsibilities of parents. Parents are being fooled by the term 'social development.'

"But the process is nothing but becoming like everyone else."

The adjustment will be almost overwhelming for the child, too. On the way home from the magistrate's office little Mary wailed:

M'Keon Released From Marine Brig

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C., Oct. 20 (UP)— Former drill instructor Matthew C. McKeon walked out of the brig Saturday to try and rebuild the Marine career wrecked last April when he marched his laggard platoon into a creek and six men drowned.

The ex-staff sergeant, now a buck private, returned temporarily to a job as chaplain's assistant. But he will be transferred within a month to the Second Marine Air Wing at Cherry Point, N. C.

McKeon said he ordered his platoon of 74 recruits on a night march to Ribbon Creek, about a mile from the platoon's barracks, because the outfit was "goofing off," and the drill intructor wanted to "teach the men discipline."

The platoon panicked in the water during the darkness and six of the men drowned.

McKeon apparently went into seclusion with Navy Cdr. Maurus Cook, the depot Roman Catholic chaplain, immediately after his release Saturday. Reporters calling the chaplain's office were told both Cook and McKeon were "out."

McKeon served as Cook's clerk for several months, before and after his trial by general court martial.

Jordan Electing New Parliament In Air Of Crisis

AMMAN, Jordan, Oct. 20 (AP) — Jordanian voters, living in an air of crisis, are electing a new 40-seat Parliament tomorrow expected to call for abrogation of this desert kingdom's treaty with Britain.

The treaty is a defense alliance that has sustained poverty-stricken Jordan since its birth as an independent nation 10 years ago. It gives Britain three military bases in Jordan. In return, the British pay 25 to 30 million dollars a year for the upkeep of Jordan's 20,000-man army, once rated the Arab world's best; and promise to aid the Jordanians if they are attacked.

Anti-Western elements among Jordan's 1,400,000 population — stirred up by increased Israeli frontier attacks and the rise of Egypt's President Nasser as a professed champion of Arab rights — figure to gain so much ground that even moderate independents will be under heavy fire to join in cutting the last formal link with Britain.

The election raised anew the question whether Jordan may eventually be tucked under the wing of Iraq, a Baghdad Pact member whose King Faisal II is a cousin of Jordan's 21-year-old King Hussein, or go to the Egyptian-Syrian-Saudi Arabian triumvirate headed by Nasser.

Although the campaign appears freer than any ever held before in Jordan, interest seemed slack. Election talk has been overshadowed by Israeli raids that have taken a toll of 150 Jordanian lives in little more than a month and generated a new wave of war fever. The weak caretaker government of Premier Ibrahim Hashem has no interest in electing any particular group of candidates.

A third of Jordan's population is made up of Arab refugees of the Palestine War of 1948, an embittered group living on meager rations supplied by the United Nations.

Politicians expect at least one Communist, Dr. Yacoub Ziadin, to win a seat. He is a highly popular physician. Only one Communist has ever been elected to Parliament in an Arab country. He was Khald Bekdash, a winner in Syria in 1954.

Moderate independents probably will win a majority of seats, but anti-Western elements could use Parliament as a forum for stirring up public opinion to force the independents into going along with the treaty abrogation demand.

Constable Freed In Fatal Shooting Of Negro Driver

HERNANDO, Miss., Oct. 20 —A three-member justice of the peace court today cleared a constable in the fatal shooting of a Negro truck driver.

Constable W. A. Durdin testified he shot Rufus Haley, 42, with his service revolver after Haley grabbed him around the neck and tried to take the gun.

Judge Sentences Negro 'Car Pool' Group In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 20 (UP)—City Judge John Rudd, calling on "divine guidence" fined 21 Negroes $500 each and gave them suspended 60-day jail sentences Saturday for operating a car pool in a racial boycott of city buses.

"I have never called for divine guidance so much and so often," Rudd said in handing down the sentence at the close of a four-day trial. "I hope each of you will be christian enough to abide by the law."

The Negroes, including local NAACP President the Rev. C. K. Steele, were convicted of running an illegal public transportation system without a city permit or a state "for hire" license.

The car pool was set up five months ago when Tallahassee's 15,000 Negroes launched a boycott of Cities Transit, Inc., to protest segregated seating.

Both the boycott and car pool are still operating, but police Chief Frank Stoutamire did not comment on what affect the court ruling will have. Attorney Francisco Rodrigueg, representing the defendants and the Negro Inter Civic Council, said he will file a motion for a new trial.

Rudd also imposed a 60-day jail sentence for those failing to pay the fine and a 60-day suspended sentence with one year's probation for all. But he stayed execution until the motion for new trial is decided.

Rodriguez, facing special city prosecutor Mark Hawes of Tampa who has just been named counsel for a legislative committee investigating the NAACP, charged in his closing arguments that the city made no showing that any riders in the car pool paid the drivers or that the pool was a business activity. He called no witnesses.

Rodriguez charged the "for hire" laws were being given a "peculiar and strained interpretation" to apply only to the bus company because the Negroes "have taken exception to the manner in which the bus company operates its seating arrangements."

Hawes, however, charged the Inter Civic Council could "take over the taxi business (and) ... I have not the slightest difficulty in arriving at the conclusion they engaged in the taxi business in Tallahasse."

Hawes, who called dozens of policemen and newspaper reporters to back up city charges the car pool operated on regular bus routes and had regular pickup points, said the operation endangered "every franchise the city has ever issued."

Approximately 220,000 Texans are employed in the state's petroleum industry which boasts an annual payroll of about $1 billion.

Compulsory School Law In Missouri Headed For Test In Circuit Court

CALIFORNIA, Mo. Oct. 20 — A test of Missouri's compulsory school attendance law is headed for the Circuit Court because Mrs. Mary L. Schoenheit wouldn't give up her fight against formal education for her 7-year-old daughter Mary.

With the volunteered help of a St. Louis attorney, she has appealed a Magistrate Court order that she put Mary in public school by Monday or serve out a 10-day jail sentence and pay a $5 fine.

W. G. Heidbreder, Moniteau County magistrate, sentenced her Wednesday after he found the former school teacher had refused to send Mary to school. Mrs. Schoenheit argued that public schools just turn youngsters into "trained seals." She said she had given her daughter "substantially equivalent" instruction at home.

Mrs. Schoenheit went to jail, but a few hours later was released on her promise to put Mary in school.

Late Thursday, Ward Driscoll of St. Louis called Mrs. Schoenheit to offer his help as an attorney and they decided yesterday on the appeal.

Why did she start the fight in the first place? What made her "flee from society?"

Possibly the biographical notes she typed out at home in the old rural house, "on 20 acres of Missouri brush," provide a key.

She was born and reared in Cameron, a small agricultural center in northwestern Misouri. She grew up to become an accomplished musician, a public and private school teacher and later a book reviewer and lecturer.

She married a former Kansas City Philharmonic flutist, Brown Schoenheit, and he became her manager during the years she lectured to groups in California.

Then, she said, she found out she was just a "pseudo-intellectual." She wanted to quit the lecture circuit but her husband dissuaded her.

Shortly after that, she found she was to be a mother and "I vowed to become a model parent and conventional member of society.

"We moved to the suburbs. Immediately my troubles began, due chiefly to the intelligence and temperament of my infant. I tried everything.

"Back of me today are seven years of experimentation, disappointments, study, research, thought and suffering."

She said she studied the textbooks and books on modern teaching methods. After going through them, she said, "If I didn't know better, I would say they were written in an insane asylum."

Mrs. Schoenheit says "Brilliant children are quiet, sensitive and dignified. They do not do well in school. They can't adjust to being like everyone else. They become behavior problems and suffer dreadfully."

That's when the guidance counselors — she calls them "brain pickers" — step in and finish the job, she says.

"I made up my mind I could never submit to their insults or surrender my child to their torture," Mrs. Schoenheit said.

If she loses her fight here, she says she may move to Mississippi or Alabama — "we have relatives there and they won't treat us the way we've been treated here."

She says she has received 60 or 70 letters from other persons who, like herself have complained against education systems now in operation. All but one cheered her for her stand, she said, and one writer even sent her $5 to help finance her private "war."

"Our schools," she said, "have usurped the rights and duties and responsibilities of parents. Parents are being fooled by the term 'social development.'

"But the process is nothing but becoming like everyone else."

The adjustment will be almost overwhelming for the child, too. On the way home from the magistrate's office little Mary wailed:

THE '57 CHEVROLET

We Will Open Today At 1:00 P.M.

Literally thousands of your friends and neighbors have viewed the exciting new Chevrolet in the past 2 days. Their enthusiastic acceptance has proved to us beyond a shadow of a doubt that . . .

THE '57 CHEVROLET

We Will Open Today At 1:00 P.M.

Literally thousands of your friends and neighbors have viewed the exciting new Chevrolet in the past 2 days. Their enthusiastic acceptance has proved to us beyond a shadow of a doubt that . . .

Hunting Season To Remain Open In East Carroll

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 20 (Special) —East Carroll parish will not at the present time join the block of Northeast Louisiana parishes which have postponed the opening of hunting season, according to Sam Matchner, president of the police jury.

Approximately six parishes in the area declared a continuation of the closed season last week, to be effective until the drouth ends.

At a meeting of the East Carroll police jury Friday at 3 p.m., S. L. House introduced a resolution which would have closed the season in the parish. Although the measure was seconded by J. B. McPherson, it was later voted down, Mitchner said.

MR. AND MRS. BIRCH HAYS BELL

Girl Scout News

Today we promised to give details of the work and play day to be held at Pine Wood on Saturday, November 3. It must have been on the first Saturday in November that last year's was held, with more than 300 people, all told, taking part. Remember what a wonderful day it was, cold in the morning, but warm and sunshiny by the time everyone reached camp? The grownups enjoyed the day every bit as much as the girls did. To sit around in the sunshine, to walk through the woods, not to hear telephone or doorbell is quite relaxing, they found.

Here are the details. Troops and mothers need to be planning now. Permission slips have to go out, transportation arranged. Everybody needs to mark her calendar and save the date. Yes, mother may bring Junior or Big Sister or the other small fry. There's room for everybody.

When the Scouts plan anyting in the out of doors, leaders send home permission blanks which give the necessary information and which the parent signs and returns to the leader. No girl goes on a trip or a camp without the signed slip. The slips say bring a drinking cup, a nosebag lunch, wear jeans and sturdy shoes, sweater or jacket (both if the day is cold) and bring a scarf in case the day is windy. If it's cold, there will be fires indoors and out to warm by.

The day's activities will begin with a flag ceremony at 10:00 o'clock, followed by an hour or so of working at jobs for camp improvements. If people who are bringing cars will bring a rake or a shovel or a small axe, it will be a help. It's no fun, as you will realize, for one person to rake leaves. For six girls to rake is worlds of fun.

The work and play day is more "play" than work, so work stops early because everyone is hungry. Soon the girls gather with their own leaders, sing a Girl Scout Grace and enjoy lunches they have brought from home. At least two troops have said they would like to have a cookout. If it's a cold day, sometimes a troop plans to make cocoa to go with their sandwiches, or makes a fire for coals on which they toast marshmallows.

One troop has tentative plans for spending Friday night at camp. We hope they can.

After lunch is a good time for troops to go exploring, to work on flag ceremony will be held at 2:30 but people may remain later or leave earlier, as they wish.

MR. AND MRS. TALMADGE DAVID BUTLER

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Johnny Johnson.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clark was becomingly attired in a blue suit with beige blouse and matching beige accessories. Her corsage was of a purple orchid and white chrysanthemums.

Immediately following the wedding, a reception was held in the dining room. White and pink chrysanthemums were used to decorate the reception room. The table was overlaid with gleaming white Quaker lace. In the center of the table was placed the bride's three - tiered cake and served by Mrs. Eunice Clark. Presiding over the punch bowl was Mrs. Anita Clark.

Following a brief honeymoon, the couple will make their home in the Twin Cities.

Girl Scout News

Today we promised to give details of the work and play day to be held at Pine Wood on Saturday, November 3. It must have been on the first Saturday in November that last year's was held, with more than 300 people, all told, taking part. Remember what a wonderful day it was, cold in the morning, but warm and sunshiny by the time everyone reached camp? The grownups enjoyed the day every bit as much as the girls did. To sit around in the sunshine, to walk through the woods, not to hear telephone or doorbell is quite relaxing, they found.

Here are the details. Troops and mothers need to be planning now. Permission slips have to go out, transportation arranged. Everybody needs to mark her calendar and save the date. Yes, mother may bring Junior or Big Sister or the other small fry. There's room for everybody.

When the Scouts plan anyting in the out of doors, leaders send home permission blanks which give the necessary information and which the parent signs and returns to the leader. No girl goes on a trip or a camp without the signed slip. The slips say bring a drinking cup, a nosebag lunch, wear jeans and sturdy shoes, sweater or jacket (both if the day is cold) and bring a scarf in case the day is windy. If it's cold, there will be fires indoors and out to warm by.

The day's activities will begin with a flag ceremony at 10:00 o'clock, followed by an hour or so of working at jobs for camp improvements. If people who are bringing cars will bring a rake or a shovel or a small axe, it will be a help. It's no fun, as you will realize, for one person to rake leaves. For six girls to rake is worlds of fun.

The work and play day is more "play" than work, so work stops early because everyone is hungry. Soon the girls gather with their own leaders, sing a Girl Scout Grace and enjoy lunches they have brought from home. At least two troops have said they would like to have a cookout. If it's a cold day, sometimes a troop plans to make cocoa to go with their sandwiches, or makes a fire for coals on which they toast marshmallows.

One troop has tentative plans for spending Friday night at camp. We hope they can.

After lunch is a good time for troops to go exploring, to work on flag ceremony will be held at 2:30 but people may remain later or leave earlier, as they wish.

MR. AND MRS. TALMADGE DAVID BUTLER

Butler-Newton Vows Pledged In Afternoon

The wedding of Miss Laverne Newton, daughter of Mrs. Ola Mae Newton and the late Mr. C. W. Newton, of Epps, and Talmadge David Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W Butler, of Dothan, Ala., was celebrated recently in the Epps Baptist church at 5 o'clock in the afternoon with the Rev. Basil Halbert, officiating.

A white arch entwined with greenery and periwinkle and baskets of white gladioli and burning tapers in branched holders, marked the place of the ceremony. The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Doris Buckley at the piano and Leroy Trowbridge and Miss Betty Butler, sister of the groom, soloists.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The lace bodice was fashioned with high neckline, outlined with appliques of Chantilly flowers and seed pearls. The long tight sleeves ended in petal points over her wrists. Tiers of lace formed the bouffant skirt which swept into a chapel train in the back. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a crown embroidered in seed pearls. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white frenched carnations and valley lilies mounted on a white Bible.

Mrs. James Burke was the matron of honor and Miss Voriece Dow, maid of honor, the bridesmaids were Miss Toni Newton, Miss Mary Jo Berry, Miss Mary Ellen Cleveland, Miss Ellis Marie Weaver, and Miss Robin Newton. Their waltz length gowns were of crystalline over taffeta in rainbow shades. The two honor attendants wore orchid and pink. Soft folds of the material outlined the neckline and extended over the shoulders to form the brief sleeves. The circular skirts were very full. In their hair they wore headdresses of daisies and carried colonial bouquets of the same blossoms in shades matching their gowns.

Susan McMurtray, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. Her frock was a replica of the bride's gown and she carried a lace basket filled with rose petals.

Ollie Hazlette was best man. Ushers, Beechum Harris, J. W. McMurtray, Louis George, Leroy Trowbridge, Edward Burrie and Newton Horn.

The gardens of the home of the bride was the setting for the reception which followed the ceremony. Mrs. Newton received her guests in a dress of navy blue lace with a white carnation corsage pinned at her shoulder. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Butler, mother of the bridegroom, who also chose a blue dress with which she wore matching accessories and a white corsage.

The garden was bright with blooming fall flowers and the bride's table, covered with a lace cloth was centered with the four-tiered wedding cake mounted with a miniature bride and groom.

FRONT FULLNESS

Softening the slim skirt is good news for the figure which has put on weight through the abdomen. Well - balanced front fullness will work wonders for the heavy body lines. Draping to the side or back, narrows the silhouette.

October 28 to November 4 Is Honey Week

Honey is an energy food. It contains minerals, iron, copper, manganese, magnesium and phosphorous which are necessary for growth and health of the body. It has limited quantities of all the important constituents of vitamin B complex, vitamin C, some hormones and amino acids — thus provides protection against bacteria which causes diseases in human beings. Bacteria cannot grow in honey. There are many ways to use honey but here is one to try in preparing cushaw. The honey flavor makes this a wonderful dish Peel and remove seed cells of cushaw, cut into small pieces, place in a heavy, closely covered aluminum vessel — add just enough water to prevent scorching (about 4 cups) cook with low heat until tender. The cushaw contains lots of water and it may be necessary to reduce the liquid by removing cover and continue cooking. Mash with a potato masher. Measure three cups of cooked cushaw — add ¾ cup honey; ¼ cup sugar, 2 slightly beaten eggs and ½ cup of undiluted evaporated cream — add about ½ teaspoon of nutmeg and ¼ teaspoon mace. Put in baking dish and bake until firm at 350 degrees F. This yellow vegetable prepared with honey will delight your family and it is full of food nutrients needed by the body. You can use those pieces of pumpkin which you remove when you make a Jack-O-Lantern for Halloween in this same manner. Remember honey adds flavor and food value.

Planting Time for Dill and Parsley

Each year in cucumber season many people call to know where they can get fresh dill to use in making pickles but few people grow it. Dill can be planted now and only a small area is needed to grow it. It looks and grows in the same manner as the flower, Queen Ann's Lace — so a little space given to dill in the flower bed will not mar its beauty.

Parsley, too, can be planted now and, if put in a semi shade place will continue to grow until hot weather.

How To Develop Child's Imagination

Often it is difficult for a parent to accept the apparent telling of untruths by their young children. The young child's fancy may take the form of making up happenings or objects. If a child is saying she has seen a fairy her mother may feel concern over her ability to tell the truth. In reality the child's realization of the difference between truth and untruth may not yet have developed This early fantasy had better be overlooked than a chance taken that the imagination be injured. Parents can help the child thus develop imagination Imagination can be developed by games of "make believe" such as hand shadows on the wall. Charades played behind a sheet hung in the door of a lighted room with the family sitting in the dark help develop a spirit of family fun and imagination.

Aging Stage of Life Can Be Beautiful

Here are suggestions given by Florence Abington, LSU family life and health specialist, to help those at this time of life. Work enough to feel useful but not enough to overtax physical strength. Enjoyment of grandchildren and children. Privacy enough to give time for reflecting on the memories you hold dearest. Share some of these with your grandchildren in order to keep the most precious family traditions alive in their hearts. Cooperation in community affairs to keep the community's respect of you as a citizen. Faith in God and man.

October 28 to November 4 Is Honey Week

Honey is an energy food. It contains minerals, iron, copper, manganese, magnesium and phosphorous which are necessary for growth and health of the body. It has limited quantities of all the important constituents of vitamin B complex, vitamin C, some hormones and amino acids — thus provides protection against bacteria which causes diseases in human beings. Bacteria cannot grow in honey. There are many ways to use honey but here is one to try in preparing cushaw. The honey flavor makes this a wonderful dish Peel and remove seed cells of cushaw, cut into small pieces, place in a heavy, closely covered aluminum vessel — add just enough water to prevent scorching (about 4 cups) cook with low heat until tender. The cushaw contains lots of water and it may be necessary to reduce the liquid by removing cover and continue cooking. Mash with a potato masher. Measure three cups of cooked cushaw — add ¾ cup honey; ¼ cup sugar, 2 slightly beaten eggs and ½ cup of undiluted evaporated cream — add about ½ teaspoon of nutmeg and ¼ teaspoon mace. Put in baking dish and bake until firm at 350 degrees F. This yellow vegetable prepared with honey will delight your family and it is full of food nutrients needed by the body. You can use those pieces of pumpkin which you remove when you make a Jack-O-Lantern for Halloween in this same manner. Remember honey adds flavor and food value.

Planting Time for Dill and Parsley

Each year in cucumber season many people call to know where they can get fresh dill to use in making pickles but few people grow it. Dill can be planted now and only a small area is needed to grow it. It looks and grows in the same manner as the flower, Queen Ann's Lace — so a little space given to dill in the flower bed will not mar its beauty.

Parsley, too, can be planted now and, if put in a semi shade place will continue to grow until hot weather.

How To Develop Child's Imagination

Often it is difficult for a parent to accept the apparent telling of untruths by their young children. The young child's fancy may take the form of making up happenings or objects. If a child is saying she has seen a fairy her mother may feel concern over her ability to tell the truth. In reality the child's realization of the difference between truth and untruth may not yet have developed This early fantasy had better be overlooked than a chance taken that the imagination be injured. Parents can help the child thus develop imagination Imagination can be developed by games of "make believe" such as hand shadows on the wall. Charades played behind a sheet hung in the door of a lighted room with the family sitting in the dark help develop a spirit of family fun and imagination.

Aging Stage of Life Can Be Beautiful

Here are suggestions given by Florence Abington, LSU family life and health specialist, to help those at this time of life. Work enough to feel useful but not enough to overtax physical strength. Enjoyment of grandchildren and children. Privacy enough to give time for reflecting on the memories you hold dearest. Share some of these with your grandchildren in order to keep the most precious family traditions alive in their hearts. Cooperation in community affairs to keep the community's respect of you as a citizen. Faith in God and man.

Homecoming Conducted At St. Matthew's

The big event of the past week for St. Matthew's high school was the homecoming game on Brown field Thursday night. At this time Miss Gaye Tonore, escorted by Capt. Julian Fontana, reigned as queen. Her maid of honor was Elizabeth Pitarro. All are seniors.

Her court also included Joan Fontana, Mary O'Dell Wood, Mary Lou LeBlanc, J. C. Zagone, David Petrus, Joseph Marsala and Tom Mulhearn.

Air Force Safety Conference Is Rated Successful

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Joseph Caldera, director of Air Force flight safety research, termed the five-day world - wide conference of flying safety officers "an unqualified success" to aid in the "saving of lives and costly aircraft."

The conference closed yesterday on an urgent note with a team of accident investigators leaving for Minneapolis to investigate a series of accidents at Wold-Chamberlain airfield.

Gen. Caldera said the Air Force major accident rate for the first half of 1956 was the lowest in history with 15 per 100,000 flying hours. The rate was 17 in 1955 and 20 in 1954.

Air traffic control was a major topic since the military has a more difficult problem than civil aviation because it has to handle jet, prop-jet and conventional propeller aircraft simultaneously.

The improvements suggested by seminar groups will be submitted to Air Force headquarters for possible incorporation in regulations and other directives.

The meeting drew 60 delegates from air bases in all major commands, including Japan, Okinawa, Alaska, Newfoundland, England, France, Germany, Tripoli and Hawaii.

Sheriff W. S. Coci Throws Beer Party In School House

LAFITTE, La. — UP — Sheriff William S. Coci last night dispensed beer at a political rally in Fisher No. 1 school here in seeking support in the southern portion of the parish.

District Attorney Frank H. Langridge said he would check today on the situation and see if a law was violated. He said there is definitely a state law that prohibits the sale of intoxicating beverages within 300 feet of a school or church.

Two members of the Jefferson parish school board said the serving of beer in a school building is strictly against board policy and one expressed belief that a state law was violated.

At the rally, Coci continued his attacks against New Orleans newspapers and also urged everyone to vote for all of the proposed constitutional amendments.

Auto Missing 2 Days Recovered

A Monroe manager of a car lot who trustfully let a "smooth operator" Thursday talk him into taking a car out alone, Saturday had the car back in his possession but said he would be skeptical of "fast talkers" in the future.

Mrs. C. A. Bowser, of 109 South First street, West Monroe, after reading the story in the Friday News-Star about the stolen car, matched the license number given in the article with that on a car parked in a vacant lot across the street.

Upon discovering that the license corresponded, the observant Mrs. Bowser called Alford, and informed him of the location of the missing car, adding that it had been parked there since noon Thursday.

Alford, who declared that this experience will teach him a lesson he won't forget, was happy to have the car back, even if the confidence man did take the radio, spare tire and wheel.

Miss. Population On The Downgrade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The population of Mississippi decreased 2.1 per cent between the last federal census in 1950 and July 1, 1955, while the United States population increased nine per cent.

Mississippi's population dropped from 2,178,914 to 2,133,000, the Census Bureau said yesterday, while the nation's population increased from 150,697,361 to 164,303,000.

Instructors In Institute Of Banking Named

Instructors for the local classes of the American Institute of Banking were announced Saturday by T. Lamar Kennedy, president of the Monroe chapter. The instructors are all officers of local banks.

Kennedy listed the instructors as Benton M. Wakefield, Jr., Jeff Burnett, Jr., and Charles Womack. All have had courses in the AIB.

The classes are conducted at Neville High School through the courtesy of the Monroe city school board.

Wakefield, vice - president and director of the Ouachita National Bank, has had numerous AIB courses, including five advanced classes. A graduate of Washington and Lee University, Wakefield was with the First National Bank of Memphis, Tenn., prior to joining the Ouachita in 1952.

Burnett, also a vice - president and director for the Ouachita, is manager of the West Monroe branch. He is a graduate of the University of Arkansas and former executive vice - president of the First National Bank of DeQueen, Ark. He joined the Ouachita Bank in 1953.

Womack, vice - president of the Central Savings Bank, is manager of the Louisville avenue ranch. Womack attended Texas A and M. He is a major in the U. S. army reserve and has had three special army schools on methods of instruction. He has been with the Central Bank for the past 20 years.

Homecoming Conducted At St. Matthew's

The big event of the past week for St. Matthew's high school was the homecoming game on Brown field Thursday night. At this time Miss Gaye Tonore, escorted by Capt. Julian Fontana, reigned as queen. Her maid of honor was Elizabeth Pitarro. All are seniors.

Her court also included Joan Fontana, Mary O'Dell Wood, Mary Lou LeBlanc, J. C. Zagone, David Petrus, Joseph Marsala and Tom Mulhearn.

HERO CONVICTED—Sgt. Alford Lee McLaughlin, Marine medal of honor winner, has been convicted by a special court-martial at Parris Island, S. C. In the un-publicized court-martial he pleaded guilty to drunkenness and unauthorized absence and was found guilty of disrespect to a superior officer and to a superior non-commissioned officer. Air Force Safety Conference Is Rated Successful

BILOXI, Miss. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Joseph Caldera, director of Air Force flight safety research, termed the five-day world - wide conference of flying safety officers "an unqualified success" to aid in the "saving of lives and costly aircraft."

The conference closed yesterday on an urgent note with a team of accident investigators leaving for Minneapolis to investigate a series of accidents at Wold-Chamberlain airfield.

Gen. Caldera said the Air Force major accident rate for the first half of 1956 was the lowest in history with 15 per 100,000 flying hours. The rate was 17 in 1955 and 20 in 1954.

Air traffic control was a major topic since the military has a more difficult problem than civil aviation because it has to handle jet, prop-jet and conventional propeller aircraft simultaneously.

The improvements suggested by seminar groups will be submitted to Air Force headquarters for possible incorporation in regulations and other directives.

The meeting drew 60 delegates from air bases in all major commands, including Japan, Okinawa, Alaska, Newfoundland, England, France, Germany, Tripoli and Hawaii.

Sheriff W. S. Coci Throws Beer Party In School House

LAFITTE, La. — UP — Sheriff William S. Coci last night dispensed beer at a political rally in Fisher No. 1 school here in seeking support in the southern portion of the parish.

District Attorney Frank H. Langridge said he would check today on the situation and see if a law was violated. He said there is definitely a state law that prohibits the sale of intoxicating beverages within 300 feet of a school or church.

Two members of the Jefferson parish school board said the serving of beer in a school building is strictly against board policy and one expressed belief that a state law was violated.

At the rally, Coci continued his attacks against New Orleans newspapers and also urged everyone to vote for all of the proposed constitutional amendments.

Last Rites Held For Irven Hason, Sulphur Co. Chief

NEW ORLEANS —UP—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Irven Edwin Hanson, 64, chief engineer for Freeport Sulphur Co.

He died in a local hospital yesterday after suffering a heart attack on Wednesday. Hanson was an employe of the company for more than 40 years, and helped construct more sulphur mining plants than any other person in the United States.

Auto Missing 2 Days Recovered

A Monroe manager of a car lot who trustfully let a "smooth operator" Thursday talk him into taking a car out alone, Saturday had the car back in his possession but said he would be skeptical of "fast talkers" in the future.

Mrs. C. A. Bowser, of 109 South First street, West Monroe, after reading the story in the Friday News-Star about the stolen car, matched the license number given in the article with that on a car parked in a vacant lot across the street.

Upon discovering that the license corresponded, the observant Mrs. Bowser called Alford, and informed him of the location of the missing car, adding that it had been parked there since noon Thursday.

Alford, who declared that this experience will teach him a lesson he won't forget, was happy to have the car back, even if the confidence man did take the radio, spare tire and wheel.

Miss. Population On The Downgrade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The population of Mississippi decreased 2.1 per cent between the last federal census in 1950 and July 1, 1955, while the United States population increased nine per cent.

Mississippi's population dropped from 2,178,914 to 2,133,000, the Census Bureau said yesterday, while the nation's population increased from 150,697,361 to 164,303,000.

Louisiana was a little better than par for the whole nation, showing an increase of 9.3 per cent from 2,683,516 in 1950 to 2,934,000 in mid-1955.

Milk Price Up; Dairy Farmers Don't Get More

WASHINGTON (UP) — The price customers paid for fresh milk went up almost four cents a quart from 1947 to 1955. But the dairy farmer didn't get any of the increase.

An analysis of milk marketing costs by the Agriculture Department showed today that the price received by farmers was about the same in both years.

The department said the higher price to consumers was caused by increases in marketing costs—the take of the middleman. Most of the increased costs were in payrolls, supplies, and equipment. Prices rose even though costs were held down to some extent by selling more milk through retail stores, rather than by home delivery, and by other changes in merchandising practicies.

In 1955 farmers received only 45 cents of the consumer dollar spent for fresh milk. The other 55 cents went for marketing charges, it said. In 1947, the situation was just the reverse—farmers got 55 cents and middlemen 45 cents of the consumer dollar.

Hearing On Foreign Oil Imports Set

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 —A hearing to determine whether national security is being impaired by foreign oil imports is to begin Monday in Washington.

The hearing will determine whether a recommendation will be made that President Eisenhower curb imports under the national defense amendment to the trade agreements extension act of 1955.

Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, director of the Office of Defense Mobilization, ordered the hearing in response to an Aug. 8 petition from 19 associations of oil and gas producers.

The petition was filed by Russell B. Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America. The petition contends that Flemming's efforts to have importers curb foreign receipts voluntarily have failed.

No commodities were specified in the extention act but the defense mobilizer was charged with the responsibility of submitting recommendations t othe President whenever he "has reason to believe that any article is being imported into the United States in such quantities as threaten to impair the national security."

The amendment also specifies that the President, after investigation, "shall take such action as he deems necessary to adjust the imports of such article to a level that will not threaten to impair the national security."

The oil associations contend Congress, in adopting the amendment, determined that crude oil and petroleum products should not exceed their 1954 relationship to domestic crude oil production. This was the recommendation of the presidential advisory committee on energy supplies and resources policy on Feb. 26, 1955.

The Aug. 8 petition from the oil association said:

"The significant and increasing excesses in imports over the legislative standard now make necessary formal action under the law."

The petition specifically recommended that Flemming advise President Eisenhower that crude oil and petroleum products are being imported in such quantity as to impair the national security. It also asked that Flemming recommend that the President take action to adjust total petroleum imports to their relationship to domestic production.

In recommending the 1954 ratio, the presidential advisory committee referred only to crude oil and residual fuels oils. The committee, with Flemming's approval, later excluded imports into west coast states and all imports from Canada and Venezuela.

Opponents of oil imports contend such exemptions have removed 75 per cent of all imports from the provisions of the extension act amendment.

IPAA this week forecast that scheduled increases in oil imports and high levels of oil inventories will further reduce the maket for domestic cude oil this winter.

The association's monthly supply and demand forecast said crude imports the fourth quarter of 1956 are expected to average 1,050,000 barrels daily, 25 per cent over the same 1955 period. Products imports were forecast at 600,000 barrels daily, a 20 per cent increase.

Commission To Appeal District Court Decision

BATON ROUGE (AP) — John J. McKeithen of the Louisiana Public Service Commission said a District Court decision rejecting a decrease in Southern Bell telephone rates "has in no way shaken my confidence" that a reduction will be ordered by higher courts.

McKeithen, public service commissioner from the state's Third District, said last night the commission would appeal the ruling to higher tribunals.

"We have been prepared from the very beginning to take this rate reduction case to the higher courts," he said last night after Judge J. Caldwell Herget ruled against the proposed decrease in rates.

McKeithen said the case would be taken to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

Judge Herget rejected a four million dollar rate cut ordered for Southern Bell. He also refused to order a four million dollar rate increase asked by the telephone company.

The Public Service Commission last June 30 ordered Southern Bell to cut pay station calls to five cents and reduce intrastate long distance charges 20 per cent. It contended American Telephone and Telegraph Co., parent firm to Southern Bell, was siphoning off profits and forcing up rates, and that Southern Bell's contributions to its retirement system were unnecessarily high.

A temporary court order blocked the rate cut when Southern Bell appealed the commission ruling. Herget yesterday issued a permanent injunction.

The judge, citing the 1952 Gulf States Utilities Co. case, said although the commission used a new method in ordering the cut "which results in not giving the utility a fair and reasonable return must be held to be arbitrary and confiscatory and therefore illegal.

"Admittedly," he said, "the utilization of the method evolved by the public Service Commission does not and will not result in giving the petitioner a rate of return on its investment as provided in the formula announced in the Louisiana Power and Light case."

The judge said the Supreme Court could fix rates to be charged or remand the case to the commission to fix rates."

Gallup Poll Indicates President's Popularity Exceeds That In '52 Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Eisenhower is well out in front in the presidential polls — in some cases by bigger leads than in 1952.

Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic rival, is scoring gains in some sectional polls though they show him still trailing

The latest Gallup poll showed Eisenhower leading in the populous East by a greater margin than in 1952.

In this survey, Eisenhower was credited with 60 per cent of the voters in 12 states with 153 electoral votes; Stevenson had 40 per cent. The same 12 states gave the GOP national ticket 55.2 per cent of their popular vote in 1952.

The 12 states were: New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island. All except West Virginia gave their electoral votes to Eisenhower in the last election.

The New York Daily News poll in New York State got under way this week.

It reported Saturday the state presently favors Eisenhower over Stevenson by 60.4 per cent to 39.6 per cent — virtually the identical figure the Gallup poll gave for the 12 Eastern states as a whole.

Four years ago New York gave 56 per cent of its vote to the Eisenhower ticket.

Some of the polls showed Stevenson gaining.

The latest Detroit News poll showed Eisenhower slipping in 14 out of 17 voter groups, although he was leading in the state totals, 56.8 per cent to 41.3 per cent.

The News said Stevenson gained in 12 groups and showed losses in five.

Eisenhower's biggest losses in percentage points, the News said, were among farm laborers, 10.2; unmarried persons, 10.1; Negroes, 6.6; rural dwellers, 5.2; unskilled laborers, 5.1; clerical workers, 5.1, and women, 4.1.

The resident's biggest gain, 12.6 per cent, was along professional and semiprofessional people.

The News said the number of undecided voters was larger in its latest survey than in September's.

It reported Saturday the state presently favors Eisenhower over Stevenson by 60.4 per cent to 39.6 per cent — virtually the identical figure the Gallup poll gave for the 12 Eastern states as a whole.

Four years ago New York gave 56 per cent of its vote to the Eisenhower ticket.

Some of the polls showed Stevenson gaining.

The latest Detroit News poll showed Eisenhower slipping in 14 out of 17 voter groups, although he was leading in the state totals, 56.8 per cent to 41.3 per cent.

The News said Stevenson gained in 12 groups and showed losses in five.

Eisenhower's biggest losses in percentage points, the News said, were among farm laborers, 10.2; unmarried persons, 10.1; Negroes, 6.6; rural dwellers, 5.2; unskilled laborers, 5.1; clerical workers, 5.1, and women, 4.1.

The resident's biggest gain, 12.6 per cent, was along professional and semiprofessional people.

The News said the number of undecided voters was larger in its latest survey than in September's.

Providence Youth Planning UN Aid

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 21 (Special) — Rev. C. R. McCammon pastor of the First Methodist church of Lake Providence, announces that the youth of the church will sponsor "Trick or Treat for UNICEF", on Hallowe'en night.

UNICEF is the United Nations Children's Fund, the world's largest international effort to improve the health and welfare of children and mothers. Trick or treat for UNICEF is the American Hallowe'en with a heart and was participated in by a million children last year.

As the Methodist boys and girls go out on Hallowe'en night, Rev. McCammon said, they will not be asking treats for themselves, but will be collecting pennies, nickels, dimes, and dollars so that less fortunate children might be treated to life-giving milk, medicines, and care.

Identification of the children who will be working for UNICEF, can be made by the yellow tags they will wear and the cartons they carry, with the same emblem. As they go from house to house, the people of Lake Providence are asked to remember that this year the Trick is to Treat "all the world's children."

A Korean couple, both studying at the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary at Fort Worth, Texas will speak in Monroe Saturday evening, Oct. 27, at the Business Women's Federation of Louisiana meeting at the First Baptist church of Monroe. The Business Women's Federation is a group of Baptist business women organized to study and support the mission program of their denomination. The meeting here next week end is their annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Kim are studying now at the Baptist seminary in Fort Worth. They will return to Korea in about two years when Mr. Kim completes his studies for the Doctor of theology degree. They have been in the United States about five years.

Mrs. Kim was a prisoner of the Japanese for over five years at the beginning of World War II. She said she was arrested and sentenced to prison in North Korea after she went to the Japanese Congress in Tokyo in 1939 warning the Congress "to turn to God lest it be lost forever."

Mrs. Kim said the Japanese promised to free her if "I would give up my God and worship their idols." She refused and on the day before she was to be executed

MR. AND MRS. KIM

the Japanese surrendered and she was released.

In describing the horror of the prison, Mrs. Kim said there were 4,500 pisoners and 2,500 of them staved or froze to death.

Mr. Kim said he saw many Japanese die and many cities destroyed during the war. He was studying engineering in Tokyo during the war. It was while in Tokyo that he received his call to the ministry.

Although both Mr. and Mrs. Kim were in this country during the Korean war Mrs. Kim's family was killed by the Communists. Mr. Kim's father is a Baptist minister in Korea.

Mrs. Kim will speak at the Temple Baptist church at the morning worship services on the 28th. Mr. Kim will speak at another church at the same time.

Ancient Bible Prized In Home Of John Zoll

Among the ancient Bibles that are to be found in the Twin Cities may be mentioned that in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Zoll, 707 College avenue.

This Bible was published in 1802, according to a statement made in the preface. It is yellowed by the weight of 154 years that have transpired since it was issued.

It contains the apocrypha — that part of old Bibles that has not been approved by more modern issues of the sacred word.

It does give much information that is not accorded in most Bibles. Here are some interesting facts:

Prior to the American revolution, this country was supplied with Bibles printed in England. At the time of the Revolution, two editions of the Bible had been printed in the United States.

The first translation in Indian language was by John Eliot and was printed in Cambridge, Mass., in 1661.

The first Bible printed in a foreign language in this country was by Christopher Saur in German language in Germantown, Pa., in 1743. The type for this was obtained from Germany, 1,000 copies were printed

The first Bible printed in English was published by Robert Aitken in Philadelphia in 1782.

Hodge and Campbell in New York printed a self-interpreting Bible in 40 numbers — folio in 1792. The name of George Washington, president of the U. S. headed the list of subscribers.

Matthew Carey in Philadelphia published a first edition of the Bible in 1801.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I joined the church about a year ago but do not see any difference: life is just as hard as ever. T. R. G.

ANSWER: It is possible that you joined the church without having had a personal experience with Christ as Savior and Lord. Joining the church is the forming of an association with God's people and becoming a member of the visible body of Christ. But, there are those who have taken this step without having made the all-important decision to accept Christ into the heart and life. You say that you do not see any difference in life. God has never promised His children that they will have easy times. We are still subject to the problems, sorrows and difficulties of this life. But, to the Christian, God promises grace for every one of these contingencies. Let me urge upon you the wonderful fact that when we become Christians we have someone living in our hearts; someone who understands and loves and helps. If you have not already done so make the decision right now — ask Christ to forgive your sins and come into your heart to become the Lord of your life. When you have done this, life changes completely. Before you get out of bed each morning thank Him for his presence and ask Him for His help. To add to the meaning of life let me also urge you to pass on your new experience to others. Try to make things happier for them and most of all, try to bring them to know the Christ who has transformed your life.

Providence Youth Planning UN Aid

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 21 (Special) — Rev. C. R. McCammon pastor of the First Methodist church of Lake Providence, announces that the youth of the church will sponsor "Trick or Treat for UNICEF", on Hallowe'en night.

UNICEF is the United Nations Children's Fund, the world's largest international effort to improve the health and welfare of children and mothers. Trick or treat for UNICEF is the American Hallowe'en with a heart and was participated in by a million children last year.

As the Methodist boys and girls go out on Hallowe'en night, Rev. McCammon said, they will not be asking treats for themselves, but will be collecting pennies, nickels, dimes, and dollars so that less fortunate children might be treated to life-giving milk, medicines, and care.

Identification of the children who will be working for UNICEF, can be made by the yellow tags they will wear and the cartons they carry, with the same emblem. As they go from house to house, the people of Lake Providence are asked to remember that this year the Trick is to Treat "all the world's children."

A Korean couple, both studying at the Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary at Fort Worth, Texas will speak in Monroe Saturday evening, Oct. 27, at the Business Women's Federation of Louisiana meeting at the First Baptist church of Monroe. The Business Women's Federation is a group of Baptist business women organized to study and support the mission program of their denomination. The meeting here next week end is their annual meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Kim are studying now at the Baptist seminary in Fort Worth. They will return to Korea in about two years when Mr. Kim completes his studies for the Doctor of theology degree. They have been in the United States about five years.

Mrs. Kim was a prisoner of the Japanese for over five years at the beginning of World War II. She said she was arrested and sentenced to prison in North Korea after she went to the Japanese Congress in Tokyo in 1939 warning the Congress "to turn to God lest it be lost forever."

Mrs. Kim said the Japanese promised to free her if "I would give up my God and worship their idols." She refused and on the day before she was to be executed

MR. AND MRS. KIM

the Japanese surrendered and she was released.

In describing the horror of the prison, Mrs. Kim said there were 4,500 pisoners and 2,500 of them staved or froze to death.

Mr. Kim said he saw many Japanese die and many cities destroyed during the war. He was studying engineering in Tokyo during the war. It was while in Tokyo that he received his call to the ministry.

Although both Mr. and Mrs. Kim were in this country during the Korean war Mrs. Kim's family was killed by the Communists. Mr. Kim's father is a Baptist minister in Korea.

Mrs. Kim will speak at the Temple Baptist church at the morning worship services on the 28th. Mr. Kim will speak at another church at the same time.

Ancient Bible Prized In Home Of John Zoll

Among the ancient Bibles that are to be found in the Twin Cities may be mentioned that in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Zoll, 707 College avenue.

This Bible was published in 1802, according to a statement made in the preface. It is yellowed by the weight of 154 years that have transpired since it was issued.

It contains the apocrypha — that part of old Bibles that has not been approved by more modern issues of the sacred word.

It does give much information that is not accorded in most Bibles. Here are some interesting facts:

Prior to the American revolution, this country was supplied with Bibles printed in England. At the time of the Revolution, two editions of the Bible had been printed in the United States.

The first translation in Indian language was by John Eliot and was printed in Cambridge, Mass., in 1661.

The first Bible printed in a foreign language in this country was by Christopher Saur in German language in Germantown, Pa., in 1743. The type for this was obtained from Germany, 1,000 copies were printed

The first Bible printed in English was published by Robert Aitken in Philadelphia in 1782.

Hodge and Campbell in New York printed a self-interpreting Bible in 40 numbers — folio in 1792. The name of George Washington, president of the U. S. headed the list of subscribers.

Matthew Carey in Philadelphia published a first edition of the Bible in 1801.

Mike is an outstanding evangelist with a deep passion for lost souls. He, along with his wife and daughters, will make their residence in Pineville, Louisiana.

Another lay member of this church is Lewis Gannaway who will be speaker at the First Methodist church in Winnsboro.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I joined the church about a year ago but do not see any difference: life is just as hard as ever. T. R. G.

ANSWER: It is possible that you joined the church without having had a personal experience with Christ as Savior and Lord. Joining the church is the forming of an association with God's people and becoming a member of the visible body of Christ. But, there are those who have taken this step without having made the all-important decision to accept Christ into the heart and life. You say that you do not see any difference in life. God has never promised His children that they will have easy times. We are still subject to the problems, sorrows and difficulties of this life. But, to the Christian, God promises grace for every one of these contingencies. Let me urge upon you the wonderful fact that when we become Christians we have someone living in our hearts; someone who understands and loves and helps. If you have not already done so make the decision right now — ask Christ to forgive your sins and come into your heart to become the Lord of your life. When you have done this, life changes completely. Before you get out of bed each morning thank Him for his presence and ask Him for His help. To add to the meaning of life let me also urge you to pass on your new experience to others. Try to make things happier for them and most of all, try to bring them to know the Christ who has transformed your life.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

How To Overcome The Weed Problem

We keep watching for Fall's gorgeous colors, but it's just not quite time. Jack Frost seems to be instrumental in bringing out foliage beauty. Sometime he visits early, sometime late. After the first frost, plan a drive out Calhoun and Ruston way on Highway 80. The sumacs are the loveliest shade of red. Viewed against the pine trunks and foliage, you'll feel rewarded for your drive.

Gardening

Mrs. New Home Owner, remember there's probably lots of concrete and graved around the foundation of your house, several feet out. This is the overflow from foundation building. Few plants can stand this alkaline soil, even after you work the large pieces out. It may be a good idea to work some sulphur in the bed and wait a year to plant. We'd really beat the weed problem if we'd work beds, mulch heavily, keep weeds and grass pulled out for a year, then turn the soil over, plant and mulch again. I know when you get a new house you want something planted right away, and I can understad that.

For new and old home owners, don't overlook the dwarf youpon. It is a low growing plant you'll enjoy, because it will go through the heat and dry weather without watering. If we're going to revert to a tropical climate, guess we'll have to plant accordingly. Right now plants are so tired of artificial watering. If they could talk they'd probably say "Just leave me alone", but that we cannot do. If a freeze should come and find the roots of your plants too dry, they'd be completely dehydrated.

Though raking leaves is a lot like washing a little boy's face, we shouldn't let the grass smother. Heavy coverings of leaves on the lawn will do just that.

This is the time to plant verbena seed. I've never had much luck with them, but you may be successful. This is a good time to root cuttings of this plant, if you'll keep them damp.

We've had a lot of questions about planting bulbs in shady places. This gardener has been quite successful with shade planting of many of the old varieties, in a well drained place. These little plants bloom before the trees leaf out in the spring. Of course, if the soil is cold and damp the bulbs will rot.

Mrs. Bagwell gave me this information about hibiscus several years ago: "If you want to carry your plants through the winter, cut them back in October, transplant to gallon buckets or large pots and keep in a warm, sunny place. They must be kept watered durig the winter. A utility room with sunny windows is an ideal place for the pots. If you have no indoor place to keep these plants, mulch heavily and take a chance on getting them through the winter. Be sure to take up te soil with the plants when transplanting.

Our L. S. U. extension Department recommends spraying camellias now for tea scale. You can use summer oil emulsion, mixed according to instructions on the outside of the can. This scale is found on the under side of leaves ad shows up as a cottony covering. Leaves get yellow spots on them So — be sure to get the spray on the under side of the leaf and be sure to mix the summer weight.

Food News

One of the most plentiful foods this month is honey — so pick up several jars — Louisiana made, of course — and use it when making cakes, cookies, sandwiches filling, on fruits, cereals and as a glaze for hams. This food contains sugar plus minerals and vitamins B and C. It's readily digested and suitable for infant feeding.

In Louisiana white clover honey is the flavor most prevalent. It is found in both dark and light color. The light colored, as a rule, are mild and the darkest honeys generally have a strong flavor.

Keep liquid honey in a dry place. Freezing does not injure the color or flavor, but may hasten granulation. Avoid damp places for storage. It is better not to put honey in the refrigerator. Keep in a tightly sealed container or it will absorb moisture and ferment.

If honey crystallizes, place the container in a bowl of warm water (not hot) until all crystals have melted.

Remember, honey will give a distinctive flavor to your cake and will cause it to stay moist for an incredible length of time. Pour honey over ice cream, combine equal parts of honey and lemon juice for a dressing for fruit salads.

Try candied sweet potatoes by this recipe: Boil potatoes with skins on. When done, remove skins, cut lengthwise and arrange in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle a bit of salt and pour over this a sauce made with ¼ cup butter, ½ cup honey, ½ cup orange juice. Bake in a quick oven until potatoes are brown. Just before serving top with a few marshmallows.

New

New products to look for in the future are: cake batters ready to pour in the pan; orange crystals; hot cake batter delivered with milk by your dairyman; cereals put up in containers with sugar and dry milk (to serve you pour water over the cereal), kiss-proof garlic crystals (all the flavor but none of the odor). None of these are on the market, but we can look for them in the near future.

The Economists tell us that with the increased cost of containers (paper, tin, steel) labor and transportation, we can look for foods to be higher in price in 1957.

Extension, will give us beauty treatment for floors; Friday is marketing and food preparation day with Mildred and Mammy. See you next Sunday.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Many Church Designs Shown By Mr. Wright

Church arrangements were featured this week by John A. Wright in his one man show at the Garden Center. The arrangements were first created on television and then on display at the center for the rest of the week. Mr. Wright's first arrangement was asymetrical in design. The container was a dark green pillow vase. Tall placements of purple salvia provided height with Picardy glads carrying the line downward. Jade fern which had been clipped provided a background. Asymetrical placements of the grey-green eucalyptus completed the design.

A large white urn was chosen for the second arrangement — salmon gladiolus were arranged in a symmetrical triangle with white daisy type chrysanthemums massed low in the design. Some of the chrysanthemums were placed high in the arrangement for transition. Very effective and lovely.

The next exhibit was most striking. Greek juniper, golden tipped was arranged in a mass design with clusters of bright orange pyracantha berries in the foregound. The container was a large pale green urn. Most appropriate for this season when there are few flowers.

A square brass urn staged against a chartreuse background was chosen for the next arrangement, which was asymetrical in design. Usually when asymetrical designs are made for church they are used in pairs. Glossy aspidistra leaves were arranged in a triangular pattern with salmon gladiolus following the lines. Green fern was added to soften the severity of the design.Very beautiful to behold.

A boldly effective design was created of magnolia foliage with the seed pods attached. This was placed in a large dark green urn and triangular in design. This would be suitable for a church with very pale pastel walls. There can be no set rule for church arrangements as the architecture of each church varies. Adelaide B. Wilson who has written the book "Flower Arrangement for Churches" suggests a four - point standad in arranging church flowers. They are: 1. Suitability to the church and the service. 2. Availability of plant material and flowers. 3. Durability. Flowers and plant materials should be so conditioned so as to last over night. Many churches have services so scheduled that Sunday's flowers must be placed the preceding day. 4. Visibility of an arrangement is essential. For very large churches light colors or white flowers are suggested.

Don't forget the Marie Johnson Fort lecture on Monday, October 22. Virginia Hotel roof at 2 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Small fee.

On Wednesday, October 24, Mrs. Fort will instruct in Flower Arranging at Flower Show School V. The place — Northeast State college. Registration 8 to 9 a.m.

We would like to remind you that we have Frances Hannay's booklet 'Outlines of Period Flower Arrangement" for sale in the Garden Center. This is a "must" for School V.

There was so much interest in the dried arrangements both at the Garden Center and at the fair that we hope to have another exhibit for you soon.

Fort Necessity And Columbia Link Finished

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 20 (Special) — The last link of unpaved highway between Columbia and Fort Necessity in Caldwell and Franklin parishes has been completed and the work accepted by the Louisiana department of highways.

The 7.4 mile surfacing project was completed recently by Coastal Contrators, Inc., of Baton Rouge at a cost of $471,332, according to Highway Director R. B. Richardson.

The new project begins at approximately six miles southeast of Columbia at the end of the old surfacing and extends along State Route 17, a distance of 7.4 miles. The width of the pavement is 20 feet, Richardson said.

In Armed Services

MEDITERRANEAN (FHTNC)— Franklin D. Stockton, airman, USN son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Stockton of Route 2, Box 232, Rayville, La., is serving in Mediterranean waters aboard the seaplane tender USS Currituck.

The ship arrived at Pollensa bay, Mallorca, Sept. 18, and will provide repair and mantenance for a Navy patrol squadron there, and later at Augusta Bay, Sicily. The ship will return to Norfolk, Va., in late November.

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear halve or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

THE STORY OF GLASS - 6

In Our Daily Lives

Glass is no longer a luxury, as it was in early days. It is important and vital in modern life, yet we are so used to it that we take it for granted.

Here is a picture to show you a few of its uses, but there are many more. Look around your home and see how many places you can find glass in use.

Janet is holding a mirror, in which she has been admiring her string of glass beads, and beside her is a little glass elephant ornament. Behind her is a window letting in the sunlight, and overhead is an electric light.

At the right is a thermometer, and the radio on the wall has glass tubes in it. The milk bottle, tumbler, bowl, measuring cup, and soda bottles are all made from glass.

Color this picture with your crayons, and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut around the top edges of the bowl, measuring cup and tumbler and bend at dotted lines. Then, when you fold the bottom panel forward at the dotted line they will stand up. Now you have a collection of pictures on the story of glass, and can have your own glass museum.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Plant Perennials In Late October

Late October, just before the leaves fall is a good time to revamp your perennial border or the groups of perennials you have growing here and there for color. It is also a good time to plant new perennnals.

Here in the South, we prefer to plant perennials and shrubs together rather than the "perennial border" that one sees in the North. So many perennials grown in the North will not last in gardens down South that a border of these plants is not practical. We have to use the kinds that have proven their heat resistance and longevity under our conditions.

Large plants like peonies and daylilies, we Southerners like to plant in and amongst our shrubs or in masses in front of shrubbery. The bulbous crinums are so large when they are really mature and have such huge foliage that they, too, are best worked into the shrub planting.

Salvias and veronicas, the bright rose variety of Sedum spectabile, red-hot pokers, monardas, and other perennials of these shapes and sizes show up well in fairly large masses that blend into non-evergreen flowering shrubs. The earliest flowering shrubs like the quinces provide color before most perennials get under way. In summer when the shrubs have stopped flowering, the perennials come into the picture. With the added touch of some groups of bulbs, it is easy to create some really beautiful effects and color schemes.

You can create a planting that is beautiful and interesting in winter as well as in summer by using some of the smaller evergreen and even grey plants. An occasional yucca or a group of yuccas if your planting is big enough, is handsome in winter. It is not much trouble to remove the dead leaves once a year. A single sotol plant (dasylirion) will be a feature. Rosemary and lavender are attractive shades of grey green. Grey is even more important in the winter garden than it is in summer. Stachys, santolina (if you can keep it) masses of silvery pinks and the leaves of mullein make beautiful patterns when the garden is bare.

In the mixed perennial and shrub planting, be sure to leave two or three feet between the edge of the shurbs and the perennials. Remember that the perennials and the shrubs are going to fill in the space only too soon. Your shrubs will starve out the perennials in less time than you can imagine if you do not keep both of them well fed.

There is simply no use in planting perennials in the South unless you prepare their site both deeply and richly. Our long season keeps them growing and feeding. Cutting the flowers, of course, takes food from them, and droughts will surely kill them unless they can get their roots down deep into mellow soil that holds moisture. In a season or two, rapid multipliers like the salvias, physostegia and all the daisies and asters need to be thinned and replanted, but they are worth it. Without blue salvias, veronicas, the handsome red-hot pokers and daylilies a garden would be a drab affair indeed.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Of all the things you can give, money is probably the least permanent in the pleasure it produces, and the most likely to backfire, writes David Dunn in "Try Giving Yourself Away" (paraphrased): "Too often it results in disillusionment, sometimes in wrecked friendship. A compliment on your home, children, new hat; a note, telephone call, or a simple act that reflects thoughtfulness or friendly interest — these are the truest form of giving because they come from the heart and are literally a portion of the giver.

Do college graduates know "the best that has been known and said"?

Your opinion ——

2. We might suppose that even if college graduates don't read much currently, they would have some background in reading. However, the American Institute of Public Opinion found the results disappointing (reported by Arthur D. Little, Inc.). College graduates were asked to name authors of the following: "An American Tragedy," "Babbitt," "The Canterbury Tales," "Gulliver's Travels," Vanity Fair," "Utopia," "The Rubaiyat," "The History of Tom Jones," to mention a few. Nine per cent couldn't name the author of any one of these books, and 39 per cent couldn't name more than three authors. Of this group, only 55 per cent could name any recently published book.

One reason for higher prices is that people live longer

True—— Fale——

3. True. We have to feed several million people — about 20 years longer than we did even in 1900. That costs a whale of a lot of money. We also have to furnish doctors, medicines, beautifiers, and all the means required for living, including old-age pensions, etc. The power to produce vastly more goods goes down steadily, let us say, after sixty; and while we produce more goods, in many things we cannot keep up the supply to meet the demand. Result? Higher prices.

THE HOME SHIFT—

How To Overcome The Weed Problem

We keep watching for Fall's gorgeous colors, but it's just not quite time. Jack Frost seems to be instrumental in bringing out foliage beauty. Sometime he visits early, sometime late. After the first frost, plan a drive out Calhoun and Ruston way on Highway 80. The sumacs are the loveliest shade of red. Viewed against the pine trunks and foliage, you'll feel rewarded for your drive.

Gardening

Mrs. New Home Owner, remember there's probably lots of concrete and graved around the foundation of your house, several feet out. This is the overflow from foundation building. Few plants can stand this alkaline soil, even after you work the large pieces out. It may be a good idea to work some sulphur in the bed and wait a year to plant. We'd really beat the weed problem if we'd work beds, mulch heavily, keep weeds and grass pulled out for a year, then turn the soil over, plant and mulch again. I know when you get a new house you want something planted right away, and I can understad that.

For new and old home owners, don't overlook the dwarf youpon. It is a low growing plant you'll enjoy, because it will go through the heat and dry weather without watering. If we're going to revert to a tropical climate, guess we'll have to plant accordingly. Right now plants are so tired of artificial watering. If they could talk they'd probably say "Just leave me alone", but that we cannot do. If a freeze should come and find the roots of your plants too dry, they'd be completely dehydrated.

Though raking leaves is a lot like washing a little boy's face, we shouldn't let the grass smother. Heavy coverings of leaves on the lawn will do just that.

This is the time to plant verbena seed. I've never had much luck with them, but you may be successful. This is a good time to root cuttings of this plant, if you'll keep them damp.

We've had a lot of questions about planting bulbs in shady places. This gardener has been quite successful with shade planting of many of the old varieties, in a well drained place. These little plants bloom before the trees leaf out in the spring. Of course, if the soil is cold and damp the bulbs will rot.

Mrs. Bagwell gave me this information about hibiscus several years ago: "If you want to carry your plants through the winter, cut them back in October, transplant to gallon buckets or large pots and keep in a warm, sunny place. They must be kept watered durig the winter. A utility room with sunny windows is an ideal place for the pots. If you have no indoor place to keep these plants, mulch heavily and take a chance on getting them through the winter. Be sure to take up te soil with the plants when transplanting.

Our L. S. U. extension Department recommends spraying camellias now for tea scale. You can use summer oil emulsion, mixed according to instructions on the outside of the can. This scale is found on the under side of leaves ad shows up as a cottony covering. Leaves get yellow spots on them So — be sure to get the spray on the under side of the leaf and be sure to mix the summer weight.

Food News

One of the most plentiful foods this month is honey — so pick up several jars — Louisiana made, of course — and use it when making cakes, cookies, sandwiches filling, on fruits, cereals and as a glaze for hams. This food contains sugar plus minerals and vitamins B and C. It's readily digested and suitable for infant feeding.

In Louisiana white clover honey is the flavor most prevalent. It is found in both dark and light color. The light colored, as a rule, are mild and the darkest honeys generally have a strong flavor.

Keep liquid honey in a dry place. Freezing does not injure the color or flavor, but may hasten granulation. Avoid damp places for storage. It is better not to put honey in the refrigerator. Keep in a tightly sealed container or it will absorb moisture and ferment.

If honey crystallizes, place the container in a bowl of warm water (not hot) until all crystals have melted.

Remember, honey will give a distinctive flavor to your cake and will cause it to stay moist for an incredible length of time. Pour honey over ice cream, combine equal parts of honey and lemon juice for a dressing for fruit salads.

Try candied sweet potatoes by this recipe: Boil potatoes with skins on. When done, remove skins, cut lengthwise and arrange in a buttered baking dish. Sprinkle a bit of salt and pour over this a sauce made with ¼ cup butter, ½ cup honey, ½ cup orange juice. Bake in a quick oven until potatoes are brown. Just before serving top with a few marshmallows.

New

New products to look for in the future are: cake batters ready to pour in the pan; orange crystals; hot cake batter delivered with milk by your dairyman; cereals put up in containers with sugar and dry milk (to serve you pour water over the cereal), kiss-proof garlic crystals (all the flavor but none of the odor). None of these are on the market, but we can look for them in the near future.

The Economists tell us that with the increased cost of containers (paper, tin, steel) labor and transportation, we can look for foods to be higher in price in 1957.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Many Church Designs Shown By Mr. Wright

Church arrangements were featured this week by John A. Wright in his one man show at the Garden Center. The arrangements were first created on television and then on display at the center for the rest of the week. Mr. Wright's first arrangement was asymetrical in design. The container was a dark green pillow vase. Tall placements of purple salvia provided height with Picardy glads carrying the line downward. Jade fern which had been clipped provided a background. Asymetrical placements of the grey-green eucalyptus completed the design.

A large white urn was chosen for the second arrangement — salmon gladiolus were arranged in a symmetrical triangle with white daisy type chrysanthemums massed low in the design. Some of the chrysanthemums were placed high in the arrangement for transition. Very effective and lovely.

The next exhibit was most striking. Greek juniper, golden tipped was arranged in a mass design with clusters of bright orange pyracantha berries in the foregound. The container was a large pale green urn. Most appropriate for this season when there are few flowers.

A square brass urn staged against a chartreuse background was chosen for the next arrangement, which was asymetrical in design. Usually when asymetrical designs are made for church they are used in pairs. Glossy aspidistra leaves were arranged in a triangular pattern with salmon gladiolus following the lines. Green fern was added to soften the severity of the design.Very beautiful to behold.

A boldly effective design was created of magnolia foliage with the seed pods attached. This was placed in a large dark green urn and triangular in design. This would be suitable for a church with very pale pastel walls. There can be no set rule for church arrangements as the architecture of each church varies. Adelaide B. Wilson who has written the book "Flower Arrangement for Churches" suggests a four - point standad in arranging church flowers. They are: 1. Suitability to the church and the service. 2. Availability of plant material and flowers. 3. Durability. Flowers and plant materials should be so conditioned so as to last over night. Many churches have services so scheduled that Sunday's flowers must be placed the preceding day. 4. Visibility of an arrangement is essential. For very large churches light colors or white flowers are suggested.

Don't forget the Marie Johnson Fort lecture on Monday, October 22. Virginia Hotel roof at 2 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend. Small fee.

On Wednesday, October 24, Mrs. Fort will instruct in Flower Arranging at Flower Show School V. The place — Northeast State college. Registration 8 to 9 a.m.

We would like to remind you that we have Frances Hannay's booklet 'Outlines of Period Flower Arrangement" for sale in the Garden Center. This is a "must" for School V.

There was so much interest in the dried arrangements both at the Garden Center and at the fair that we hope to have another exhibit for you soon.

Fort Necessity And Columbia Link Finished

BATON ROUGE, Oct. 20 (Special) — The last link of unpaved highway between Columbia and Fort Necessity in Caldwell and Franklin parishes has been completed and the work accepted by the Louisiana department of highways.

The 7.4 mile surfacing project was completed recently by Coastal Contrators, Inc., of Baton Rouge at a cost of $471,332, according to Highway Director R. B. Richardson.

The new project begins at approximately six miles southeast of Columbia at the end of the old surfacing and extends along State Route 17, a distance of 7.4 miles. The width of the pavement is 20 feet, Richardson said.

In Armed Services

MEDITERRANEAN (FHTNC)— Franklin D. Stockton, airman, USN son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Stockton of Route 2, Box 232, Rayville, La., is serving in Mediterranean waters aboard the seaplane tender USS Currituck.

The ship arrived at Pollensa bay, Mallorca, Sept. 18, and will provide repair and mantenance for a Navy patrol squadron there, and later at Augusta Bay, Sicily. The ship will return to Norfolk, Va., in late November.

A cluster of seedless grapes, a fresh pear halve or some wedges of red-skinned apple help to make a luncheon sandwich look and taste good. The fruit will be delicious with a filling of ham, chicken or cheese.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Plant Perennials In Late October

Late October, just before the leaves fall is a good time to revamp your perennial border or the groups of perennials you have growing here and there for color. It is also a good time to plant new perennnals.

Here in the South, we prefer to plant perennials and shrubs together rather than the "perennial border" that one sees in the North. So many perennials grown in the North will not last in gardens down South that a border of these plants is not practical. We have to use the kinds that have proven their heat resistance and longevity under our conditions.

Large plants like peonies and daylilies, we Southerners like to plant in and amongst our shrubs or in masses in front of shrubbery. The bulbous crinums are so large when they are really mature and have such huge foliage that they, too, are best worked into the shrub planting.

Salvias and veronicas, the bright rose variety of Sedum spectabile, red-hot pokers, monardas, and other perennials of these shapes and sizes show up well in fairly large masses that blend into non-evergreen flowering shrubs. The earliest flowering shrubs like the quinces provide color before most perennials get under way. In summer when the shrubs have stopped flowering, the perennials come into the picture. With the added touch of some groups of bulbs, it is easy to create some really beautiful effects and color schemes.

You can create a planting that is beautiful and interesting in winter as well as in summer by using some of the smaller evergreen and even grey plants. An occasional yucca or a group of yuccas if your planting is big enough, is handsome in winter. It is not much trouble to remove the dead leaves once a year. A single sotol plant (dasylirion) will be a feature. Rosemary and lavender are attractive shades of grey green. Grey is even more important in the winter garden than it is in summer. Stachys, santolina (if you can keep it) masses of silvery pinks and the leaves of mullein make beautiful patterns when the garden is bare.

In the mixed perennial and shrub planting, be sure to leave two or three feet between the edge of the shurbs and the perennials. Remember that the perennials and the shrubs are going to fill in the space only too soon. Your shrubs will starve out the perennials in less time than you can imagine if you do not keep both of them well fed.

There is simply no use in planting perennials in the South unless you prepare their site both deeply and richly. Our long season keeps them growing and feeding. Cutting the flowers, of course, takes food from them, and droughts will surely kill them unless they can get their roots down deep into mellow soil that holds moisture. In a season or two, rapid multipliers like the salvias, physostegia and all the daisies and asters need to be thinned and replanted, but they are worth it. Without blue salvias, veronicas, the handsome red-hot pokers and daylilies a garden would be a drab affair indeed.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Of all the things you can give, money is probably the least permanent in the pleasure it produces, and the most likely to backfire, writes David Dunn in "Try Giving Yourself Away" (paraphrased): "Too often it results in disillusionment, sometimes in wrecked friendship. A compliment on your home, children, new hat; a note, telephone call, or a simple act that reflects thoughtfulness or friendly interest — these are the truest form of giving because they come from the heart and are literally a portion of the giver.

Do college graduates know "the best that has been known and said"?

Your opinion —

2. We might suppose that even if college graduates don't read much currently, they would have some background in reading. However, the American Institute of Public Opinion found the results disappointing (reported by Arthur D. Little, Inc.). College graduates were asked to name authors of the following: "An American Tragedy," "Babbitt," "The Canterbury Tales," "Gulliver's Travels," Vanity Fair," "Utopia," "The Rubiaiyat," "The History of Tom Jones," to mention a few. Nine per cent couldn't name the author of any one of these books, and 39 per cent couldn't name more than three authors. Of this group, only 55 per cent could name any recently published book.

One reason for higher prices is that people live longer

True—— Fale——

3. True. We have to feed several million people — about 20 years longer than we did even in 1900. That costs a whale of a lot of money. We also have to furnish doctors, medicines, beautifiers, and all the means required for living, including old-age pensions, etc. The power to produce vastly more goods goes down steadily, let us say, after sixty; and while we produce more goods, in many things we cannot keep up the supply to meet the demand. Result? Higher prices.

STAMPS

The 'Northern Countries" of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Iceland observe their common friendship by joining in common stamp partnership for 'Norden Day." Each country will issue two adhesives of identical design for the occasion.

Depicted on each will be five flying swans. This motif was inspired by a poem, "The Swans of the North," by Hans Hartvig Seedorff.

One of the stamps will be for domestic postage and the other for overseas mail Finland's lowest denomination, however, will be for postcard mail.

The first of the sets to arrive on the Philatelic scene is from Sweden. The 35 ore is red and 65 ore blue.

Six new stamps have been issued by the Fiji Islands. The four highest values show local scenes while the two low values bear portraits of Queen Elizabeth. The 3 pence shows loading of copra. 1 shilling 6 pence sugar cane train. 5 shillings gold industry and 21 shillings bananas for export. As is the custom on the British possessions, each had a profile vignette of the Queen.

The last value in the second definitive series of Israel will be a 3000 pruta lilac stamp showing the tomb of Rabbi Meir Baal Haness in Tiberias. The Lake of Galilee is in the background.

Egypt has issued a new stamp commemorating its nationalization of the Suez canal. It was issued exactly two months after President Nasser seized the waterway. The design pictures a ship against a background of the Mediterranean Sea, the Canal and the Red Sea.

Belgium has issued a new 2 franc blue stamp to honor the electrification of the Brussels-Luxembourg railway line. The stamp shows a relief map of Belgium, an electric train, the Hotel de Ville Adolphe Bridge in Luxembourg.

Italy has issued a new 25 lire blue stamp to commemorate the centenary of the death of physicist Amedeo Avogadro. In addition to his portrait on the stamp is Avogadro's rule that 'under the same conditions of temperature and pressure, equal volumes of all gases contain the same number of molecules."

The latest in Japan's national park series is a set of two for Saiki National Park. The 5 yen brown shows Osizaki Promonotory. The 10 yen blue depicts Kujihusrima.

Also issued by Japan was a 14 yen olive grey stamp showing the old castle 'Himeji'jo." Upcoming is a 10 yen for Stamp Hobby week. The design will show a Kabuki actor playing a part in a drama.

LOUIS AUCHINCLOSS

BOOKS

Married to Ann and father of two young boys, Tim is a lawyer in the firm of Sheffield, Knox, Stevens and Dale. There were several scores of others in the office but he seemed to be on the way to a partnership.

He had earned it, too, every year, every month and minute. One colleague married the boss' daughter, one made sure he got his vacation, but Tim kept Ann waiting to the last before she could rent their summer cottage, and he would rather work than play.

One difficult and rich client, George Emlen, got under his skin. George was related to Dale, whom Tim disliked and Knox hated, but Dale was able to dump on Tim's shoulders an extremely complicated, tough job — it upset the Colts' vacation plans again, and it also could lead to the coveted partnership. One involvement with Dale, however, leads to another, to associations with his wealthy circle, to sophisticated Eileen, to a new contact with Emlen and finally to a dramatic courtroom scene when Tim decides which great world he prefers.

This is the sixth book and the best for Auchincloss, who is a lawyer. Here is the world of moneymaking, titles, tomes and briefs, a dry - as - dust world until the able novelist works life into it for the benefit of the layman reader. The man is never absent from the lawyer, and behind the legal mind you always find the husband and father; this identity of career and ingrained character gives Auchincloss his fine drama.

Record Review

Many years ago, long before Columbia pioneered the long-playing record, it offered something different in the recording field.

The innovation was a classical recording with one instrument missing. And the amateur musician who played the missing instrument had a chance to perform with the best groups in his own home.

Now Columbia has come up with a jazz LP that permits the non-pro clarinetist, pianist, trumpeter or bass man to play the breaks. It's called "Add-a-Part Jazz" and contains 12 standards, including "One O'Clock Jump" and "Rose Room." Directions enclosed.

Paris is the theme of two new worthwhile RCA - Victor LP's. "The Folies of Paris" presents Jacques Ysaye and his orchestra in a typical program of night spot music, including Offenbach's can-can. The other is a more subdued concert of Gallic rhythms entitled, "Paris — the Sound, the Sights" by George Melachrino's orchestra.

Bing Crosby, in a recent letter to a London newsman, opined that his voice was "long gone," but his latest Decca recording, "Songs I Wish I Had Sung the First Time Around," seems to contradict him. Crosby's voice is somewhat more mellow, but he is still the old Groaner on "April Showers," "My Blue Heaven," "Paper Doll" and nine others.

Dance time — "Smooth as Silk," waltzes by Wayne King, (Decca) and "Moments to Remember" by Lawrence Welk (Coral) along with "Rock 'n' Roll Stage Show" by Bill Haley and His Comets (Decca) offer enough variety to appeal to dancers of all ages.

Selected singles — "September in the Rain" by the Ray Charles Singers (M-G-M), "Teen Polka" by Buddy Morrow (Mercury), "Spin the Wheel" by The Scholars (Dot), and 'Love Me Sweet and Love Me Long" by Guy Lambardo (Capitol).

Russell Long To Tour For Adlai Starting Oct. 27

By JAMES MCLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Sen. Russell Long, the late Huey Long's son takes the leadership for Adlai Stevenson in Louisiana with a campaign starting Oct. 27, Democratic leaders said today.

With Gov. Earl Long inactive, and a public grown weary of 18 months of political cold war in this state, extra efforts are being drafted to arouse enthusiasm.

National Committeeman Camille Gravel said Sen. Long will kick off Oct. 27 in Alexandria, following up in Shreveport Oct. 29, Lake Charles Oct. 30 and Monroe Oct. 31, and swinging through all eight congressional districts during the 10 days before the election.

The governor, however, while staunchly pro-Stevenson, is gambling with a campaign of silence as a new means of seeking victory for the constitutional convention he wants. Its fate will be decided at the polls Nov. 6, along with several constitutional amendments Long is backing.

Gov. Long, who shoots from the hip in his rough and tumble brand of politics, apparently is convinced keeping his mouth shut now is sound strategy.

His harsh attacks on foes in the 1956 Legislature backfired with public resentment, coupled with public anger against his efforts to raise taxes.

Politicians, even Long leaders, privately doubt the convention can win once it reaches the election wire. But they hopefully say support is gaining in the country, where the Longs always are strong.

New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison, a top Long opponent, blasted the convention and the Long constitutional proposals as "power grabs."

In a news conference rare now with his feeling for silence, Long gave a hint of his thinking about the outcome on state issues, saying he'll go on living just the same after the vote.

However, Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar, his ace troubleshooter, is leaning toward a speaking tour. And Long's supporters are busy in the field, working through such political networks as sheriffs, assessors, court clerks.

While Gov. Long seems inactive in the presidential contest, he freely predicted Stevenson will carry Louisiana, as he did four years ago despite Eisenhower support springing from former Gov. Robert Kennon.

Russell Long who once thought of trying for governor, backed off and supported his uncle, thus uniting the powerful Long forces.

While a leader with Gov. Long for Stevenson in 1952, Sen. Long said this year he preferred Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas for the Democratic nomination. But before the convention, he pledged support for the convention nominee.

Political leaders are openly concerned over what appears to be public apathy, an indifference to all politics, national or stateside.

"Too much politics has been on front pages in Louisiana for more than 18 months," one leader said—"The gubernatorial contest, the amendment fights, the regular Legislature, the special session, the congressional bitterness—the people are tired of it."

The son of the late Huey plays a smoother political role. His ability to unite Louisianians will be exhibited when he joins Reps. T. A. Thompson in the Seventh Congressional District and Otto Passman in the fifth to campaign for Stevenson.

In July, Gov. Long fought the re-election of Thompson and opposed Passman. The governor was defeated in those efforts.

Long said at a news conference he won't stump for Stevenson or his convention, unless he changes his mind.

Searcher Stumbles Over Lost Tot In Underbrush, Safe

ASHVILLE, ALA. (AP)—A 3-year-old boy was found asleep in underbrush on a mountainside near his home early today after a night-long search by 200 national guardsmen and 300 citizen volunteers.

Pvt. Bill Stewart of a Gadsden guard unit stumbled upon the lad as the searchers methodically searched the area near the home of Jack Woods Jr., who wandered away late yesterday. The child was brought to the office of a doctor at Ashville.

First examination showed no ill effects for the youngster despite chilly temperatures which prevailed through the night in this north Alabama section.

The tow-headed child had disappeared from a cotton field where his brother and sister had spent the afternoon picking cotton.

The mother died several weeks ago. The children were in the care of their grandmother while the father was working on a nearby farm.

Jack Woods, the father, said "I thought there was something wrong when he didn't meet me when I came home." He said he immediately searched surrounding outhouses, ditches and nearby woods without finding a trace.

The meetings, sponsored by the Fairbanks Presbyterian Church, will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights, at 7 p.m.

Rev. Gray, a native of Mississippi, has held pastorates in Clarendon, Ark., Carruthersville, Mo., and Memphis, Tenn. Active in civic affairs, he also holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the U. S. army reserve. He is in his fifth year as pastor of Monroe's newest Presbyterian church.

The meeting is of general interest to Presbyterians of the Sterlington area. The plans are that a Presbyterian Church will be built in the future to serve the Fairbanks-Sterlington-Perryville area.

A nursery will be provided during the meetings, and a period of fellowship and refreshments will follow the preaching service.

TV notes

Bert Parks has been the quizmaster of "Break the Bank" since the program's inception on radio about 10 years ago. He is back on the same job in the revalued "Break the $250,000 Bank" on NBC Tuesdays at 10:30 p. m.

Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and the Tournament of Roses parade next Jan. 1 will be on NBC again.

Dec. 16 is the date for NBC's annual presentation of Gian Carlo Menotti's Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Robert Young is scheduled to be a guest star on Perry Como's show the night of Nov. 17.

Songs of NBC's new Christmas musical "The Stingiest Man in Town," recorded by such cast members as Vic Damone, Johnny Desmond, the Four Lads, Patrice Munsel, Betty Madigan, Robert Weede and Martyn Green, have been recorded and will be "plugged" by the network weeks in advance of its Dec. 23 performance. A Columbia album of the songs will be on the market soon.

The action of the new NBC filmed series "The 77th Bengal Lancers" takes place in and around an authentic replica of a British outpost in India especially built on a ranch near Hollywood.

"Omnibus" has signed Tallulah Bankhead for three appearances during its 26-week season on ABC. No dates yet. Special material will be made available to the star.

The original "Break the Bank" program, in a decade on radio and TV, gave away more than $4,000,000. That was before the current fad of huge payoffs which the program has now joined with the new "Break the $20,000 Bank" format on NBC.

STAMPS

The 'Northern Countries" of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Iceland observe their common friendship by joining in common stamp partnership for 'Norden Day." Each country will issue two adhesives of identical design for the occasion.

Depicted on each will be five flying swans. This motif was inspired by a poem, "The Swans of the North," by Hans Hartvig Seedorif.

One of the stamps will be for domestic postage and the other for overseas mail. Finland's lowest denomination, however, will be for postcard mail.

The first of the sets to arrive on the Philatelic scene is from Sweden. The 35 ore is red and 65 ore blue.

Six new stamps have been issued by the Fiji Islands. The four highest values show local scenes while the two low values bear portraits of Queen Elizabeth. The 3 pence shows loading of copra, 1 shiling 6 pence sugar cane train, 5 shillings gold industry and 21 shillings bananas for export. As is the custom on the British possessions, each had a profile vignette of the Queen.

The last value in the second definitive series of Israel will be a 3000 pruta lilac stamp showing the tomb of Rabbi Meir Baal Haness in Tiberias. The Lake of Galilee is in the background.

Egypt has issued a new stamp commemorating its nationalization of the Suez canal. It was issued exactly two months after President Nasser seized the waterway. The design pictures a ship against a background of the Mediterranean Sea, the Canal and the Red Sea.

Belgium has issued a new 2 franc blue stamp to honor the electrification of the Brussels-Luxembourg railway line. The stamp shows a relief map of Belgium, an electric train, the Hotel de Ville Adoipne Bridge in Luxembourg.

Italy has issued a new 25 lire blue stamp to commemorate the centenary of the death of physicist Amedeo Avogadro. In addition to his portrait on the stamp is Avogadro's rule that 'under the same conditions of temperature and pressure, equal volumes of all gases contain the same number of molecules."

The latest in Japan's national park series is a set of two for Saiki National Park. The 5 yen brown shows Osizaki Promontory. The 10 yen blue depicts Kujihusrima.

Also issued by Japan was a 14 yen olive grey stamp showing the old castle 'Himeji'jo." Upcoming is a 10 yen for Stamp Hobby week. The design will show a Kabuki actor playing a part in a drama.

LOUIS AUCHINCLOSS

BOOKS

Married to Ann and father of two young boys, Tim is a lawyer in the firm of Sheffield, Knox, Stevens and Dale. There were several scores of others in the office but he seemed to be on the way to a partnership.

He had earned it, too, every year, every month and minute. One colleague married the boss' daughter, one made sure he got his vacation, but Tim kept Ann waiting to the last before she could rent their summer cottage, and he would rather work than play.

One difficult and rich client, George Emlen, got under his skin. George was related to Dale, whom Tim disliked and Knox hated, but Dale was able to dump on Tim's shoulders an extremely complicated, tough job — it upset the Colts' vacation plans again, and it also could lead to the coveted partnership. One involvement with Dale, however, leads to another, to associations with his wealthy circle, to sophisticated Eileen, to a new contact with Emlen and finally to a dramatic courtroom scene when Tim decides which great world he prefers.

This is the sixth book and the best for Auchincloss, who is a lawyer. Here is the world of money-making, titles, tomes and briefs, a dry - as - dust world until the able novelist works life into it for the benefit of the layman reader. The man is never absent from the lawyer, and behind the legal mind you always find the husband and father; this identity of career and ingrained character gives Auchincloss his fine drama.

Record Review

Many years ago, long before Columbia pioneered the long-playing record, it offered something different in the recording field.

The innovation was a classical recording with one instrument missing. And the amateur musician who played the missing instrument had a chance to perform with the best groups in his own home.

Now Columbia has come up with a jazz LP that permits the non-pro clarinetist, pianist, trumpeter or bass man to play the breaks. It's called "Add-a-Part Jazz" and contains 12 standards, including "One O'Clock Jump" and "Rose Room." Directions enclosed.

Paris is the theme of two new worthwhile RCA - Victor LP's. "The Folies of Paris" presents Jacques Ysaye and his orchestra in a typical program of night spot music, including Offenbach's can-can. The other is a more subdued concert of Gallic rhythms entitled, "Paris — the Sound, the Sights" by George Melachrino's orchestra.

Bing Crosby, in a recent letter to a London newsman, opined that his voice was "long gone," but his latest Decca recording, "Songs I Wish I Had Sung the First Time Around," seems to contradict him. Crosby's voice is somewhat more mellow, but he is still the old Groaner on "April Showers," "My Blue Heaven," "Paper Doll" and nine others.

Dance time — "Smooth as Silk," waltzes by Wayne King, (Decca) and "Moments to Remember" by Lawrence Welk (Coral) along with "Rock 'n' Roll Stage Show" by Bill Haley and His Comets (Decca) offer enough variety to appeal to dancers of all ages.

Selected singles — "September in the Rain" by the Ray Charles Singers (M-G-M), "Teen Polka" by Buddy Morrow (Mercury), "Spin the Wheel" by The Scholars (Dot), and 'Love Me Sweet and Love Me Long" by Guy Lambardo (Capitol).

Mission School Being Conducted On Sunday Night

Members of the First Christian and St. John's Christian Churches are conducting a "School of Missions" each Sunday evening from 6 to 8 p. m. through November 11.

A large crowd responded last Sunday evening to the first session of the study entitled "Missions U. S. A." An informal supper period is held beginning at 6 p. m. after which classes are held for all ages from the kindergarten groups through the adults. Following the class session, a general assembly is held in the sanctuary, where an interesting film is shown on the mission work. The two - hour program is then closed with a devotional period.

The staff directors for this unique program, which includes every member in the church are: Miss Jean Bonham, director; Mrs. Billy Clark, Mrs. J. R. Cullipher, hospitality chairmen; Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, registrar; Mrs. O. H. Robbins, librarian; Mrs. D. L. Anderson, worship chairman; and B. B. Martin, publicity chairman.

A nursery is provided and the entire family is urged to attend.

Russell Long To Tour For Adlai Starting Oct. 27

By JAMES MCLEAN

BATON ROUGE (AP)—Sen. Russell Long, the late Huey Long's son takes the leadership for Adlai Stevenson in Louisiana with a campaign starting Oct. 27, Democratic leaders said today.

With Gov. Earl Long inactive, and a public grown weary of 18 months of political cold war in this state, extra efforts are being drafted to arouse enthusiasm.

National Committeeman Camille Gravel said Sen. Long will kick off Oct. 27 in Alexandria, following up in Shreveport Oct. 29, Lake Charles Oct. 30 and Monroe Oct. 31, and swinging through all eight congressional districts during the 10 days before the election.

Earl Long, the senator's uncle, is a volcanic, crowd - drawing speaker, the strongest personal one-man show since the days of his brother, the Kingfish.

The governor, however, while staunchly pro-Stevenson, is gambling with a campaign of silence as a new means of seeking victory for the constitutional convention he wants. Its fate will be decided at the polls Nov. 6, along with several constitutional amendments Long is backing.

Gov. Long, who shoots from the hip in his rough and tumble brand of politics, apparently is convinced keeping his mouth shut now is sound strategy.

His harsh attacks on foes in the 1956 Legislature backfired with public resentment, coupled with public anger against his efforts to raise taxes.

Politicians, even Long leaders, privately doubt the convention can win once it reaches the election wire. But they hopefully say support is gaining in the country, where the Longs always are strong.

New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison, a top Long opponent, blasted the convention and the Long constitutional proposals as "power grabs."

In a news conference rare now with his feeling for silence, Long gave a hint of his thinking about the outcome on state issues, saying he'll go on living just the same after the vote.

However, Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar, his ace troubleshooter, is leaning toward a speaking tour. And Long's supporters are busy in the field, working through such political networks as sheriffs, assessors, court clerks.

While Gov. Long seems inactive in the presidential contest, he freely predicted Stevenson will carry Louisiana, as he did four years ago despite Eisenhower support springing from former Gov. Robert Kennon.

Russell Long who once thought of trying for governor, backed off and supported his uncle, thus uniting the powerful Long forces.

While a leader with Gov. Long for Stevenson in 1952, Sen. Long said this year he preferred Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas for the Democratic nomination. But before the convention, he pledged support for the convention nominee.

Political leaders are openly concerned over what appears to be public apathy, an indifference to all politics, national or stateside.

"Too much politics has been on front pages in Louisiana for more than 18 months," one leader said —"The gubernatorial contest, the amendment fights, the regular Legislature, the special session, the congressional bitterness—the people are tired of it."

The son of the late Huey plays a smoother political role. His ability to unite Louisianians will be exhibited when he joins Reps. T. A. Thompson in the Seventh Congressional District and Otto Passman in the fifth to campaign for Stevenson.

In July, Gov. Long fought the re-election of Thompson and opposed Passman. The governor was defeated in those efforts.

After the congressional tilt, Long eased into his present strategy of silence.

Long said at a news conference he won't stump for Stevenson or his convention, unless he changes his mind.

Reverend Gray In Sterlington In 3 Meetings

Rev. Wayne W. Gray, pastor of the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Monroe will be the speaker during a series of three meetings in the A. L. Smith school in Sterlington.

The meetings, sponsored by the Fairbanks Presbyterian Church, will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights, at 7 p.m.

Rev. Gray, a native of Mississippi, has held pastorates in Clarendon, Ark., Carruthersville, Mo., and Memphis, Tenn. Active in civic affairs, he also holds a commission as lieutenant colonel in the U. S. army reserve. He is in his fifth year as pastor of Monroe's newest Presbyterian church.

The meeting is of general interest to Presbyterians of the Sterlington area. The plans are that a Presbyterian Church will be built in the future to serve the Fairbanks-Sterlington-Perryville area.

A nursery will be provided during the meetings, and a period of fellowship and refreshments will follow the preaching service.

TV notes

Bert Parks has been the quizmaster of "Break the Bank" since the program's inception on radio about 10 years ago. He is back on the same job in the revalued "Break the $250,000 Bank" on NBC Tuesdays at 10:30 p. m.

Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade and the Tournament of Roses parade next Jan. 1 will be on NBC again.

Dec. 16 is the date for NBC's annual presentation of Gian Carlo Menotti's Christmas opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

Robert Young is scheduled to be a guest star on Perry Como's show the night of Nov. 17.

Songs of NBC's new Christmas musical "The Stingiest Man in Town," recorded by such cast members as Vic Damone, Johnny Desmond, the Four Lads, Patrice Munsel, Betty Madigan, Robert Weede and Martyn Green, have been recorded and will be "plugged" by the network weeks in advance of its Dec. 23 performance. A Columbia album of the songs will be on the market soon.

The action of the new NBC filmed series "The 77th Bengal Lancers" takes place in and around an authentic replica of a British outpost in India especially built on a ranch near Hollywood.

"Omnibus" has signed Tallulah Bankhead for three appearances during its 26-week season on ABC. No dates yet. Special material will be made available to the star.

The original "Break the Bank" program, in a decade on radio and TV, gave away more than $4,000 - 000. That was before the current fad of huge payoffs which the program has now joined with the new "Break the $20,000 Bank" format on NBC.

'Solid Gold Cadillac' Comes To Paramount

Judy Holliday, who garnered an Academy Award as best actress of the year for her delightfully devastating portrait of the dizzy blonde in "Born Yesterday," reportedly has a role even richer in laughter in Columbia Pictures' "The Solid Gold Cadillac." As the blonde chick who likes to play around the Stock Market, Miss Holliday stars with Paul Douglas at the Paramount theatre starting today. Douglas himself is seen as a tycoon with Wall street to Wall street carpeting, a big businessman who gets the business from the irrepressible Judy.

Based on the long - run Broadway comedy hit, "The Solid Gold Cadillac" presents Miss Holliday as a very small stockholder in a very large corporation. At a stockholders' meeting, she asks such embarrassing questions of the inept Board of Directors, they try to silence her by giving her a job with the company. Paul Douglas, erstwhile chairman of the board who has taken an important Washington assignment, becomes Judy's ally when she tries to plead the stockholders' cause; they fall in love.

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" races from one hilarious crisis to another, according to advance report, with the final showdown arriving when Judy and Paul teach the bears and bulls and wolves of Wall street all about the birds and bees.

Producer Fred Kohlmar, who produced the Columbia hit, "Picnic," has assembled a strong cast of supporting players in 'The Solid Gold Cadillac.". It includes Fred Clark, the corporation's harassed treasurer; John Williams, the board chairman who starts the merriment by hiring Judy; Hiram Sherman as a playboy member of the board; Neva Patterson and Arthur O'Connell, who carry on an office romance under the benevolent and approving eye of Miss Holliday, and Ray Collins.

Beaumont Plant To Close Because Water Is Short

BEAUMONT, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—At least one major Beaumont industry will shut down, it announced because of a serious water shortage in this area, normally the wettest sector of Texas.

H. C. Bailey, manager of the Du Pont plant here, said, "We have a reserve water supply that can last but five or six days. After that we'll have to shut down the plant."

He said it would be impossible for the plant to operate on a 44 per cent water supply, as offered by W. F. Weed, president of the Lower Neches Valley Authority. The cut was directed because of dwindling supplies.

Other heavy users of industrial water said they would try to use salt water, but they expected it to cut efficiency and increase production costs because of its corrosive action.

John W. Newton, a Magnolia refinery vice president, said the salt water would "cause material increase in maintenance and repair because our equipment is built to handle only pure water."

The authority said the only hope for avoiding the cut was a three to five-inch rainfall in the Neches watershed. The planned cut was announced Thursday and was the first such cut since the authority was set up in 1899.

Weed said the Neches River "is now in its most critical drouth stage since 1915."

He said the river was flowing "at the unprecedented low rate of 101 cubic feet per second."

Besides Du Pont and Magnolia, the cut to 44 per cent would affect Gulf Oil, the Texas Co., Texas Gulf Sulphur, Neches Butane, Pure Oil Co., Jefferson Chemical Co., Atlantic Refinery, Koppers, Humble Oil and Spindletop Mineral Co.

Career Day Is Slated Nov. 2 At La. College

PINEVILLE, Oct. 20 (Special)—Dr. John W. Raley, 54-year-old president of Oklahoma Baptist university and denominational leader for nearly three decades, will be the featured speaker at Louisiana college's third annual Career Day scheduled for Nov. 2.

This event, to which juniors and seniors from every Louisiana high school have been invited, is again being directed by Bruce W. Lowe, L. C. dean of students, who founded the day in 1955.

He reports that indications point to an attendance of 1,000. Over 800 high-schoolers were present last year.

Dr. Raley, who has served as president of the Shawnee, Okla., Baptist college for 22 years, will speak at the day's first general assembly at 9:25 a.m. on "Campus Silhouettes." This is slated for the Alexandria hall auditorium.

His second appearance will be as a leader of two one-hour adult conferences, the first beginning at 10:30 a.m. His topic for that will be "From the Local Church Educational Building to the College Campus."

Dr. Raley is the holder of five college degrees, including the B. A. and LL. D. from Baylor, the Th. M. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, the Th. D. from the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, and the D. D. from Oklahoma Baptist university.

He is a member of the board of trustees of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Berkeley, Calif., and vice president of the Southern Baptist Education Association.

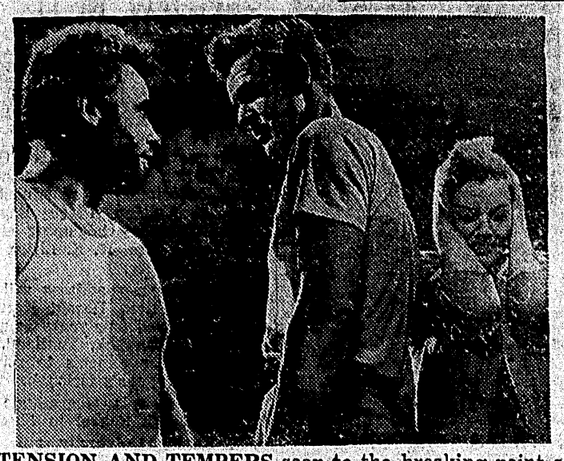
The Oklahoman is widely sought as a speaker, having appeared before Baptist Convention groups in 20 states, ranging from Pennsylvania to Florida, the deep South and across the nation to California.

The L. C. project will also feature 17 conferences on various careers. These will be led, in the main, by non-faculty members who have made successes in these fields.

These careers are art, coaching and physical education, commerce, teaching in the elementary school, teaching in the high school, foreign languages, home economics, journalism, law and government, mathematics and religious education, music, scientific research, secretarial science, social work, and speech.

Schedule for the day:

9:a.m., registration and refreshments in the student center; 9:25 a.m., first assembly in Alexandria hall auditorium, with Dr. John W. Raley as speaker; 10:30 a.m., first career conference; 11:30 a.m., second career conference; 12:30 p.m., lunch on the campus; 1:15 p.m., second assembly program, Alexandria hall aduitorium; 2 p.m., dismissal.



TENSION AND TEMPERS soar to the breaking point as Rod Steiger, Robert Ryan and lovely Anita Ekberg explode into violent argument over a gun in RKO's exciting "Back From Eternity," now playing at the Jim Theatre.

Anita Ekberg Star In Thrilling Jungle Story

"Back From Eternity" promises to be one of the season's most thrilling motion pictures. Featuring a fine group of Hollywood names, it was made for RKO by Producer-Director John Farrow. It comes today to the Jim Theatre.

Ryan, well - known romantic strongman of many motion-picture situations, portrays the airplane pilot who turns out to be less of a fatalist than he pretends. Blonde, famous Miss Ekberg will be seen as the typical problem child of the world's immigration offices, a girl without a country.

Hollywood's newest headliner, Rod Steiger, has the role of a condemned revolutionary assassin being returned to his South American homeland for execution.

Other "passengers" in the castaway eleven are portrayed by costars Phyllis Kirk, Keith Andes and Gene Barry.

Among the film's distinguished supporting players are Fred Clark, Beulah Bondi, Cameron Prud'homme, Jesse White, Adele Mara and young Joh Provost.

Screen play for "Back From Eternity" was written by Jonathan Latimer from the story by Richard Carroll. Dramatic action, compressed into a brief time period, is said to parallel in some respects the recent massacre of American missionaries by Amazon jungle savages.

"Back From Eternity" promises to be one of the season's most thrilling motion pictures. Featuring a fine group of Hollywood names, it was made for RKO by Producer-Director John Farrow. It comes today to the Jim Theatre.

Starring Robert Ryan, Anita Ekberg and Rod Steiger, this new adventure drama deals with a sudden and unexpected doomsday in the lives of eleven plane-crash survivors marooned in the Jivaro headhunter region of South America's jungle wilderness.

Ryan, well - known romantic strongman of many motion-picture situations, portrays the airplane pilot who turns out to be less of a fatalist than he pretends. Blonde, famous Miss Ekberg will be seen as the typical problem child of the world's immigration offices, a girl without a country.

Hollywood's newest headliner, Rod Steiger, has the role of a condemned revolutionary assassin being returned to his South American homeland for execution.

Other "passengers" in the castaway eleven are portrayed by costars Phyllis Kirk, Keith Andes and Gene Barry.

Among the film's distinguished supporting players are Fred Clark, Beulah Bondi, Cameron Prud'homme, Jesse White, Adele Mara and young Joh Provost.

Screen play for "Back From Eternity" was written by Jonathan Latimer from the story by Richard Carroll. Dramatic action, compressed into a brief time period, is said to parallel in some respects the recent massacre of American missionaries by Amazon jungle savages.

Forest Service Officials Visit Crossett Friday

CROSSETT, Ark., Oct. 20 (Special) — Richard E. McArdle, chief of the U. S. forest service, Washington, D. C., and 25 high-ranking forest service officials visited Crossett Friday.

The Crossett stop was part of a tour of southern forests undertaken so that the officials might have first - hand information on intensive forestry practices.

The forest service officials were guests of Peter F. Watzek, president of the Crossett Company, for dinner at the Rose Inn Thursday evening.

Friday morning the foresters were given a guided tour past the sawmills, pulp mills and the various wood and paper utilization plants. They also drove through the residential areas of the town.

Following the Crossett tour the visitors went to the U. S. Forest service's Crossett experimental forest to see some of the detailed research under way at that station. They observed some of the intensive forestry being practiced by the Crossett Company.

In addition to Chief McArdle, other Washington officials were Edward C. Crafts, Edward P. Cliff, V. L. Harpenter, W. S. Swingler, Howard Hopkins, and Clarence Hendee.

Regional foresters in the group were Charles L. Tebbe, Missoula, Mont.; Donald Clark, Denver, Colo.; Fred H. Kennedy, Albuquerque, N. M.; Chester J. Olsen, Ogden, Utah; Charles A. Connaughton, San Francisco, Calif.; J. Herbert Stone, Portland, Ore.; Hamilton K. Pyles, Upper Darby, Penn.; C. Otto Lindh, Atlanta, Ga.; H. Dean Cochran, Milwaukee, Wis.; and Arthur W. Greeley, Juneau, Alaska.

Also with the group were J. Alfred Hall, director of the Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis.; E. L. Demmon, director of the southeastern forest experiment station, Ashville, N. C.; and Philip A. Briegleb, director of the southern forest experiment station, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Past And Present

By MARIE KENT

Mrs. E. T. Nichols, among our many contributors to the museum of the Ouachita Genealogical and Historical society, is a person who has inspired all of us with her enthusiasm. Her most outstanding loan is a baby dress which was worn in 1855, by Emma Gertrude Turnley, grandmother of Mr. Nichols. The dress, which is in perfect condition, is completely handmade, and though small enough in the neck and sleeves to fit a mere infant, the dress is about 36 inches long.

Other articles of clothing which belonged to Grandmother Turnley, and which Mrs. Nichols has loaned to the collection, include a pair of pantalettes, a chemise and a dress all of which date back to 1875. The dress is of a black lace, has a high neck, below - the - elbow sleeves, with a floor length skirt that has a train in the back. The dress was in high style in 1875. The size of the dress indicates that Mrs. Turnley was a petite little lady, short of stature and with a waist measurement of 22 inches.

One of the most unusual relics we have received thus far is also a donation by Mrs. Nichols. It is entitled, "The Crucifixion" and subtitled "A Curious Piece of Antiquity," printed in 1834. It depicts the three crosses of the Saviour and the two thieves. The style in which it is printed is very unusual and makes its reading complicated as our weekly crossword puzzle. Beyond that, it defies description. Let's just say that it lives up to it's name of a most "curious piece of antiquity." To Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, our sincere "Thank you."

We also pay tribute to one of our active members (and nominee for our 1957 president) Mrs. Abbie Leckie who has come forth with her personal scrap book that contains several articles of local history. In this scrap book we find several clippings from the News-Star—World in 1930-1932, which give a very good description of several of our landmarks and old buildings, along with the history of early builders. The articles required many, many hours of research and feature old homesteads which were constructed before the Civil War and stand today, with little change, as connecting links between the old south and the rapidly progressing new south. The writer gives a very clear picture of the Stubbs home built in 1854, more than 100 years ago. Imagine a dining room that seats hundreds of people, and a dressing table with a 10 foot mirror.

The Layton castle, described as one of the most pretentious structures in Monroe, is the homestead of Henri Bry, a native of Switzerland, who came to Ouachita country prior to the Louisiana purchase. The old Bry homestead, made of timbers cut from the forest, and brick, made of clay found on the grounds of the Bry property forms one wing of the beautiful old "castle" as it stands today.

Of equal interest are several more homes the writer described, such as the O'Kelly home, on 6th street which was a part of the Old Spanish grant and has been in possession of the O'Kelly family for more than one hundred years; the Filhiol home, which was constructed in 1855 by John B. Filhoil, grandson of the founder of Monroe, boasts of a famous picture gallery containing pictures of many of the early boats on the Ouachita river.

The scrap book contains a picture of Monroe's first pretentious school building called the "Female Academy" which was the first two story public building in the city. In 1900 the 60-year-old building was replaced with the old city high school, now called Central Grammar.

Mrs. Abbie Leckie is now keeping a scrap book for the local organization, in which she is keeping clippings of our weekly column.

The Louisiana State Genealogical and Historical society has asked us to send the clippings of this column to the curator, and Mrs. Hilda Colbert has been appointed for this job.

Thanks also to Mrs. R. N. Milling for taking so much time from her already busy life to accept phone calls for donations to the museum. Why not make yours now by calling her phone 3-2481 or any other member of the organization.

Good to hear that one of our very active members, Mrs. Mae Modes, is back at work after her unfortunate accident while on vacation.

The Ouachita Genealogical and Historical Society has launched a membership drive for 1957. If you are interested please contact Mr. Fred Culver, Box 573, Monroe, La.

PROVERBS 3:5,6—"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not rely on your own insight. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths." (RSV)

It is not so simple in a complex society to believe that God is weaving a design for his creation, that He is guiding the destiny of man, that man can know the will of God. Yet, as one looks upon the annals of human history, surely it is the guiding hand of God that has written it. God makes night to cover the face of the earth, He clothes the lilies of the field, He knows when one sparrow falls to the earth. Events occur daily that can be interpreted only as the guidance of God.

But how can man know the guidance of God? It comes from trustful seeking in all the ways of life. Then man can move from one task to another sustained by the sureness of God's hand upon his life. The complexities of life do not deter for He is making straight our paths.
